Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] They say a baboon, if he gets his hand into a hole in a pumpkin, will fill up his fist and then not know how to get his hand out. Instead of emptying his hand he leaves it in there till the pumpkin rots. That has always struck the world as being the limit as an example of attacking a problem from the hardest possible angle, and it took our Congress to beat it. For over three months they have had their hand in the pumpkin and had a fistful of debenture, and all they had to do was to vote on it, which they didn't do till yesterday. The first hour that they met last April they could have had their answer "do you favor a subsidy of any nature to agriculture?" The answer would have been overwhelmingly "No" and they would have had their fist out empty right where it is now. So endeth the parable of the baboon.

Yours for research,
WILL ROGERS.

ON THE FIRST LAP OF THE FIRST TRANSCONTINENTAL AIR-RAIL TRIP, UTICA, June 14. (Exclusive)—Two hours out of Washington in our Fairchild cabin plane, favored by a brisk tail wind, those of us from the capital who are making the first combination airplane-railroad trip from coast to coast, reached Roosevelt Field, L. I., and were whisked by car from there to the Southwestern Limited of the New York Central in Grand Central Station, New York City.

Morning will bring us to Cleveland where we board a fleet of trimotored Fokkers for an all-day hop of exactly 1087 miles as the crow flies to Garden City, Kan. After spending Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night on the California Limited of the Santa Fe, we will be in Los Angeles Monday morning about 9 o'clock.

Thus, our party of twenty-two will have completed the first scheduled transcontinental air-rail jour-

FARM BILL APPROVED

Hoover Victor in Long Fight

Executive Signature Will be Affixed to No-Debenture Measure Today

Early Action on Board and Funds for Stabilization Viewed as Likely

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The long struggle over agricultural legislation was ended today by Congressional approval of the farm relief bill desired by the administration.

The measure, which represents the ultimate expression of years of study and political controversy, was signed immediately by Vice-President Curtis and Speaker Longworth and sent to President Hoover. He intends to affix his signature tomorrow—thereby enacting the measure into law.

Farm leaders are convinced that the President soon will name the Federal Farm Board provided by the measure, ask a large appropriation with which the board will attempt to stabilize agriculture, and take a personal interest in seeing that the newest legislative remedy for economic ills is launched auspiciously.

Rejection by the House of the export debenture plan favored by the Senate made possible today's final legislative action. A joint conference committee again agreed on the compromise bill, their action was upheld by the House in a few minutes and several hours later the Senate did likewise on a 74-to-8 vote.

DISSATISFACTION VOICED

The Senate action was preceded by numerous expressions of dissatisfaction from advocates of debentures. Many condemned the bill, but declared nevertheless they would vote for it.

Of the seventy-four who voted for the bill, forty-seven are Republicans and twenty-seven Democrats. Three Republicans — Norbeck of South Dakota, Pine of Oklahoma and La Follette of Wisconsin—joined five Democrats in opposition.

The minority opponents were Caraway of Arkansas, Blease of South Carolina, Copeland of New York and Walsh and Wheeler of Montana. Announcement was made that Senators Blaine of Wisconsin and McMaster of South Dakota, Republicans, and King of Utah, a Democrat, were paired against the measure.

Making good his promise that he would not interpose further objections to the bill if the House rejected the debenture plan by a roll-call vote, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, supported the measure.

ROBINSON'S VIEWS

"We now are ending the long struggle," he said, "with action which many Senators believe is inadequate and ineffective.

"The action is not on its face a redemption of the Republican pledge to put agriculture on an equality with other industries. Advocates of the debenture plan have not delayed this legislation longer than to obtain a fair consideration. They have performed a duty by insisting that the House vote on the debenture plan."

A number of other Democrats, including Glass of Virginia, Harrison of Mississippi, Caraway of Arkansas and Dill of Washington, assailed the measure. They said it amounts to a refusal to give agriculture tariff protection which industry enjoys.

Later, Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, read a list of tariff changes which he contended show that agricultural products have benefited since the Underwood Tariff Act by tariff increases, and would be further benefited by the pending revenue bill.

FURTHER EXPRESSIONS

Senator Dill asserted that when President Hoover wrote a letter denouncing the debenture plan "he signed his own political death warrant."

DAWES GREETED IN BRITAIN

New Ambassador Hustles to Work and Will Go With Henderson to See King Today

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, June 14. (Exclusive)—Gen. Charles Gates Dawes, new American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, arrived in London today and immediately started to work in the American Embassy. He is setting an example for hustling which has never been seen here before.

At noon tomorrow the American Ambassador will go to Windsor, where he will meet Arthur Henderson, British Minister of Foreign Affairs, who will accompany him in a call on the King.

When the White Star liner Olympic pulled into Southampton at 3:30 p.m. today, Mayor Pugh of Southampton, who had gone to Cherbourg to welcome the new American envoy, donned his robes and chain of state and then in the ship's writing room, made a short speech of welcome to which Gen. Dawes replied.

Then followed a round of introductions of the Ambassador, Mrs. Dawes and their daughter, Virginia, to the Mayor and other civic dignitaries, following which the distinguished arrival was besieged by representatives of the press of every nation in Europe and America.

STATEMENT MADE

Ambassador Dawes declined to be interviewed, but gave out a formal statement in which he said:

"I will endeavor in every way to perform the duties it involves.

"It is with happiness that I look forward to meeting once more my dear English friends whom in war and reparations work I came so to admire and trust," the statement said.

"I do not feel a stranger here—no one could with such associations—and I hope I am not regarded as such.

"I have never been a diplomat. I have many faults. But somehow I am sure you will put up with them as have my own people."

Mayor Pugh, in greeting the Ambassador said he was delighted to welcome him to England where he is no stranger, and expressed the hope the new Ambassador will find great friendship and great happiness and will enjoy full health to carry through successfully the duties entrusted to him.

As a compliment to the Ambassador, a special guard of honor, comprising more than a score of policemen, was formed on the quay side as the Ambassador landed.

Gen. Dawes submitted to the battery of cameras and motion-picture machines and, at the request of the

Nearly 1000 Employees of American Corporations Thrown Out of Work

PARIS, June 14. (AP)—American motion-picture officials have discharged nearly 1000 French employees whom they have been carrying in idleness several months awaiting adjustment of the quota problem. These employees called a meeting for tomorrow to consider group action.

The American motion-picture officials are retaining only a skeleton force in order to fulfill their old contracts. They declared there can be no new business until the French government offers what they consider satisfactory conditions for the importation of American films.

ANTI-SMITH G.O.P. UNION TAKES FORM

Virginia Coalition May Be Headed by Dr. Brown in Race for Governor

LEXINGTON (Va.) June 14. (AP)—The possibility of a Republican-anti-Smith coalition in the Virginia State election assumed more tangible form today with the definite announcement that Dr. William Moseley Brown, Washington and Lee University professor, will head a coalition ticket if nominated by both the anti-Smith Democrats and Republicans.

Dr. Brown has been mentioned frequently as a probable nominee for Governor at the anti-Smith convention in Roanoke next Tuesday. The Republican convention is in Richmond the 26th inst.

"I believe we have had too much partisanship in the political affairs of our State," Dr. Brown said in his statement, which was made, he said, in response to requests from men and women of all political parties. "I am convinced that a liberal, progressive and independent administration of the affairs of Virginia, which would be just and fair to all parties and interests, but would, at the same time, place the interests of the State above partisan considerations, might be of far-reaching advantage to Virginia, both in its domestic affairs and in its national relations."

Young Returns From Europe With Lamont

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee of experts on reparations, and Thomas W. Lamont, alternate delegate from the United States, arrived tonight from Europe. They were taken off the steamship Aquitania at quarantine on a tug and landed at the Battery.

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Owen D. Young is expected in Washington early next week for a conference with President Hoover on the recent reparations meeting in Paris, over which the New York financier presided.

HIGH HAT O.K.'D FOR GIRLS

Wife of Professor Who Advises Boys to be Snobs Prescribes Same for Their Sisters

BOSTON, June 14. (Exclusive)—It is just as important for girls to be high hat and snobbish as it is for their brothers to be, in the opinion of Mrs. Marie Rogers, wife of Prof. Robert E. Rogers of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who started such a controversy with his advice to the senior class at Technology to be snobs.

Her advice to girls would be the same as that of her husband to boys, but she feels the girls already have gone a little farther along that road than men, she declared.

"Girls are not as lax in the matter of dress as men," Mrs. Rogers said.

WEAR RIGHT CLOTHES

"Nothing is prettier than the short skirt, but girls must put on their clothes right and wear the right things with them and need to have a value of clothes that instinctively will lead them to wear the proper clothes at the proper time. A girl is always able to put up a better front than a man. This is clearly reflected in the fact that she has more ambition for her children.

"The curse of the younger generation is their 'that's good enough' attitude," said Mrs. Rogers. "They are too impatient and don't want to polish off things and make them the best they can."

DEFENDS THEORY

Snobbishness is not a pet theory of the Rogers family, but Mrs. Rogers feels as her husband does: that the young college graduate does not reach out for the best.

"How many sloppy-looking students you see out looking for jobs," she added, "with a 'take-it-or-leave-it' attitude, when it is the person who steps out and acts as though he had a good opinion of himself who always wins."

GORGE SPAN DEDICATED

GRAND CANYON BRIDGE (Ariz.) June 14. (Exclusive)—This is a country of strange symbols. The new Grand Canyon bridge was dedicated formally today. The opening and all that it signifies was symbolized in a manner impromptu but fraught with meaning.

About an hour before the ceremonies began a Navajo Indian on a little scrubby cow pony came ambling along the magnificent new span from the south rim. A very much civilized lady in a shiny limousine rolled on to the bridge from the north rim. They met in the middle of the bridge. The cayuse gave one wall-eyed look from his vicious little eyes, whirled around like a streak of light and planted one swift kick into the gleaming side of the automobile.

It was the last protest of what remains of the Old West against the inflood of modern civilization.

UNIQUE SHOW

Huge steel girders anchored into river precipices of wild and untamed beauty, Navajo Indians camping in hogans that date back to fierce nomad ancestors on the plains of Mongolia, Hopis dressed up in jewelry a thousand years old, hot dog stands snuggled against castled cliffs of vivid scarlet mountains piled in horrendous majesty against the sky, Indians playing big umpa-umpa-umpa horns in a brass band, spielers selling jewelry to the Navajos whose silversmiths make the most beautiful jewelry in the world, governors of three States orating until the echoes rang from the amplifiers against the storm-torn cliffs, little Red Cross nurses in stiff white uniforms and shining Indian faces, the heart-like throb of the tom toms, the strange grunting cadences of Indian music, Hopis and Navajos dancing their tribal ceremonial dances in the wan moonlight, committees, thousands of parked automobiles like specks against the terrific and awesome bulk of the mountains!

It was perhaps the most unique show ever seen in the West. It was funny, but it had dramatic contrasts.

OLD AND THE NEW

The bridge itself spans some of the wildest scenery in the world. It crosses Marble Canyon where the muddy, sullen Colorado has washed down through the earth in a mighty gorge of solid rock.

More than 600 feet long, more than 400 feet high, it is the second most lofty bridge in the world.

It tears open for the white man's civilization the most remote and inaccessible part of the United States. Riding along these desolate desert roads at each end of the bridge is like waking up in dim Bible times 1000 years before Christ. Indian herders tending the sheep! Their life is the life of the Bedouins. Children riding on burros as they watch the sheep and their saddles are such as Cortez brought over from the Moors at the time of the conquest.

This bridge opens up a new empire. For Utah and the north country it means a new artery connecting with the south even to the West Coast of Mexico. To Arizona, it means annexing a new country. To California, it means that one of the most picturesque and beautiful countries under the face of the shining sun has been added to our tourist routes.

The bridge itself will be recognized as one of the great natural pictures of the West. It is the center of a great amphitheater of beauty and fantastic scenery colors running riot.

CELEBRATION STARTS

The celebration really began last night. You can't hurry the Indians. It takes them three days to do some of their dances. That's their stuff and they insist on doing it just that way. So they began dancing last night. All night long the cars were rolling onto the high mesas which look dizzily down upon the river. Truckloads of Hopis came from the pueblo of Moen Kopius. All night the Navajos came riding in on their cow ponies,

MUSIC UNION DEFEATED

'Talkie' Decision Given by Judge

San Francisco Theaters Held to Have Perfect Right to Ban Orchestras

Fight Probably Will Go on Until Supreme Court Has Passed on It

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14. (Exclusive)—Union musicians have not the right to force their services on theaters using sound motion pictures. Such is the gist of an opinion handed down here today by Superior Judge Trabucco in a case the effect of which is expected to be nation-wide and which, it is intimated, will be carried to the United States Supreme Court before it is finished.

The court blow is the most severe that has been struck at the union since the advent of the "talkies."

The local case revolved around efforts of the union to force theaters, through the Allied Amusement Industries, to return to their houses orchestral personnel and organists whose services were not required when sound motion pictures were produced with their own musical accompaniments.

VIEWS CLASH

The union, through individuals, brought suit for an injunction to restrain theaters from continuing in operation unless they fulfilled terms of a contract entered into September 1, 1928. This contract, in effect, was construed by the union as obliging the theaters to retain orchestras regardless of sound-picture presentations.

The Allied Amusement Industries demurred on the ground that the contract at issue was one containing a declaration of usage applicable only to wages and conditions of employment and was not a contract for employment.

This view was sustained by the court, without leave to amend.

Judge Trabucco declared that equity will not decree specific performance of a contract involving personal service except personal services of unique or extraordinary nature, a condition which he ruled did not exist in the case at bar.

"Injury," he stated, in his opinion, "is irreparable when it cannot adequately be compensated in damages and the musicians, therefore, have no case in an equity court, but must sue for damages in a court of law."

IMPORTANT CASE

Nat Schmulowitz and George B. Harris, attorneys who represented the Allied Amusement Industries, said:

"The decision by Judge Trabucco is an important and far-reaching one. It reaffirms the cherished freedom of relationship between employee and employer by recognizing that just as musicians may work, or not, as they choose, so may theater owners employ musicians or refuse to employ them, as they choose.

"The decision recognizes that not only is involuntary servitude, whether it be picking cotton or picking violin strings, no longer possible in this country, but that involuntary mastership likewise is impossible.

"It should be as gratifying to labor as well as to capital that the performance of personal service cannot be compelled, as against either the employer or the employed."

Aaron Sapiro, New York attorney who came here to conduct the case for the union, said he will appeal. He requested that the demurrer, when sustained, be sustained without leave to amend, thus giving him the opportunity to go into the Appellate Court at once.

Tunneys Delay Returning Home

BRIONI (Italy) June 14. (Exclusive)—James J. squaws and bucks alike in velvet jackets hung with necklaces and jingling with conchas of beaten silver.

The cars of the white men were rolling in all night. Camp fires twinkled against dark fronting cliffs that looked like the castles of giants.

The landscape is so huge that the crowds looked like specks, but there were between 5000 and 6000 people who came to a show 135 miles from the nearest railroad.

There were many tourists, Archie Roosevelt and his cousin Nicholas, among them, but most of the crowd were old-time westerners. There were Mormons who had fought the Gentiles on the bleak lands that look down upon the river, Indians who had fought them both.

INDIAN FORECAST

"My grandfather was killed at the Mountain Meadows massacre by John Doyle Lee, who ran the ferry down there," said a cowpuncher, glowering at an old Mormon with one arm shot off. Perhaps, he, too, had been at the Mountain Meadows.

"This bridge," said a Hopi boy to a Navajo with a red bando around his thick black hair, "this bridge she will some day fall down and the land will belong to the Indians again."

The Indians may benefit by the new bridge, but they are not enthusiastic, particularly over the fact that $100,000 of Navajo money was grabbed to help build it, money badly needed to develop water for their famishing sheep.

The ceremonies were scheduled for 1:30 o'clock. They got started not long after 2, which is pretty good for an Indian country where time means absolutely nothing.

They were under the personal supervision of the film news reel men. Two ribbons of blue and gold had been stretched across the bridge as a poetic reminded of the old-time barrier. At either end of the ribbon were the flags of the four States, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada and Utah.

MOVIETONE MADE

At a signal from a hard-boiled movie operator the four Governors came walking down the great span in line, Phillips of Arizona, Dillon of New Mexico, Balzar of Nevada and Dern of Utah. They did it wrong and the movies sent them back to do it again.

"Now," said the movietone man, "You fellers shake hands with each other. Not that way, you one in the middle," referring to the august Governor of Utah, "shake the hand of that other guy."

The governors timidly practiced until they got it right. Gov. Phillips of Arizona then read an interesting short speech about the breaking of the old frontiers. Cut the ribbon; they thought that was all. But the movie men shrieked with dismay. "Gosh, you gotta have a girl break a bottle of something."

Mortified at the omission, the governors hastily mobilized the charming daughter of Gov. Phillips, Miss Elizabeth Phillips, and she broke a wicked-looking bottle of ginger ale on the steel balustrade of the bridge. Then more speeches, Indian dances and a fine musical program lasting into the night.

Tomorrow there will be another celebration consisting of Indian tribal dances which are very wonderful and beautiful.

For generations access from Utah to Arizona has been impeded by the deep chasms of the Colorado River. Americans who sought to visit the Grand Canyon and the wonders of Southern and Southwestern Utah had to travel hundreds of miles out of their way around the great gash in the earth. In the Lee's Ferry bridge man has defeated Nature with the easy access which the new bridge affords to connecting the two wonderlands.

AIR-RAIL PARTY ON WAY

ney in history. Our epochal trip marks the inauguration of the combined efforts of American railroads, in conjunction with air lines, to speed up the 3000-mile crossing of the continent in joint daily services, wherein planes meet trains and vice versa.

We are following what is known as the great circle line, the same parallel of latitude along which Col. Lindbergh and other transoceanic flyers set their historic eastward courses across the Atlantic. Sixty hours on this trip, nearly all our flying being done over flat country where landings are relatively easy, will take us across the continent by the speediest method that has yet been made available to the average citizen. About a day and a half will be cut off from an all-rail trip.

This service is operated jointly by the New York Central, which is taking us 601 miles to Cleveland, and the Universal Aviation Corporation, unit of the Giant Aviation Corporation (a recent merger of various aircraft producing and operating companies) will carry us the 1087 miles to southeasternmost Kansas, making stops at Chicago and Kansas City. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe will complete the final 1387-mile lap to Los Angeles.

There was much fanfare at our train departure from New York and more is promised us when we take off from Cleveland's fine municipal airport.

MARK OF SYMBOLISM

The radio broadcast nation-wide the speeches delivered under the wings of the German airplane Bremen, now on exhibition in Grand Central Station. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, vice-president of the aviation corporation; Patrick Crowley, president of the New York Central Lines; Dan W. Jones, president of the Universal Aviation Corporation; Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Washington counsel of the aviation corporation, and Mayor James J. Walker were the speakers.

A "red cap" band trumpeted our departure on this historical jaunt, and the cameramen made much of the bottle of water from the Atlantic, which Jimmy Walker presented to Mrs. Willebrandt to be carried to Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles to be emptied into the Pacific as a mark of symbolism.

Mayor Walker's personal and public tete-a-tete with Mrs. Willebrandt afforded great amusement to those of us standing near by and to the immense crowd that gathered at the station. It was the first personal meeting of these two foes in the Presidential campaign of recent memory, each representing utterly opposite sumptuary views.

FRIENDLY RIVALRY

Mayor Walker didn't take offense at Mrs. Willebrandt's remarks which were made in true California booster style. She is a resident of the State of our destination and she said she was gratified that New York City is now made a suburb of Los Angeles. The Mayor was, however, bristlingly brilliant in welcoming Mrs. Willebrandt's holiday from public life and in hailing her departure from her duties as assistant Attorney-General in charge of prohibition enforcement. He would be glad, he said, to be present to welcome Mrs. Willebrandt back as a private citizen. Mrs. Willebrandt apparently enjoyed the whole spectacle, even to the friendly jibing from Tammany's pride.

Mrs. Willebrandt was in our party leaving Bolling Field, Washington, this afternoon; so were Bob Armstrong, the veteran Washington correspondent of the Los Angeles Times, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eckman. Mr. Eckman is a Los Angeles attorney and a trustee of the Christian Science Church. He engaged the air-rail passage for himself and wife in order to get back home in time to be sworn in next Wednesday as a member of the Los Angeles Board of Education.

Several passengers came from Boston and we are to take on some more at Cleveland. Many of the airplane company and railroad officials are making the trip and John E. Sommers is here, representing the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce.

OTHER PASSENGERS

Mr. Sommers's work in mapping the airways, providing landing and radio facilities and otherwise stimulating this sort of development has largely made possible the voyage upon which we are embarked.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Eckman, the regular passengers on this inaugural trip are T. W. Balfe, New York merchant, brother of Raymond Balfe, world-champion bridge player, and Arthur B. Morton of Brooklyn. More passengers will be taken on in the later stages of the trip, and the development of the route contemplates connections by feeder airplane lines from St. Louis, Wichita, Tulsa, Oklahoma City and other cities of the South, Southeast and Southwest.

Returning, the stages of the trip will be the same. Most of our party will return by this route, starting from Los Angeles next Wednesday.

As Mrs. Willebrandt remarked over the radio, this remarkable advance in speedy transportation will enable her to spend two and one-half days at her home in Los Angeles and return to her desk in Washington all in the space of eight days.

photographers, pulled out and lighted the famous underslung pipe which promises to become fashionable in England. He was called on to explain how the latter worked and, with exemplary patience, took it apart and proceeded to explain how, tobacco being two-thirds water, the Dawes pipe succeeds in trapping this water.

He is taking with him to Scotland a draft of the speech which he will make Tuesday at the Pilgrim Society banquet in London and which, it is learned, will constitute an important statement of United States policy. This will be the first public announcement of the details of Gen. Dawes's special mission to this country.

It is extremely unlikely that Ambassador Dawes will wear knee pants at court functions or that he will imitate some of his more remote predecessors in seeking the social limelight.

"I have been dining out in Washington for four years and I have yet to remember anything worthwhile I gained from it," he said. "I would as soon talk diplomacy with a man with a pipe in his mouth as any other way."

When asked what he will wear on his visit to the King tomorrow, the Ambassador turned to Ray Atherton, counselor of the American Embassy, and the latter announced that it will be morning coat and striped pants.

CANADIAN HOUSE REVEALS ITS INTEREST

OTTAWA, June 14. (AP)—The report that Premier MacDonald of Great Britain may hold a conference in Washington with President Hoover of the United States on the question of disarmament and that Premier MacKenzie King also will attend the meeting again was the subject of inquiry in the House of Commons today. Sir George Perley, Conservative, Argenteuil, questioned the Prime Minister and wanted to know whether he has been invited to attend the conference.

"This is a case where my honorable friend has as much information as I have," Premier King replied, intimating he has had no official advice in the matter.

against the measure, said it is "simply one to loan more money to the farmers."

Senator Caraway said he would not vote for the bill "because to do so would be to admit that it does for the farmer what was promised him."

President Hoover intends to send the measure to the Agricultural and Treasury departments tomorrow, as is customary, and intends to sign it as soon as it is returned. This will witness the first occasion since farm relief became a major issue upon which a relief measure has been sent to the White House that the President would approve.

As soon as Mr. Hoover has signed the bill, a resolution will be adopted in the House and sent to the Senate calling for an appropriation of perhaps $500,000,000, the revolving fund authorized by the bill, of which $150,000,000 or more is expected to be made available for the current fiscal year ending the 30th inst.

DAM CONFEREES QUIT TILL FALL

Meeting Will be Resumed on October 14

Slight Progress Made in Water Dispute

Donovan Reduces Issue to Simple Formula

WASHINGTON, June 14. (Exclusive)—The lower basin Boulder Dam conference, after a session here lasting nearly a month, recessed today until fall with the long-standing water division dispute between California and Arizona still far from being settled.

The conference is to be resumed October 14, either at Santa Fe or Albuquerque, N. M.

While the Washington conference made no material strides toward solution of the lower basin water problem, the commissioners of all three States—California, Arizona and Nevada—joined with Col. William J. Donovan, the government's presiding representative, in expressing the belief that some progress toward an agreement was made, even if it were only to get the representatives of the three States better acquainted, personally, and give them a better mutual understanding of their respective State viewpoints.

AGREEMENT BASIS

The tri-State commissioners are taking home with them a formula for water apportionment, submitted by Col. Donovan, putting into simple terms the problem now existing and to be tackled again in the fall. The Donovan formula does not offer a possible basis of agreement, but simply states the controversy in more direct language than that used at former conferences.

The conference broke up with Arizona commissioners maintaining strict silence on plans of their State to bring threatened court action to block construction of Boulder dam, but with other members of the meeting carrying away the impression no injunction will be sought at this time. It was pointed out today that no reason apparently exists for Arizona to initiate injunction proceedings any time in the immediate future. The project does not become official until the 21st inst., and it will be many months after that before the Interior Department can possibly work out the contracts which the Swing-Johnson Act requires, guaranteeing repayment of the government's investment. Besides, the act gives Arizona and Nevada six months' preference on power contracts, which in itself will give Arizona leeway running beyond the October conference date.

AMPLE LEEWAY

Of course, if the Interior Department in its negotiations for power contracts should attempt commitments looking to the actual project which Arizona deemed prejudicial to her interests as a State it would naturally follow that Arizona would go ahead promptly with her fight in the Supreme Court. But if the preliminaries proceed without jeopardizing Arizona's ultimate rights in the Colorado River development, it is believed the State may safely remain out of the courts and await the outcome of the October conference.

It is the hope of the California commissioners that between now and the time for the fall meeting public sentiment in Arizona will shift so much further in favor of Boulder dam that the new Republican administration will feel justified from a political standpoint in making a sincere effort to work out a compromise with California on the water question. The Washington conference was doomed from the start in so far as definite results were concerned, by the present political situation in Arizona which finds the followers of former Gov. Hunt assiduously seeking to seize upon any mistake that may be made on Boulder dam by the present administration which, under the circumstances, must naturally exercise all possible caution.

DONOVAN FORMULA

The "formula" which Col. Donovan presented to the conference prior to the adjournment today was worded as follows:

"This formula is based upon the principle that as nearly as may be the water of the lower basin shall be equally divided between Arizona and California.

"This principle must be kept in mind in considering the feasibility of this formula.

"(1.) That the Gila River shall go to Arizona.

"(2.) Arizona may use any of the new unused waters of her tributaries other than the Gila, releasing therefore equivalent water from her main stream waters.

"(3.) That of the 7,500,000 acre feet of water in the main stream apportioned to the lower basin by paragraph (a) of Article III of the Colorado River compact 300,000 acre feet shall be apportioned to Nevada.

"(4.) That of the 7,200,000 acre feet remaining, and of the 1,000,000 acre feet provided for in paragraph (b) of Article III of the Colorado River compact, Arizona and California each shall receive such percentage as shall be deemed fair and equitable.

"(5.) That the additional available water in the lower basin shall be divided equally between Arizona and California.

"(6.) That the Mexican burden shall be borne equally by California and Arizona."

"For the first time," said John L. Bacon, chairman of the California commission, "we have the foundation laid for an agreement with Arizona. I believe we have an excellent chance to settle the long-standing controversy amicably and thus permit beginning of construction of Boulder dam without litigation."

SENATE TURNS DOWN MINOR NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The nomination of Redmond A. Bolton to be postmaster at Jamestown, N. D., was rejected today by the Senate. Bolton was rejected on the basis of objections made by the two North Dakota Senators, Nye and Frazier, who did not explain their stand.

MRS. COOLIDGE BOOKED AS MAGAZINE WRITER

NEW YORK, June 14. (Exclusive) Mrs. Calvin Coolidge does not excel as a cook and her pies drew comment, inferentially, of a critical nature, from her famous husband on one occasion. This is one of the human-interest admissions made by the former President's wife in a series of articles to be published in a well-known magazine.

Mrs. Coolidge repeatedly has refused offers to write of her life in the White House, from the standpoint of a President's wife, but now has joined her husband in the ranks of magazine writers.

The articles, just completed, will reveal many intimate bits during the Presidential [illegible] the Coolidge administration.

How much Mrs. Coolidge is to receive for the articles, which will start in September, is not told.

Miss Hix's home was at Bradenton, Fla.

BRITISH MINERS DELAY SEVEN-HOUR DAY PLEA

LONDON, June 14. (AP)—At the close of an executive meeting of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain, President Herbert Smith today officially denied that the miners have decided to press the new Labor government to repeal the Eight-hour Act passed by the Conservative government after failure of the great strike in 1926.

Mr. Smith said, however, that he hopes the miners sooner or later will get back to the seven-hour working day.

SON OF DONOR WINS AWARD

Chemistry Scholarship Goes to Shasta Youth Whose Mother Started It

SACRAMENTO, June 14. (Exclusive)—More than a decade ago Mrs. Edna Behrens Eaton, now treasurer of Shasta county, created a chemistry scholarship in the Shasta Union High School, in honor of her husband, Lieut. Walter M. Eaton, a chemist, who died while in the service during the World War.

The scholarship for the current year was awarded today to the student adjudged as being the best chemistry student in the high school. That student is Richard Behrens Eaton, son of the donor.

[illegible] ON HIGHWAY

[illegible] was slain Saturday as [illegible] a highway with his [illegible] children in their automobile. The customs guard was in search of liquor smugglers.

Hearing on the new complaint was held this afternoon and White declined to answer questions, except to say "I am depending upon the United States government," when asked if he were represented by counsel.

Mr. Hurlburt said he would resist any efforts of the government to try the case in Federal courts. To the statement of Assistant Secretary Lowman of the Treasury that "White's case will be handled like any other Federal employee's," Hurlburt said the State would prosecute the case because the border guard "violated a law of the State of Minnesota."

GUARD RETAINED

N. A. Linderberg, assistant customs collector at Duluth, conferred with Dist.-Atty. Brill today concerning the defense of White. Linderberg said the government will make no attempt to obtain White's release on bail.

The official, who refused to suspend the guard after the shooting, said he found no cause for suspension now. He characterized the $5000 bail demanded of White as "preposterously high," and said White will remain a member of the border force as far as he is concerned.

KILLINGS DENOUNCED BY WET IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Prohibition killings were denounced in such caustic terms in the House today that a protest was made by a dry against language used by Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, going into the record.

The protest was made by Representative Murphy, Republican, Ohio, after La Guardia, a wet, declared the government had become "something hated, something oppressive."

Representative Williams of Illinois, who was presiding, held the language did not transgress the rules of the House and could not be excluded.

RUM CLASH ON BORDER EXPECTED

Canadian Official Looks for Gun Battle Between Runners and Guards

WINDSOR (Ont.) June 14. (Canadian Press)—An early clash of serious proportions between United States Coast Guard officers and the Detroit River and Lake Erie rum runners is expected by Chief of Police Harry Timmis of Amherstburg, Ont.

"There'll be a big row on the river before long, it seems from recent indications," he said today.

Amherstburg, recognized by the United States prohibition enforcement agents as temporary headquarters of the down river rum crews, is swarming with strangers from across the river, the Chief added. Most of these men are identified in various capacities with the liquor industry, he said, although a few of them may be "under cover" men for the United States customs or Coast Guard services.

The Chief suspects the rum crew lying in the Amherstburg and Sugar Island region are armed or are arming with Lewis guns in readiness for the much-heralded major offensive by the United States forces.

"And it is my opinion that these new arrivals will use the guns," the Chief said, "that is if they are bothered by the Coast Guard crews."

South Africa Nationalists Win Election

CAPE TOWN (South Africa) June 14. (AP)—The Nationalist party today emerged victorious from the South African general election held Wednesday. The predominant question now is whether Premier Hertzog will form a purely Nationalist government or continue to cooperate with the five Creswell Labor members in forming another Nationalist-Labor government.

The standing of the parties follows: Nationalists, 69; South African party, 59; Creswell Laborites, 5; National Council-Laborites, 3, and doubtful, 12.

Angeleno Cited for Gallantry

WASHINGTON, June 14. (Exclusive)—The War Department today announced the award of a silver star citation for gallantry in action to Thomas J. Martin of 413 Hibernian Building, Los Angeles, formerly a first lieutenant in the One Hundred Forty-first Infantry, Thirty-sixth Division, in the World War.

The award was based on Martin's courageous conduct on October 8, 9 and 10, 1918, when his division was in action east of St. Etienne-Arnes, France.

TAXES BLOT OUT NATION'S DEBTS

Surplus of $100,000,000 or More Shown in Report

Receipts for Year Greater Than Expected

Hoover in Announcement of Optimistic Outlook

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Increased receipts from income and corporation taxes have changed the deficit of $17,000,000 which the government faced last February into a surplus of from $100,000,000 to $110,000,000—as the balance sheet at the end of the fiscal year on the 30th inst. will show.

To date the government has collected from all sources $3,352,145,093 which is $85,375,664 less than collected in the same period last year. Substantiation of the Treasury experts' estimates of the revenue still to be collected means the Federal income for the year will approximate $4,042,348,000.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS BETTER

Not only has the income-tax amounted to more this fiscal year than was expected, but the customs receipts and miscellaneous internal revenue have been better than had been counted on. The income-tax payments to date total $1,807,042,538, an increase of approximately $60,000,000 over the same period last year and the second quarter's income-tax payments due tomorrow are expected to add $500,000,000 or more to the total.

More than $1,500,000,000 will be involved in dealings to be transacted tomorrow by the Treasury. The midyear financing will see $528,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness mature, another issue of $400,000,000 sold, and interest paid on the public debt aggregating $100,000,000, while the Treasury expects income-tax payments from the second installment for 1928 to amount to more than $500,000,000. The payments are due then but the final returns from the collections are not expected to reach the Treasury until toward the end of the fiscal year.

INCOME-TAX RECEIPTS

Income-tax collections this year have exceeded those of last year by approximately $60,000,000 and on the 12th inst. had totaled $1,807,042,538. For the first twelve days of the month the collections had amounted to $31,587,224, or $1,560,000 more than for the same month last year.

Miscellaneous internal revenue of the government has reached $572,537,227 but is about $4,000,000 less than the amount collected in the same period in 1928, while the customs receipts thus far have totaled $571,464,064, an increase of nearly $30,000,000 for the similar period a year ago.

At present there is a deficit in the government funds of $168,866,680 as compared with a surplus at the same time last year of $101,158,661.

OUTLAY IN SIGHT

If the income-tax payments should approach those for the first quarter when $601,000,000 was collected, the government might finish the fiscal year with a balance approaching $200,000,000—but this surplus is not held likely.

The amount of the surplus may be affected greatly by appropriations by Congress before the end of the year. There is a likelihood also that the Treasury Department will diminish the balance by $45,000,000—that amount being slated to go to railroads for retroactive mail rate increases granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Treasury expects to pay this before July, an appropriation for it recently having been approved by Congress.

French Beat Off Morocco Force Besieging Post

TANGIER (Morocco) June 14. (AP) The siege of the French post of Ait Yakoub has been raised after a number of attacks by the rebel tribesmen, the correspondent of La Nacion of Buenos Aires learned today. Reinforcements arrived in time to save the post from falling into the hands of the rebels.

A fleet of French airplanes took part in the engagement, heavily bombing the rebels. Losses on both sides have been considerable.

Ship Wallows in High Sea as Shaft Breaks

MIAMI (Fla.) June 14. (AP)—Rendered helpless by a broken main shaft, a 125-ton tanker of the Gulf Refining Company was wallowing in a high running sea off Jupiter lighthouse this afternoon, company officials here were advised by radio from a passing ship. A seaplane was sent to find the tanker.

She was bound out of Miami for Nassau and carries a crew of seven. She has been adrift for twenty-six hours.

Campbell Plans Brief Home Visit

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The State Department has granted the request of Thomas E. Campbell, former Governor of Arizona and commissioner to the Seville Exposition, to return to the United States from Spain for a short visit.

It is said at the State Department that Campbell will return to Seville as soon as he has arranged private matters for which he desires to come home. Reports have been current that Campbell is returning to accept an important government post, but these lack confirmation.

Robinson Charges Smoot as Wielding Control

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The tenseness which has gripped the tariff situation in the Senate was relieved temporarily today as the Senate deferred consideration until Monday of the resolution of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, to limit revision to agricultural and related products.

The resolution is opposed by administration Senators. A vote early next week is in prospect, and, in view of the Democratic and Republican independent support believed to be lined up for it, Republican leaders tonight expressed uncertainty as to the outcome.

AMENDMENT FIRST

Senate leaders declare the issue must be decided before any recess is taken, as the subcommittees already have begun taking testimony on schedules relating to nonagricultural products in the House bill.

The subcommittee on agriculture will open its hearings Monday.

Before a vote is taken on the Borah resolution, however, the Senate must act first on an amendment offered by Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, which would include other lines of production that have been in a depressed condition in recent years as a result of "steadily increasing competitive imports."

Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee, who joined with the other ten Republicans on the committee yesterday in tabling a resolution by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, designed to accomplish the same purpose as Senator Borah's proposal, came under the fire of the Democrats during the debate on the compromise farm bill.

SMOOT CHARGED

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, declared the Utah Senator had "dominated" the tariff policy of the country for the last twenty years and now is "dominating" the work of revising the House bill. Smoot denied the charge, declaring he had only one vote in the committee and other Republicans voted their own convictions.

Taking of testimony of scores of witnesses on various rate sections of the House bill was begun today by four finance subcommittees and the hearings will continue tomorrow.

Opposition to increases proposed in the House tariff bill on cotton textiles was voiced today before a Senate finance subcommittee by Frederic B. Shipley, of the National Council of American Importers and Traders.

He declared little increased protection is needed for the industry because the exports greatly exceed the imports and because unit production costs in this country, he held, are lower than in competing countries, including labor expenses, due to the use by domestic manufacturers of automatic looms.

Four Identified as Abductors

JULIAETTA (Idaho) June 14. (AP) Lieut.-Gov. Kinne late today identified as the four men who abducted and robbed him, Talbot Reynolds, 20, Metaline Falls, Wash.; Frank Lane, 21, Redmond, Wis.; George Livingston, 19, Alabama, and Engos Fnoysland, 21, North Dakota. They had been captured near here today.

The bandits aroused the countryside by abducting the Lieutenant-Governor and then shooting one of his rescuers and beating up another. The official and his attempted saviors, W. L. Tribbey and Paul Kilde, escaped after they had been tied to trees.

Germany's Jews Move for Peace

BERLIN, June 14. (AP)—The "Jewish Peace League" has been formed here with Oscar Wasserman, director of the Deutsche Bank, as its president and Prof. Albert Einstein and Rabbi Baeck as vice-presidents.

The league's object is listed as co-operating in the Jewish faith toward "raising the moral standard of humanity and the creation of permanent world peace." The "Centralverein German-Jewish citizens," the Union Zionists of Germany and a number of Jewish congregations have joined.

American Feud Carried to Italy

GIUGLIANO (Italy) June 14. (AP) Antonio Abate, 50 years of age, who recently returned to Italy from the United States, was shot and killed in a public square here today by Giuseppe Cerpicano, an old business rival in America, who once before tried to kill him.

Abate returned to Italy, having a comparative fortune, in the belief that Cerpicano still was in jail serving a sentence for attempted homicide.

BANDITS OF CHINA SLAY 100 IN RAIDS

AMOY, FUKIEN (China) June 14. (AP)—Refugees arriving here today from Hweian-Hsien, sixty miles inland, said bandits had almost destroyed their village by fire, had killed 100 residents and are holding prominent citizens for ramson. The bandits are said to be in control of the entire countryside from Chuanchow north to Amoy, with refugees flocking to safety. Missionary society representatives here are much concerned for the safety of their representatives at Hweian-Hsien.

NICARAGUAN CANAL TO BE SURVEYED

Permission Granted for Army Engineer Troops to Gather Data

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The American government has obtained permission from Nicaragua to dispatch to that country a battalion of army engineer troops to make a preliminary investigation and survey of the practicability and approximate cost of an interoceanic canal route through Nicaragua.

The battalion will be dispatched to Nicaragua under orders of the War Department. As yet the battalion has not been selected.

The preliminary survey by the army engineer corps will be made for the purpose of gaining detailed information to be studied later by a joint army-civilian engineering commission, which will be appointed by the President to consider the proposed canal route.

The American Legation at Managua today notified the State Department that the Nicaraguan government has granted permission for the stationing of the engineers in that country for the survey.

Belgian Parley on Marks Opens

BRUSSELS (Belgium) June 14. (AP)—Negotiations for final settlement of the still outstanding German marks question began in Brussels today with the arrival of Dr. Ritter, the German financial expert designated by his government, to discuss the question.

The conversation will be secret and no communique will be issued until an agreement finally has been reached.

The Belgians are demanding thirty-seven annuities of 25,000,000 marks (about $6,000,000) each and have made settlement of this problem a condition for their acceptance of the recent reparations agreement.

"Fight," Cries Texan in Long Speech to House

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, came under fire today in the House from Representative Box of Texas, who urged the Democrats of the country to wrest control of their party from him and his associates.

Reading a long prepared address, the Texan, who supported Alfred E. Smith as the Democratic Presidential candidate, asserted that Mr. Raskob and his associates are changing the party into an instrument of the liquor interests and into a representative of groups opposed to the restriction of immigration.

CALLS HIM REPUBLICAN

The speaker, who declined to be interrupted during the forty minutes allotted him by the House, said there still is no assertion that Mr. Raskob is anything but a Republican "with no interest in Democratic principles," and added that it seems that the now Democrat sought to destroy the Democratic party "so that it cannot soon become a dangerous opponent of his own party."

Demanding to know what the Democrats are to do about the situation, Representative Box urged them "to fight, not to submit; to fight, not to retreat."

REVITALIZING NEEDED

"Let the Democrats of the nation, each and all, take a new attitude, and begin to fight for control of their party," he said, adding that the "party needs to be redeemed, regenerated and revitalized."

Representative Box referred to the recent "harmony" dinner in honor of Jouett Shouse, chairman of the executive committee of the national Democratic organization, saying that announcements there showed that Mr. Raskob and his associates "intend to reorganize the party to suit themselves, rather than to have its national organization reorganized to suit the party."

OPENING OF ARIZONA PUBLIC LANDS FIXED

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The Interior Department today announced that approximately 144,000 acres of public lands in Arizona will be opened to entry July 23, next, at the Land Office in Phoenix. Ex-service men have ninety-one days' preference right in filing claims and may enter applications within twenty days prior to July 23. The lands are located in Coconino, Graham, Pinal and Pima counties.

ARMY WILL MAKE NEW PORT STUDY

Senate Committee Directs Engineers' Board to Survey Local Joint-Harbor Plans

WASHINGTON, June 14. (Exclusive)—A new study of the Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor is to be conducted by the army board of engineers to determine whether any changes in the existing project are warranted at the present time.

A resolution directing the board to take up the investigation was adopted today by the Senate Commerce Committee and the board, according to a statement from its chief, Gen. Deakyne, will regard this as sufficient authority without waiting for Congress itself to act. The law requires that the army engineers make only such surveys as are authorized by Congress.

Local interests at Los Angeles and Long Beach have for some time been urging the inadequacy of present channels, both in number and in depth and width, and a series of recommendations from the harbor commissioners of the two ports is now on file in Washington. These recommendations and accompanying engineering reports, will be studied by the army river and harbor board preparatory to putting its own engineers on the ground for a first-hand survey.

JURY VENIRE DRAWN FOR TRIAL OF LEHEW

UKIAH, June 14. (AP)—Selection of a venire, composed of ten women and forty men, out of which will be chosen a jury to hear the insanity plea of Tom Lehew, accused murderer of 6-year-old Teresa Johnson, East Mendocino school girl, was completed today. Superior Judge H. P. Preston overruled a motion of W. L. D. Held, appointed by the court to defend the accused man, that a sanity commission be named to examine Lehew before the trial on the 25th inst.

BORDER TRAFFIC BAN PROTESTED

Arizona Railroad Executive Confers With Rodriguez

Valley Organizations Called to Talk Over Situation

Swing Intends to Seek Aid of State Department

MEXICALI, June 14. (Exclusive) A. T. Mercier, president of the San Diego and Arizona Railroad, conferred here this afternoon with Gov. Rodriguez of the Northern District of Lower California relative to the latter's recent order which would limit train movements across the Calexico-Mexico border after July 1, to the same hours as pedestrian and motor travel.

Mercier pointed out that his line is more seriously affected than others because of the fact that there is no alternative routing available. "If the order is carried into effect," he said, "it will stop all traffic on our railroad from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. and will result in serious financial loss."

"The Governor listened to our petition and showed much interest in our problem," Mercier stated, "but gave no indication that he has changed his mind in regard to the order."

The Calexico Chamber of Commerce has sent out an invitation to commercial organizations in all Imperial Valley towns for a joint conference to be held in the border city Monday night to discuss the Governor's order. Much of the valley melon crop is being forwarded through Lower California to eastern shipping points during the night hours and it is feared that shipping interests in the valley will suffer severe penalties if the night ban on railroad trains through Mexico is made effective.

ACTION PROMISED IN WIRE FROM SWING

SAN DIEGO, June 14. (Exclusive)—Telegraphic advices that he will request the Secretary of State to prevent any injury to the San Diego and Arizona Railway as a result of the threat of Gov. Rodrigues of Lower California to close the border to passenger and mail trains from 6 p.m. until 6 a.m. were received by President Hotchkiss of the Chamber of Commerce today from Representative Swing.

Brooklyn Bishop Pleads for Church Harmony

Dr. Shaw Avoids Discussing Knotty Problems

DENVER, June 14. (AP)—Dr. Avery A. Shaw, president of Dennison University, chosen to replace Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal Church as keynote speaker at the annual meeting of the Northern Baptist convention, which convened here today, alluded only once in his talk to the religious problems confronting the Baptist leaders.

"The real menace to the Christian faith and to the erection of a Christ-like world lies not in any of the fields over which controversy has been raging in recent years," he said.

"The real question men are asking today is this: 'Is there any God other than the sum total of the whole or the ethical ideals which men have developed for themselves through the centuries?'"

ONLY ONE REFERENCE

Only once did Dr. Shaw refer to "systematic theology" and "standardized worship."

"Never in human history," he declared, "was there such an abundance of creature comforts and never has history revealed so widespread hunger—hunger of heart, a hunger that not all the systematic theology and standardized worship in the world can satisfy."

Bishop McConnell of Brooklyn was relieved as keynoter Wednesday, as the result of protests filed by ministers of that faith because of the Brooklyn man's "modernism," but addressed the convention today in his capacity as president of the Federated Council of Churches of Christ.

At the outset he declared he brought no idealistic schemes for church union.

HARMONY NEEDED

"There is no basis upon which we as denominations can unite at present," he said. "But it is generally agreed that we are all united in spirit in working for the bringing in of the kingdom of heaven. There are, however, many places where the churches could work in more close harmony, notably those of social service, general mission and philanthropic activities.

"The greatest foe of the churches, which will have to be fought tooth and nail, is the spirit of materialistic sectarianism. In our blind worship of sects and narrow beliefs we are verging perilously close upon paganism."

He added that with all due respect to other forms of church government and belief he intends to keep himself closely to his own denomination.

An attack by President Arthur M. Harris on the age-old custom of honoring with office the older members of the denomination simply because of their years and dignity featured the opening session of the convention today. President Harris asked that the convention hew away deadwood, and substitute new material from among the younger members of the church.

BASE AREA FOR AIRSHIP BROADENED

Navy Board to Include Bay City in Survey for Dirigible Station

WASHINGTON, June 14. (Exclusive)—The Navy Department in an order signed today by Secretary Adams broadened the scope of the naval board charged with selecting a location for the proposed dirigible base on the West Coast so that it may inquire into sites in the San Francisco Bay area, as well as Southern California.

Despite the action, there appears to be little doubt but that the base will go to Southern California and in all probability to San Diego, which is said to be the location favored by naval experts.

The territory to be studied by the naval board was extended as the result of vigorous protests from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, which has insisted its bay region offers advantages equal in every respect to those to be found farther down State. The board, headed by Admiral Moffett, chief of the naval air service, and Admiral Reeves, of the naval construction division, is scheduled to go to California in the near future to conduct its investigation. Up to today, it had intended confining its study solely to the Los Angeles-San Diego area.

The proposed base is to cost in the neighborhood of $5,000,000 and is to be the home station of the two giant dirigibles now being constructed for the Navy at the Akron (O.) plant of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation.

LATE RETURNS SHOW CONSERVATIVE WINS

RUGBY (Eng.) June 14. (AP)—The only return still outstanding from the general election was announced today with the victory of Capt. D. Margesson, Conservative, who retained his seat with 15,145 votes. J. Morgan, Laborite, polled 11,[illegible] votes and Robert Bernays, Liberal, 10,158.

FIRES PERIL INDIANS

WINNIPEG, June 14. (AP)—With forest fires raging around their encampments, Indians living north of Nelson House, Man., have been forced to seek shelter on small islands in Beaver Dam Lake, according to word reaching here late last night. The Nelson House district is about 450 miles north of Winnipeg.

FRIARS RESTORE BAN ON WOMEN

Actors' Clubhouse Barred to Fair Friends After Two-Year Trial

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—The monastery of the Friars, or in other words the clubhouse of that actors' organization, has closed its doors to women after a two-year trial.

Not that the Friars ever were free and easy in their hospitality to the ladies, but for the last two years they have permitted them the use of a small reception room at the entrance.

Now even that privilege is to be withdrawn and the women will have to park in their cars or, as James J. Corbett suggested, remain at home.

"There isn't any gentleman's club that likes to have ladies dropping in," he said. "And who ever heard of women in a monastery?"

NAVY MEN PROMOTED BY HOOVER

Five Captains Advance to Rear-Admirals as Others Also Move Up

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—President Hoover has approved the promotion to rear-admirals of Capts. Arthur Jacy Hepburn, Thomas Charles Hart, Orin Gould Murfin, Walter Roswell Sexton and William Daniel Leahy.

Capt. Hepburn at present is chief of staff of the battleship division of the battle fleet; Capt. Hart is inspector of ordnance at the naval torpedo station, Newport, R. I.; Capt. Murfin is commander of the U.S.S. West Virginia; Capt. Sexton is serving with the bureau of naval operations, and Capt. Leahy is now chief of the Bureau of Ordnance.

The President also approved recommendations of the navy selection board for promotion of twenty commanders to the rank of captains and twenty-eight promotions to the rank of commander.

Those recommended for the rank of captain are Arthur Kennedy Atkins, U.S.S. Florida; Herbert Emory Keys, commander of Division Two, Mine Squadron Two; John Jackson London of the navy recruiting station, New York City; Alexander Scammel Wadsworth, port director, Hampton Roads, Va.; James Sterrett Woods, in charge of the naval ammunition depot, Iona Island; John Morris Smeallie of the Bureau of Navigation; Vaughn Kimball Coman, commander of Division Forty-one, destroyer squadron scouting fleet; William Peace Gaddis, in charge of the hydrographic office, San Francisco; Kenneth Whiting, U.S.S. Saratoga; George Barney Wright, Naval War College; George Sloan Bryan, naval torpedo station, Newport, R. I.; Robert Lee Ghormley of the Navy General Board; William Lowndes Calhoun, Naval War College; Russell Willson and Leigh Noyes of naval mission to Brazil; William Alexander Glassford, Jr., Naval War College; Conant Taylor, commander of Submarine Division Four, Control Force; William Alden Hall, Naval Attache, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Douglas Legate Howard, commander Division Twenty-seven, destroyer squadron scouting fleet; Arthur Leroy Bristol, Jr., commander aircraft squadron Asiatic fleet, and Frank Jack Fletcher, Naval War College.

Doctor 'Racket' Plot Charged

CHICAGO, June 14. (Exclusive) In a special session the county grand jury today returned conspiracy true bills against seven men who, according to Chief Investigator Roche of the State's Attorney's office, are leaders and henchmen in a nation-wide ring, engaged in selling doctors' and dentists' licenses. Men from Chicago, Springfield, St. Louis and New York were indicted and Roche believes that only the surface of the conspiracy has been scratched.

The moving figure so far uncovered in the investigation, is Harry Browsky of Springfield, who was placed under arrest there late today by one of Roche's agents.

Adams Praises Sailors' Father

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Secretary Adams has written to William F. Speares of Prescott, Ark., commending as "an evidence of practical patriotism of the highest order" the fact that his four sons are all enlisted men in the Navy.

The eldest of the boys, Ernest, enlisted eleven years ago, the Secretary said, and now holds the highest enlisted rating. Arnold enlisted in January, 1928; William Frank in January of this year, and on the 4th inst., Luther Clifton Speares completed the roll.

GEORGIANS THREATEN POLISH CONSULATE

MOSCOW, June 14. (AP)—The official Tass agency today announced a spontaneous demonstration attended by 10,000 people has been held outside the Polish consulate at Tiflis, Georgia, in protest against sympathy asserted to be shown in Polish government circles to Georgian Separatists. The agency added: "The consulate is now guarded by a strong police force."

PRUSSIA TREATS WITH HOLY SEE

German State Subscribes to Catholic Church

Pact Carries Gratuity of $700,000 Yearly

Opponents Assert Reichstag Must Pass on Affair

BERLIN, June 14. (Exclusive)—After settling the "Roman question" the Vatican today won a second, if smaller, diplomatic triumph when it succeeded in concluding a treaty with Protestant Prussia. The pact was signed this morning by Herr Otto Braun, the Socialist Prime Minister, for Prussia, and Monsignor Pacelli, the papal nuncio, for the Pope.

The treaty to all intents and purposes is a "concordat," although to avoid offending evangelical susceptibilities that particular word carefully has been avoided in the document itself. The treaty, which was signed after prolonged and difficult negotiations, modifies the concordat concluded between the then King of Prussia and the Church of Rome in 1821 to suit the German republican constitution and modern needs and conditions in the largest German State.

The treaty provides that Prussia will contribute yearly to the administration of the Roman Catholic church within its borders approximately $700,000—$200,000 more than the sum previously given—while the people are to name no archbishop or bishop in Prussia without first asking the Prussian government if it has any objections to the candidate on political grounds.

The question of religious instruction in the schools of Prussia, which in the past has formed the subject of acrimonious political discussion, was left unregulated by the new concordat. It still remains to be seen whether the new treaty can win the consent of the Prussian Diet.

Many Protestant deputies threaten to vote against the treaty unless the Prussian government concludes a similar pact with the Lutheran church. Others contend that since the Vatican now has become recognized as a sovereign state through the treaty with Mussolini, the agreement to become valid first must obtain the indorsement of the German Reichstag, which must pass on all agreements with foreign states.

COUNSEL OF UTILITIES EXAMINED

Letter on Senate Action Dealing With Inquiry Considered by Board

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Activities of Josiah T. Newcomb, counsel for the joint committee of national utility associations, in connection with proposed Congressional legislation relating to public power utilities were examined today by the Federal Trade Commission.

Newcomb, a former New York State Senator, testified concerning a number of exhibits consisting of correspondence in connection with Congressional measures which were placed in the record of the commission's inquiry into publicity activities of utilities.

One exhibit was a letter from George Roberts, a New York attorney. The letter under date of December 20, 1927, contained Roberts's congratulations to Newcomb in connection with the decision by the Senate to place the consideration of the Walsh resolution on a power utilities investigation in the hands of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee rather than in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Young Bandit Leisurely Robs Berkeley Bank

BERKELEY, June 14. (AP)—Displaying a coolness that dumbfounded his victims a young, unmasked bandit armed with a small pistol entered the Dwight Way branch of the Bank of America after closing time today, leisurely robbed five depositors and three employees of sums totaling $17,000, and escaped in an automobile driven by a confederate.

Later three men attempted to rob a bank messenger in Oakland of a $7500 pay roll. Clyde Kley, the intended victim, clung to his money satchel despite blackjacks wielded by two of the bandits who fled in an automobile when a police alarm was sounded.

House Plans for Recesses

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The House, after disposing of the farm bill today, found itself with but little work on hand, and Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader, announced a plan for a series of three-day recesses beginning the middle of next week.

Tilson said this plan will prevail unless the Senate in the meantime should agree upon a definite date for a vote on the tariff bill and thereby pave the way for a longer recess.

NORTHWESTERN LINE FIGHTS FREIGHT CUT

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Declaring western trunk-line railroads have low rate and low earnings, P. F. Gault, commerce attorney of the Chicago and North Western System, today opposed before the Interstate Commerce Commission any reduction in freight rates on grain and grain products. He appealed before the commission in its investigation of grain rates as a farm-relief measure as directed by the Hoch-Smith resolution passed by Congress.

LOCARNO URGED FOR NEAR WEST

Amity Need Between Japan and China Stressed

Baron Shidehara Discusses Foreign Policies

Relations With United States Declared Friendly

[This is the last of four important interviews with Japanese statesmen written by Barnet Nover, for The Times and associated newspapers of the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

BY BARNET NOVER

TOKIO, June 14. (Exclusive)—The most important need in Japan's foreign policy now is the establishment and maintenance of cordial relations with China, according to Baron Kijuro Shidehara, former Ambassador to the United States and recently Japan's Foreign Minister.

To that end Baron Shidehara urges the establishment of a Near-Western Locarno in which political friendship between China and Japan will serve as the base for economic co-operation between the countries.

PEACE HELD VITAL

"Friendly relations with China," the Baron said to me, "are of the utmost importance to us, a matter of vital necessity. Without them we are doomed. It is my proudest boast that during my stay in office I did everything in my power to further such friendship.

"During the disorders of 1927 and particularly after the Nanking affair, which, as is now well known, was of Communist origin, demands were made in some quarters that a sharp ultimatum be sent by the powers to the Nationalist government. I was asked if I would give my consent and stand ready to permit the participation of Japanese troops if a punitive expedition were necessary.

"I opposed such a move. I felt that it would throw China into the hands of the Bolshevists. And I firmly believe I was right. For those guilty of the Nanking outrage have been punished, apology has been made to the powers, and all without intervention.

"Japan has no political aims in China. We should like to see China really united and will help in whatever way we can to achieve that. Co-operation between the two countries will work for the benefit of both.

RESOURCES UNDEVELOPED

"China has vast resources, for the most part undeveloped. She is not now and is not likely to be in the near future in a position to develop them herself, yet their development would prove a great boon to the country, would increase the national wealth and provide the government with increased revenues.

"Japan, on the other hand, lacks the raw materials China can in large part supply, but can give China manufactured goods her population needs. Economically we are natural allies. Once China gets over the fear that Japan has political aims in her territory the way will be paved for economic co-operation."

Asked his impression of the policy pursued toward China by the present government, which replaced that in which he served as Foreign Minister, Baron Shidehara replied that he is still in doubt what the government's policy actually is.

GOVERNMENT QUIZZED

"When the dispatch of troops to Shantung took place," he said, "I put a question to the government requesting to know whether that act was a demonstration of a 'strong' policy which, we had been led to believe, the government was preparing to adopt.

"But the government spokesman denied this. He said the troops had been sent only to protect lives and property of Japanese. What the government's policy, if policy at all, has been it is difficult to say."

In connection with the importance to Japan of developing friendly relations with China, Baron Shidehara pointed out that Japan's trade with her neighbor is capable of very great increase once the anti-Japanese movement ceases and China settles down to peaceful development.

"At the present," he explained, "our trade with China is only from 20 to 30 per cent of our total foreign trade. It is not as important to us, therefore, as our trade with the United States, which takes a much greater proportion of our exports. Yet the China trade is capable of great extension, and were China to buy more of our goods our present industrial depression would come to an end."

NO MANCHURIAN PROBLEM

Baron Shidehara denied that there is any such thing as a "Manchurian problem." That term, he said, is a misnomer. There is no desire on the part of Japan to prevent Manchuria from joining the Nationalist government or remaining under it. Japan's interests in Manchuria are purely economic and based on treaty rights.

"All Japan desires and insists upon," he added, "is that these treaty rights be maintained, whether they involve the leasehold of Port Arthur and Dairen, the control of the South Manchuria Railroad or anything else guaranteed by compact between Japan and China.

"With respect to this all classes of the population in Japan are in absolute agreement. But this, in my opinion and in the opinion of most other Japanese, does not in any way involve anything hurtful to legitimate Chinese interests."

CORDIALITY REIGNS

With respect to Japan's relations with the United States, Baron Shidehara said these are perfectly cordial.

"There was a time, shortly after the war," he remarked, "when as a result of Chinese propaganda in the United States and the activities of scaremongers, the situation between the countries might have been termed critical. Then came the Washington conference.

"I know that Secretary Hughes himself was not certain at the beginning that it would have so favorable an outcome. But it did. The tension was broken. Later, at the time of the earthquake, the great generosity, kindliness and sympathy displayed by the people of the United States made a profound impression upon us. And it was because of this impression that the difficulties over the immigration problem were not as serious as they might have been.

"We hope that some day the action then taken will be modified in the interests of our common friendship. For us it is not a question of the volume of Japanese who are to be permitted to emigrate to the United States. It is only a question of being singled out and receiving an invidious distinction. That is the only difference which divides us now. When it is wiped out our nations, already cordial, will approach an even finer stage in their relations, as fine as in the days of Townsend Harris."

HE'S A GUNNING FOR RADIO NOISE

Interference Inspector Put on Job in Sacramento By Council Order

SACRAMENTO, June 14. (Exclusive)—The last word in city jobs was spoken by the City Council last night with the creation of a radio interference inspector.

This official, whose salary is to be paid from fees assessed against radio dealers, will investigate complaints of abnormal radio interference, determine the cause and endeavor to correct the trouble. The dealers will pay a license fee of $100 per year.

Three Die and Seven Hurt in Dry Dock Blast

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—Three men were killed, two were seriously injured and five others slightly hurt in an explosion in a Brooklyn dry dock today.

The cause of the blast is undetermined.

The dead were Thomas Kennedy, Christerfer Kelly and Philip Burns, all of Brooklyn.

About fifty men were working in the bottom of the Robbins dry dock at the time, scraping the starboard side of the tanker Gulf Penn. It is believed that a leak in one of the compressed air lines might have caused a pontoon to explode.

Ship Lanes Free of Ice Menace

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—The menace of icebergs in the North Atlantic shipping lanes during the season of the year when tourist travel is at its height apparently is nonexistent this spring, in the opinion of Coast Guard officials.

Word that the sea routes are free from the ice menace was sent out today in a formal announcement by Coast Guard headquarters denying reports that the international ice patrol had charted more icebergs this year than since 1912, the year the Titanic sank.

PARENTS DELIGHTED

[illegible] June 14. (AP)—[illegible] French flyers aboard the Yellow Bird.

"My boy is a hero," shouted the father, who had relaxed after a sleepless vigil of twenty-four hours awaiting some word of the plane and its occupants, bound from Old Orchard, Me.

"Thank God, my boy is safe," said the mother, but she was relieved to hear that no harm had come to him or the trio whose involuntary guest he had been on the voyage. She still feels anxious for him and declared that she will be glad when he is home again.

Neither of the Schreibers has slept a wink since they received confirmation of the report that Arthur had gone on the Yellow Bird as a stowaway, but tonight they expect to get a good sleep.

"He's like all boys," replied the father, as he talked to reporters. "I know I did things that gave my father and mother anxiety when I was a boy."

FRENCH FLYER'S
PROPOSAL WORDLESS

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—It was a wordless proposal by which Jean Assolant, pilot of the Yellow Bird, won Pauline Parker, former New York chorus girl, for his bride a few days before he and his companions set off on their trans-Atlantic flight.

"We just looked at each other and knew," Mrs. Assolant said today.

Up to that point, she said, Jean had courted her with a French-English dictionary in his hand, while she held an English-French dictionary in hers.

"Jean knew only three English expressions," she said. "They were 'O.K.,' 'shut up' and 'show me.'"

HOOVER CABLES
HIS CONGRATULATIONS

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—President Hoover has extended congratulations to President Doumergue on the flight of the French aviators in the Yellow Bird.

J. Reuben Clark, Jr., acting Secretary of State, tonight instructed the American Embassy in Paris as follows:

"Please deliver the following message from the President to the President of the French republic:

''Upon the occasion of the magnificent flight across the Atlantic by your compatriots, I wish to extend to you and to the French people, as well as to the aviators themselves, my sincere congratulations and an expression of my admiration of their gallantry.'"

PARIS ARTISTS HOLD REVEL

Annual Dance by Students Given in Streets and Scenes Run Wild as Night Goes On

PARIS, July 14. (Exclusive)—All previous records for public bacchanalian orgies here were smashed tonight when more than 1000 art students and girl friends, after priming themselves generously with champagne, gave their annual frenzy known as the quat 'z arts ball.

The novel feature of this year's orgy was the fact that a goodly part of the spectacle was staged in the streets of Paris while the embarrassed gendarmes looked on sheepishly, instead of inside of heavily barricaded doors of Salle Wagram, where the affair was supposed to take place.

Shortly after the dinner hour the participants began appearing in Montparnasse cafés and on the main boulevards of the city in fantastic costumes. Although the "costumes" were supposed to represent the Minoan civilization of ancient Crete, in most cases they actually consisted of merely loin cloths and red paint.

STORM SALLE WAGRAM

The students put on exhibitions which, despite the chill nights, made the famous Folies Bergere shows look tame for the amount of bare flesh shown. A number of participants who were going in good form amused themselves and shocked the customers by their agility in running across the terrace tables, tipping over cups of coffee and glasses of beer in the process.

Shortly before midnight mobs of staggering art students began mobilizing before the doors of the Salle Wagram, where they were forced to give a series of passwords to the guards stationed at the intricate labyrinth entranse before they were permitted to enter.

A party of a dozen Americans clad in the regulation bare-skin costumes were rudely thrown out in the midst of the howling mob when they failed to produce the proper credentials. One American girl was divested of what little costume she wore and was forced to dash in the middle of the street for half a block in search of a taxi after being thrown out.

NUDE BLONDE ON AUTO HOOD

At the last minute a truck full of students drove up with a completely nude blonde sitting on the hood of the car. She was triumphantly carried into the hall, where the mobs from the streets cheered their approval.

In the early hours of the morning the traditional parade of the unclad dancers took place through the main streets of the fashionable Etoile district, while the complacent police held back the crowds and shunted the marchers around the tomb of the unknown soldier, but permitted those who wished to plunge in the fountains on the Place De LA Concorde for a sobering bath.

Negress at Tea Party Deplored by Texas Senate

AUSTIN Tex.) June 14. (Exclusive)—Several resolutions censuring and deploring the action of Mrs. Herbert Hoover in entertaining at tea the wife of Oscar Depriest, negro Representative from Illinois, were introduced in the State Senate today. The discussion of the incident lasted several hours and finally resulted in the elimination of the satirical expressions and the adoption of the more serious declarations of condemnation of the social event as one in which Mrs. Hoover recognized the negro woman as her social equal.

Senators Love of Dallas and Hyer of Fort Worth, the only members who voted for Hoover for President, joined with their colleagues in deploring the incident. Love declared that in placing the negro on social equality with her Mrs. Hoover endangered white civilization and did real harm to the black race.

SANTA CRUZ, June 14. (AP)—Mrs. Clara Hanrahan, Oakland, grand president, and all other grand officers were re-elected by the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society of California at the forty-second annual convention here today. San Francisco was chosen as the 1930 convention city.

FOUR BABIES IN A YEAR FOR TH' LOVE OF MIKE!

PHOENIX, June 14. (AP)—Mrs. Mike Cata of Phoenix believes Gov. Phillips should find her husband a job and advances four excellent reasons for his great need of work.

Three of the reasons are triplets which arrived via Stork Line, Unlimited, on May 24, last. The fourth is another little Cata delivered by the same line June 4, 1928, less than a year previously.

Mrs. Cata called today to see the Governor and tell him of Mike's plight and in the absence of the chief executive, who was busy dedicating the new Grand Canyon bridge over the Colorado River, she left a picture of the triplets to remind him that her husband really needs work.

Four babies in a little more than eleven months didn't seem such a chore to Mrs. Cata but she impressed on the attaches of the Governor's office that employment for her husband is imperative if the State expects any more records to be set by the Cata family.

BANKERS FAVOR NEW VIGILANTES

Committee Recommends Drive Against Banditry

Convention to be Asked for Reward Funds

Los Angeles County Hardest Hit by Robbers

SACRAMENTO, June 14. (Exclusive)—Modern vigilante committees to guard against bank robbers are recommended in a report of the protective committee of the California Bankers' Association and will be submitted to the convention of the body now in session here.

While the modern vigilantes will not be armed with ropes and the knowledge of a convenient tree and would-be deputy sheriffs, the report remarks that the plan "would give the bandit cause for anxiety about his personal safety."

The committee reports that sixty-one bank robberies occurred in California during the year ending May 24, last, resulting in a loss of $191,488. Thirty-eight of the hold-ups occurred in Los Angeles county and fifteen in other sections of California.

The vigilante plan, remarks the summary, has been introduced successfully in several States. The deputy sheriffs serve without pay and the banks in the community pay for the arms and ammunition. The deputies participate in the rewards for captures.

A revision of the present system of rewards, to provide additional amounts in unusual cases is recommended by the committee.

Referring to Texas where a $5000 reward is posted for a dead bandit but not a cent for a live one, the report says that bank robberies in that State have decreased sharply while attacks on California banks have greatly increased in number.

BANKERS WARNED OF FRUIT FLY PERIL

SACRAMENTO, June 14. (AP)—The greatest and most serious problem presented banking interests of the State, Will F. Morrish, president of the California Bankers' Association, declared today in addressing the organization in convention here, is the presence of the Mediterranean fruit fly in the United States and its possible invasion of California agricultural areas.

"Though our problems in finance, distribution and legislation are pressing," Morrish said, "a new problem far greater than any of these is threatening the very life of our agricultural industry.

WARNS OF FLY

"The Mediterranean fruit fly, the most serious and destructive of all fruit pests, has entered continental United States through Florida. Florida is fighting to eradicate this menace. But this is a national calamity which Florida should not be required to fight alone.

"Every State in the Union is interested—California particularly so—for the entry of the pest into California would mean the destruction of our greatest and most profitable industry and directly or indirectly at least one-half of our population would be affected," Morrish declared.

COMMENTS ON MERGER

"We as bankers must lead in organizing not only to protect our State from this disaster but to render Florida such aid, financial and otherwise, as she may need, for in fighting her battle she is also fighting ours," he continued.

Morrish, who is retiring as association president, took cognizance of the latest great merger—that of the Crocker First National Bank and the American Trust Company of San Francisco—by declaring that "to merge or not merge seems to be the question of the hour. How long we shall continue the expansion program no one knows. What its effect on future civilization will be, time alone will tell. But this one thing is certain: Unless we develop a leadership in our great enterprise based on the ideals of square deal, unless we can put soul into big business, it cannot long survive."

Resultant of the Crocker-American Trust merger, Harris C. Kirk, vice-president of the latter institution, was supplanted on the executive council of the association by R. B. Motherwell, vice-president of the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company of San Francisco.

DELEGATES CHOSEN

The association chose Will F. Morrish, retiring president of the State association, and A. C. Hughes, president of the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank of Salinas, as delegates to the national organization.

Other officers of the association elected to national organization posts were: State vice-president, W. B. Whitcomb, vice-president of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego; nominating committeeman, J. E. Huntoon, vice-president of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Bank, Sacramento; alternate, H. D. Ivey, City National Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles; State vice-president, J. H. Wilson, cashier San Bernardino County Savings Bank; State bank division, W. H. Thompson, vice-president of the California Bank of Los Angeles; trust bank division, W. J. Kieferdorf, vice-president Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Bank of San Francisco; national bank division, E. C. Frisbie, president of the Northern California National and Savings Bank at Redding.

German Court Bans American Talking Films

BERLIN, June 14. (AP)—The Provincial Court here today found American talking films are based on patents held by the German Tobis Syndicate, and that they cannot be [illegible]oduced or shown in Germany except under an agreement with the syndicate.

The suit had been brought by the electrical research production in an attempt to open German markets for the American films.

Swedish Plane Delayed Until End of Month

COPENHAGEN, June 14. (Exclusive)—Capt. Albin Ahrenberg will not take off from Reykjavik for the flight to New York before the end of the month, it was stated today.

He has sent to the German Junkers plant for new parts which will reach Iceland on the 23rd inst. aboard the steamer Queen Alexandria, and changing them for broken parts which are considered beyond repair, will take at least a week.

PROSPERITY AHEAD FOR PEACH GROWERS

ONTARIO, June 14.—Peach growers of this district face one of the best seasons in the history of Southern California peach growing, according to George P. Weldon, Chaffey pomologist. The warm days of this week have brought out the peaches in great shape, according to peach men, and earlier weather conditions were ideal to get the crop started off in healthy growth.

Apricots in this community are advancing satisfactorily and canneries are expected to start their annual runs about July 1. Bulk of the apricots will be dried but the canning season on peaches will be extended over quite a period, beginning late in July and continuing until early fall.

DRUNKEN DRIVER LOSES HOLIDAYS

LONG BEACH, June 14.—Grover C. Early's days off will be days in jail for three months under the terms of probation granted him this morning by Superior Judge Walter J. Desmond on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Under the probation Early will spend in jail the one day a week he gets off from his duties as an oil worker.

WORK ON POOL STARTS

FERNANGELES, June 14.—Work has started on the public swimming pool for this section of San Fernando Valley, and will be ready for use late in August, contractors state. The work will cost about $15,000, including the installation of a filtration system. Money for the pool and its site was voted by residents of the district in a bond election last year.

YOUNGSTERS AT BEACH

HERMOSA BEACH, June 14.—The first group of small vacationists from the Pasadena Training School arrived at the beach home of the school, 62 Eighth street, today. The children, who come in groups of fifteen for ten-day stays throughout the summer, will be in charge of Mrs. Margaret Jenkins of this place, and the school superintendent.

PEACH PRICES SET SKY-HIGH

Growers' League Decides to Ask $80 Per Ton

Small Crop Causes Action at Bay City Meeting

Canners Scheduled to Take Up Question Next Week

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14. (AP)—The board of directors of the California Canning Peach Growers' League today announced at a membership meeting that it has set a price of $80 a ton for No. 1 peaches and $80 a ton for No. 2's of the 1929 crop. These sums will be asked from canners.

S. C. Day, president of the league, announced these sums are in keeping with the crop conditions throughout the State.

Last year, the peach growers, after lengthy deliberations with canners and representatives of the State, received from $20 to $22 per ton for No. 1 peaches.

It is estimated that approximately 156,000 tons of cling peaches will be harvested this year. This will amount to approximately 7,000,000 cases, against a total production last year of 414,000 tons, 70,000 of which were not utilized. The case production for 1928 amounted to close to 15,000,000.

Approximately 2,500,000 cases of peaches are said to have been on hand at the opening of the 1929 season. This carry-over, it is pointed out, will give a total of 9,500,000 cases to meet market conditions in 1929.

If the growers receive $80 a ton for their crop, it will be the highest price obtained in eight years. In 1922 the grower received $60 per ton.

Day pointed out that practically every peach produced in California this year will be utilized. This situation, it is said, directly counteracts the predicament in which the growers have been for the last two years, when $22.50 and $20 per ton were the prevailing prices to the grower, and thousands of tons were allowed to rot on the ground.

When advised that the growers have set $80 a ton for the 1929 crop, officials of the Canners' League of California, stated "this price will be considered at an executive meeting to be held next week by members of the league."

Preston McKinney, president of the Canner's League, could not be reached for a statement regarding what is termed a "record price."

The $80 a ton, it is said, will apply to peaches not under contract. It is estimated that the growers under contract will receive approximately 85 per cent of the market price if that amount is agreed on.

TYPIST RULED MACHINE PART

Court Holds Operator in Libel Letter Action Not Person

VIENNA, June 12. (Exclusive)—That a typist is part of a typewriter was decided here in the case of Theodore Gellinek against Karl Denhardt. The court ruled that if a person writes a libelous letter to another person and dictates it to a typist, there is no criminal libel, since only two persons have knowledge of the letter's contents, namely the writer and the recipient, the typist being merely a part of the typewriter.

Religious Issue Solution Denied

MEXICO CITY, June 14. (AP)—Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz tonight issued a signed statement denying what he termed the fantastic story in a local newspaper saying that a detailed settlement of the religious problem already has been reached.

Neither the bishops nor President Portes Gil today continued the negotiations that had resulted in two meetings between them on two consecutive days. Outwardly at least there was no apparent change in the status tonight.

EXTRADITION GRANTED FOR MAGAZINE EDITOR

GREAT AUSTRIAN ACTOR DIES

VIENNA, June 14. (AP) — Max Devrient, considered Austria's greatest dramatic actor, died today at Chur, Switzerland, near the Austrian frontier. He was 72 years of age and had served forty-seven years in the national drama.

DAM CONTRACT AWARDED

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—A contract was let today by the War Department to the Utah Construction Company for the construction of the Red Butte Canyon dam at Fort Douglas, Utah. The bid was $235,000.

CANTON TROOPS RETAKE TOWN

Swatow Captured and Rebels Made to Retreat

Feng's Forces Still Occupy Tungkwan Position

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune]

SHANGHAI, June 14. (Exclusive) Cantonese troops supporting the central government, recaptured Swatow, forcing the Kwangsi troops previously controlling the city, to retreat into Fukien Province.

Owing to the Kwangsi forces recently evicted from Wuchow, located on the West River to the west of Canton, making a fresh stand in Central Kwangsi Province, Canton again is rushing reinforcements westward for the purpose of making a complete clean-out of the Kwangsi rebels.

The Cantonese first attacked the Kwangsites at Tenghsien, west of Wuchow, and failing to gain a decisive victory caused a dispatch to be sent for additional forces.

While reports from Peking indicate that Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang is planning to go abroad, Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek today announced that a government army of 300,000 is definitely advancing against Gen. Feng's forces, chiefly through Honan Province, under Gen. Chiang's personal command.

Gen. Feng's forces still are occupying the fortified position at Tungkwan, on the border of Honan and Shensi Provinces.

RED INVASION

Valencia Show Makes Profit

ANAHEIM, June 14.—Financially the 1929 California Valencia Orange Show was a success, although attendance was slightly under that of last year, according to a report today from Manager George W. Reid. Actual paid admissions this year were $54,828, which Reid says is approximately $1000 less than last year.

Receipts from commercial exhibits were enough larger to more than make up for the loss in attendance. The manager reports net profits will be slightly larger than last year.

Will you pay half the usual price for white, lovely teeth?

WOULDN'T you like to have snowy, gleaming teeth that are the admiration of others?

Wouldn't you like to attain them without a lot of tiresome scrubbing and rubbing?

Wouldn't you like to experience that delightful feeling of mouth exhilaration that you associate with the use of Listerine itself?

And wouldn't it please you to know that in getting these results you cut your tooth paste bill approximately in half?

If you've been using 50¢ dentifrices—and they are all good—switch to Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ the large tube. Look for the results we have outlined above. Like thousands of others, you will be convinced you have made a wise change.

Only ultra-modern methods of production and vast buying power make possible such a dentifrice at such a price. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Your tooth paste will buy you a "wave"

Women who know values choose Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ in preference to other dentifrices in the 50¢ class, and spend the saving to buy things they want. A wave, for example. The saving is $3 per year, figuring you use a tube a month.

Paramount Buys Columbia Broadcast Interest

Radio, Screen and Theater Programs Planned

Heads of Corporations Make Joint Announcement

ST. LOUIS, June 14. (AP)—The Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation has acquired a half-interest in the Columbia broadcasting system, it was stated in a joint announcement by the heads of the organizations issued tonight at the international convention of the Paramount company.

The announcement, authorized by Adolph Zukor, Paramount president, and William S. Paley, president of the broadcasting company, says the outright purchase, at an unannounced price, brings about a working arrangement which will bring radio, screen and stage together on a basis which will give the public the best features combined in those three forms of entertainment.

"The plan will involve mutual use of film and radio talent, to be booked through the Artists' Booking Office, which previously has operated only for the Publix Theaters, a subsidiary of Paramount.

"This arrangement will make available for air entertainment," says the announcement, "the Paramount personnel combined with the talent which is included in the stage presentations of Publix Theaters Corporation, which is Paramount's main subsidiary corporation. Likewise, many of the favorites of the air also will become available for visual entertainment through the screen and stage of Paramount, Publix and its allied interests.

"To Paramount's screen players recently have been added more than a score of stage personalities, including Hal Skelley, Mary Eaton and Maurice Chevalier."

Police Judge Assists Cupid

PORTERVILLE, June 14.—Cupid won a decision over an irate parent, when Anita Zertuche, local Mexican girl, and Adrain Landros, Mexican youth of Lompoc, were married by Justice of the Peace A. M. Lumley, ending court proceedings threatened by the girl's father.

Zertuche appeared before Police Judge Lumley the first of the week declaring Landros had kidnaped his daughter. Constable A. P. Maston and Zertuche located the missing pair in Selma and brought them back to Porterville. When Judge Lumley found the couple had filed their papers of intention to wed in Visalia last Friday, he advised the girl's father to drop charges against the youth and permit the marriage. The girl gave her age as 18, but her mother declared she was only 17. The young couple expect to make their home in Lompoc.

MOTORIST CHOOSES POLE AND LIVES

DELANO, June 14.—Given the alternative of driving head-on into a culvert or a telephone pole Millard Gibson, manager of the R. J. Gibson Concrete Pipe plant here, chose the telephone pole and miraculously escaped serious injury. Turning out to pass a truck on the Golden State Highway, three miles south of here, one wheel of his light roadster struck a rock and the car careened toward the culvert. Instantly he swerved and struck the pole. The crash ripped the entire right side of his automobile to pieces. The driver escaped with severe bruises and several broken ribs. Passing motorists rushed him to a hospital here for first-aid treatment and last night he was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gibson, in the Alta Vista tract.

BABY FINDS PLANE COMFORTABLE BED

HANFORD, June 14.—Barbara Jean Hawley, 6 months old, is the latest Hanford resident to become air minded. Barbara Jean accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hawley, from the Hanford Airport to Visalia last night, and found flying such a comfortable mode of travel that she passed into the land of nod on the trip, and landed in Visalia sound asleep on her mother's arm.

NEW BODY TO STUDY HAZARDS

Bakersfield Fire Bureau Expected to Make Study of Dangerous Structures

BAKERSFIELD, June 14.—Organization of the Bakersfield Fire-Prevention and Public Safety Bureau for the purpose of eliminating fire hazards and structural imperfections in buildings and other structures which constitute public hazards, was effected here today at a meeting attended by four city officials and representatives of various construction, plumbing and electrical trades.

William Eissler, building contractor, was named president of the organization, and William Fisher was elected as secretary, following which the purpose of the bureau and some of its future activities were briefly sketched and plans made for another organization and policy formation meeting to be held Thursday evening in the Builders' Exchange office in the Taylor Arcade Building.

One of the chief purposes of the newly formed organization is to cooperate with city officials particularly those of the fire, building and electrical departments, in study of city ordinances with a view to revising present regulations and formulating new ones which will be effective pertaining to fire and structural imperfections.

According to City Building Inspector F. H. Hubbard, who was among the group of city officials invited to attend the session, one of the chief aims of the bureau will be to formulate an ordinance governing heating gas installations and heating systems in the city. At present, the building ordinance has no clauses governing gas connections or calling for inspection of them, and a very real fire hazard exists, the inspector declared.

Exploding Tank Starts Brush Fire

EDISON, June 14.—An explosion that destroyed a small truck and started a forest fire in Kern River Canyon nearly cost the life of Marion Hooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hooper of Hobo Hot Springs yesterday, it was learned here today.

Young Hooper, who operates a trucking line between Bakersfield and the Hot Springs, was driving along the canyon highway when his gasoline tank exploded.

Enveloped in flames the machine careened across the road and the driver leaped from his seat just as the truck plunged over a precipice. It set fire to the underbrush as it fell and necessitated a call to the forest ranger on Mt. Breckenridge. Hastily recruiting a force of fire fighters he soon had the blaze under control.

Attacks Cited for Divorce

VISALIA, June 14.—A sharp butcher knife wielded by an irate spouse, if effective for mayhem, ought to be sharp enough to sever the bonds of matrimony, according to J. M. Burwell, who has filed suit for divorce.

Burwell asserts that his wife attacked him with a butcher knife, that she tried to stab him with a pair of scissors; that she smashed the door of their residence with a heavy piece of timber, that she threw a piece of iron through the windshield of the family automobile while he was in the car and last, but not least, she put sugar into the gasoline tank of said car in order to wreck the mechanism.

VETERANS PREPARE FOR EMERGENCIES

BAKERSFIELD, June 14.—When catastrophe or disaster strikes here, if it ever does, this city will not be caught unprepared. It was revealed at last night's meting of Frank S. Reynolds Legion Post, that the entire membership of the post has been organized into an emergency crew, subject to instant call. A test mobilization of these "minute men" is planned for an unstated day next week, C. K. Badger, chairman of the post's emergency committee, announced.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBER KILLED

CALCUTTA, June 14. (Exclusive) Ed Farmer, an employee of the Standard Oil Company of New York, was killed while attempting to reach the summit of Mount Kinchinjunga. When last seen he was climbing at a height of about 25,000 feet.

RADIO CHANNELS ABROAD ASKED

Universal Wireless Files Applications

Foreign Invasion Proposal Causes Surprise

Has Nation-wide System Under Construction

WASHINGTON, June 14. (Exclusive) — Successful in obtaining enough channels to start a nation-wide network of radio-telegraph stations to compete for traffic with the wire systems, the Universal Wireless Communications Company now has come to the Federal Radio Commission with applications for forty transoceanic channels with which to enter the international communications field.

The applications for the new radio company, which is backed largely by a closed corporation of Buffalo business men, were submitted through its Washington counsel, Edward E. Gann, the brother-in-law of Vice-President Curtis.

The decision of the Universal, the "dark horse" of radio, to enter the international field, came as a bombshell, especially in view of the tendency in this country to merge America's international radio system with its competing cables in order to present a stronger front in the struggle that is brewing in international communications between the unified systems of foreign countries and the competing systems of this country.

SECONDARY SYSTEM

The Universal's counsel told the commission that its transoceanic circuits would be used secondarily to the point-to-point domestic system, which it is establishing to serve 110 cities, covering every State in the country. Forty continental channels were allocated to the Buffalo company last December and specifically assigned only this week.

Dr. John Nathansohn, general representative of the company, said that tests between the New York and Chicago terminal stations will begin over the whole range of frequencies about July 1 and that a limited amount of traffic will be carried thereafter.

Plans of the company are to have about twenty-five of the stations completed and in operation before the end of this year, although the commission has required it to have only ten. All of the 110 stations must be completed and operating by the end of 1931.

CONTRACTS ABROAD

Internationally, the company says that it has contractual arrangements already for stations at Madrid and Buenos Aires and certain other places in South America. This is the Spanish-speaking field in which the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, which proposes to acquire the Radio Corporation of America if Congress will permit, has virtual control of the domestic telephone, telegraph and radio systems, so that Universal's advent into this field has occasioned great surprise.

Mr. Gann cites as one reason for the proposal to enter the transoceanic field in extension of the domestic the fact that Sec. 17 of the Radio Act prescribes the maintenance of competition between cables and radio and that "it is matter of common knowledge that a merger of the Radio Corporation of America with the International Telephone and Telegraph Company is in prospect."

Universal, he states, proposes to maintain the competition prescribed by the law. Today the Radio Corporation of America, through its subsidiary, R.C.A. Communications, Inc., has a monopoly of American international radio. It proposes soon to enter the domestic radio-telegraph field in competition with the Universal company by virtue of a grant of continental channels by the commission this week.

RADIO CORPORATION PLANS EXTENSIVE SYSTEM

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—Plans for the immediate establishment of a radio telegraph system serving the interior of the United States through fourteen cities were announced tonight by Gen. James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

R.C.A. Communications, Inc., Radio subsidiary, will operate the service. Stations will be at New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Denver, New Orleans, Kansas City, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis, Boston and Washington.

Gen. Harbord said he hopes to extend the service to the full twenty-nine cities listed in the application for air channels filed with the Federal Radio Commission. Other cities that justified a location in the new radio network, Gen. Harbord said, are: Philadelphia, Miami, Savannah, Minneapolis, Memphis, Pittsburgh, Houston, Norfolk, Buffalo, Portland, Me.; Rochester, Schenectady, Portland, Or., and Milwaukee.

PORTERVILLE LIONS TO SUPPLY ORANGES

PORTERVILLE, June 14. — Delegates to the Lions' International convention in Louisville, Ky., next week will be treated to some of Porterville district's choicest oranges. Howard Frame, past president and delegate from the local den, left for Los Angeles tonight to join the special train from San Francisco to Louisville. On California night at the convention, when Lions from California will appear in Spanish costume, the Porterville oranges will be distributed. Frame expects to be gone about two weeks.

TURKEY RAISERS MAY FORM POOL

PORTERVILLE, June 14. — W. B. Roby, manager of the Porterville Poultry Association, is attending a meeting of turkey raisers and dealers at San Bernardino. This gathering is held to consider formation of a pool of turkey men of the southern part of the State. If a pool is formed in Southern California as has already been done in the northern part of the State, a Central California pool may be organized with the local association taking the initiative.

SCRIPPS FACULTY GROWS

Closing Day Exercises at College Marked by Announcement of Honor and Prize Winners

CLAREMONT, June 14. (Exclusive)—The closing exercises of the second year since the opening of Scripps College were held this morning and were marked by the announcement of the addition of seven members of the faculty and the granting of honors and prizes.

The address was given by President Ernest J. Jaqua, who reaffirmed the ideals of the college as a waybreaker in the field of higher education for women.

Announcement was made of the appointment of Dr. Isobel Smith, recently dean of freshmen and professor of geology at Smith College, as dean of women. Other additions to the faculty will be made in the departments of drama, art, geography and economics, French, psychology and religion.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

The establishment of a new honor entitling recipients to be called Ellen Browning Scripps scholars was announced. The scholars of the current year are:

The continuation of the competitive scholarships won on entering and entitling the holders to a grant of $500 a year was announced as follows: Class of 1931, Nathalie Webb, Long Beach; Margaret Leopold, San Diego; Mary Fischer, Shenandoah, Iowa; Margaret Shirk, Claremont. Class of 1932, Kathryn Drake, Palo Alto; Emilie Paull, Palos Verdes Estates; Kathleen Rider, Hollywood; Irene Hinckley, Redlands.

COLLEGE HONORS

General college honors, a recognition of the all-around excellence and helpfulness throughout the college life, were awarded to Ida Swindt, Pomona, president of the student body; Ada Watkins, New York, class of 1931; Natalia Stone, Columbus, O., president-elect of the entering sophomore class; Mollie Clyde, Santa Barbara; Catherine Harwood, Pasadena.

The Crombie Allen prizes in English and journalism were granted to Anne Hopkins, Evanston, Ill., for the best lyric; to Helen F. Norton, Martha's Vineyard, Mass., for the best narrative poem; to Nathalie Webb, Long Beach, for the best composition in prose; and to Elizabeth Crawford, Detroit, Mich., for editorial work in journalism.

PLANS OF ROYAL MAIL LINE TOLD

Southern California Manager Makes Announcement

Fast Refrigerator Service to Europe on Program

Fleet of Eighteen Carriers to Ply in Trade

BY WALDO DRAKE

Plans of the Royal Mail Steam Packet and Holland-America Lines to maintain a joint twenty-four-day, fourteen-knot service out of Los Angeles Harbor to the United Kingdom and North Europe with a uniform fleet of eighteen refrigerator motorliners were disclosed yesterday by Charles J. Lehman, Southern California manager for Royal Mail-Holland-America Lines, upon his return from Europe.

Exports of Southern California citrus fruits and Pacific Northwest apples, together with passenger traffic, have enjoyed such splendid increases during the past several years on the European-Pacific range, according to Mr. Lehman, that directors of both Royal Mail and Holland-America have decided on establishment of the new express passenger-refrigerator line.

Holland-America Line's first fifteen-knot motorliner, the Delftdyk, is now completing in Rotterdam, said Mr. Lehman, and will arrive here on her maiden voyage in October, next. She will be the largest unit of the Holland-America fleet on this coast, displacing 19,000 tons and in addition to accomodations for thirty-four first-cabin passengers will have 250,000 cubic feet of refrigerator cargo space, with three refrigerator hatches. A second ship of the same capacity has been begun by Holland-America, and Royal Mail is building in England a similar motorliner for the service. In addition, the Royal Mail motorships Lochkatrine and Lochgoil and the Holland-America motorships Dinteldyk and Drechtdyk are to have their horsepower increased to bring them up to the new fourteen-knot standard.

The new service, said Mr. Lehman, will be operated under two classifications: "A" service, of eight passenger-refrigerator vessels, calling homeward at Liverpool, London and Rotterdam and outward to the Pacific Coast at Rotterdam and Swansea or Jamaica, alternately; and the "B" service, of ten freight refrigerator ships, calling homeward at Hamburg, Bremen and Antwerp and outward at Rotterdam and London.

Mr. Lehman, with his family, sailed for Europe from New York on April 27, last, aboard the new Holland-America liner Statendam on her maiden voyage. He held conferences with Holland-America officials at Rotterdam and in London with Royal Mail directors. Heads of both lines were enthusiastic, he said, over California's record citrus exports this season to the United Kingdom and Europe, of more than 1,000,000 boxes.

Tonight, the Royal Mail motorliner Lochgoil will sail for Liverpool and London after loading here 41,000 boxes of Valencia oranges and grapefruit. The big citrus shipment is being loaded at the rate of 1800 boxes per hour with new loading belts perfected by the Banning Company, stevedores. The Lochgoil is flagship of Royal Mail's Pacific service, being in command of Capt. Alexander Charles O'Hara Falconer, commodore of the line.

DIRECT SAILINGS TO MANILA STARTING SOON

Direct steamship service to Manila is to be inaugurated soon by the Matson Navigation Company, it was announced yesterday by J. B. Banning, Jr., general agent of the line. Mr. Banning stressed that the new service will clip four days from the present steaming time between Los Angeles and the Philippine capital by avoiding stops at Japanese and Chinese ports now included in trans-Pacific schedules. The new service is to make the trip to Manila in twenty-three days, with a ship leaving here every four weeks.

The first sailing of the new service will be the Maliko, leaving here July 6, followed at four-week intervals by the Maunalei and the Maunawili, all of 11,000 tons register, and all carrying refrigeration. They will carry freight, express and mail, but no passengers. All will make Manila as well as touching at Iloilo and Cebu.

Flagship of the Lassco fleet, the City of Los Angeles, will sail at noon today for Honolulu with 300 first-cabin passengers, including a party of seventy-five who are making a Lassco interisland tour, and several score school teachers going to the islands for vacation. California products among her 3000 tons of freight will include machinery, asphalt, citrus fruit, cement, clay products and cast iron pipe and a consignment of automobiles.

Among her passengers will be Bruce R. McBride, director of the Gildden Company of Honolulu, and Mrs. McBride; Jay G. Gilfillan, local radio manufacturer; Arthur May, petroleum geologist of Bakersfield; C. H. Greenwood, Tucson civil engineer, with his wife and son; Donald Fullerton, balloon manufacturer of Riverside, with his wife and daughter; John Quinton, local civil engineer, and Mrs. Quinton, and Moreland R. Stafford, San Diego aviator.

Three unlighted navy target rafts have been reported adrift southwest of South Coronado Island by the submarine S-29, according to a notice issued yesterday by the local hydrographer, Lieutenant-Commander R. J. Weeks, U.S.N. They are a distinct menace to navigation, according to the commander of the submarine, who reported that on the morning of the 13th inst. they were four miles southwest of South Coronado Island.

Ten thousand boxes of oranges and lemons were loaded aboard the Admiral liner H. F. Alexander in six hours yesterday, for Seattle consignees, in addition to 500 tons of general freight. The big express liner brought in 183 passengers yesterday morning from Seattle and San Francisco and took out 230 travelers last night for the north. Among the arrivals were H. K. Dent, Seattle insurance executive, and Maj. Frank R. McReynolds, Pacific Coast prohibition administrator.

One hundred and fifty passengers went to Ensenada last night aboard the Admiral liner Emma Alexander on a week-end excursion.

The schooner Mary Pinchot, on which former Secretary of the Interior Gifford Pinchot and his family are making a two-year cruise around the world, en route here from the Canal, yesterday radioed that she was 300 miles off Cocos Island and will stop at Galapagos Islands before coming to the Coast. She was formerly the yacht Cutty Sark, then owned by Alexander Smith.

The naval tanker Ramapo returned in ballast yesterday from Manila after taking out fuel oil for the Asiatic fleet. She will lie at anchor here for a fortnight for cleaning and voyage overhaul, loading out again on July 1.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

OFFICERS PONDER DEATH EVIDENCE

Mrs. Reeda Taylor
Nineteen-year-old bride of Nevada surveyor, who was found fatally wounded early yesterday morning in mother's home at San Bernardino.

Boy Will Give Good Old Dad Thump in Back

VAN NUYS, June 14. — Father's Day is to be observed here next Sunday, and about all dad is to expect, so a short survey discloses, is a lot of handkerchiefs and neckties.

To carry out the sentiment, the churches here are to hold services commemorative of the occasion, and Boy Scouts and other boys have been asked to come to church and bring dad with them.

According to several merchants they have made more than ordinary sales of handkerchiefs, "but," said one haberdasher here, "the biggest run seems to be on neckties, though lounging robes, cigar lighters, socks and fountain pens are in the running."

One Boy Scout here, whose father is a member of the local Kiwanis Club, gave expression to a sentiment that shows the quality of the close relationship today between the average high-class boy and his father. He said:

"My dad is more like a big brother to me. We bum together, go fishing together and fight out my school lessons together each night. He's a regular guy. On Father's Day I will feel silly handing him a necktie. I'm just going to walk up to him, thump him a good whack in the back and tell him he's a good scout and I'm proud of him."

NECESSITY CITED FOR VEGETATION

GLENDALE, June 14.—This city's need for a constructive conservation policy to restore the vegetation swept from its watersheds by two disastrous brush fires within the last six years and to protect its water supply was discussed by Harold Ide Cruzan, former police judge of Eagle Rock, in an address before the Kiwanis Club today.

"Aside from planting a few trees on some of the city's streets and in the school grounds, Glendale has done nothing to meet the problem that is costing the city thousands of dollars each year, in removing the debris that is swept down by the rains," he declared.

POMONA ALUMNI GATHER

Former Students at Claremont Institution Meet Today for Annual Parade and Festivities

CLAREMONT, June 14.—Graduates and ex-students of Pomona College, numbering more than 1000, are expected to return to their former campus haunts tomorrow to celebrate the annual Pomona College alumni day which opens with a parade at 10 a.m. and closes in the evening with a dance on the Sixth-street tennis courts.

The Los Angeles Polytechnic High School Band will lead the parade, which will be featured by the stunts and activities of the reunion classes, which this year are the classes of 1894, 1895 and 1896, and 1912, 1913, 1914 and 1915, and the twenty-five-year reunion class of 1905. Reunion lunches will be held at noon for these classes.

An alumni rally meeting will be held at Holmes Hall auditorium beginning at 10:30 a.m., which will be presided over by "Tack" Spoor of Santa Barbara, with brief talks by Dean William E. Nicholl, Dean Jessie E. Gibson and Marcus Stanton, student body president.

The afternoon will be devoted to tours of the Pomona and Scripps campuses, led by President C. K. Edmunds, Earl Merritt and Dean Nicholl; an organ concert in Bridges Hall by Loren Adair; a faculty-alumni tea, and reunions of the men's and women's glee club. The Indian Hills golf course will be open without charge to all members of the alumni association, and visitors for special matches.

The feature event of the day is the annual alumni banquet at which more than 500 are expected. It will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the Guild Hall. Music will be provided by the Florence Duvall Trio, and the speakers will be Leonard Withington of the 1904 class, who is chairman of the Republican Committee of Texas; Keith Powlison of Claremont Colleges, and Miss Charlotte Neely, recently of China. President Edmunds will speak on the recent college year and plans for the future.

Death Conquers Dauntless Spirit

GLENDALE, June 14.—Carl W. Anderson, 34 years of age, a native of this city and a merchant who conducted a prosperous business from an invalid's wheel chair, died last night at his home, 107 South Isabel street, the house in which he was born in 1895.

Anderson was injured while a student at Occidental College and since then had been confined to his wheel chair, but in spite of this handicap he built up a dry goods business on East Broadway.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the First Lutheran Church and interment will be made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Large Paving Job Ready to Start

CAHUENGA PARK, June 14.—Announcement is made today by Will F. Peck, contractor, that work will start next week on the paving and widening of Ventura Boulevard, between Pacoima avenue and Sepulveda avenue. He states that traffic will not be stopped or rerouted on the highway. Concrete will be laid on each side of the present paving with a new surface of asphalt between, laid on top of the old paving. Each strip of this work will be completed at a time, in order not to interrupt the flow of travel.

PASADENA WOMEN LAUDED FOR WORK

PASADENA, June 14.—Appreciation for the work done by Mrs. Clara B. Burdette of this city, in interesting women in all parts of the world in the General Federation of Women's Clubs is given in an article that appeared recently in the New York Herald-Tribune. The article, written by Miss Vella Alberta Winner, formerly of this city and now at the Federation headquarters in Washington, notes that, through Mrs. Burdette's efforts, the organization now has sixty-seven clubs located in twenty-two foreign countries.

FREE CONCERTS AT CHAFFEY CONCLUDED

ONTARIO, June 14.—Under direction of Fred Wilding, Jr., Chaffey Little Symphony Orchestra concluded its season of free concerts at Chaffey Union High School last night. Mrs. Grace C. Mabie, concert pianist, was featured as a soloist. Dr. Morton E. Hill, principal of Chaffey school, in an address of appreciation, lauded the orchestra and Director Wilding for their efforts in bringing the best there is in music to the community, and giving it to the public without charge.

DRIVER HELD AFTER CRASH

Santa Anan Accuses Long Beach Man of Wrecking His Machine by Intoxicated Recklessness

SANTA ANA, June 14.—Cecil Coffman, 30 years of age, oil refinery employee of Long Beach, was in the County Jail today facing a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, while J. P. Furr, of this city was contemplating the wreck of his new coupe, damaged in a collision with Coffman's car on Ocean avenue, two miles west of Garden Grove, yesterday.

Furr, in causing the arrest of Coffman and his companion, Norval W. Ough, 30, Wilmington oil worker, who was charged with intoxication, declared that Coffman was driving on the left-hand side of the highway. Furr said he swerved to the left, trying to escape, but Coffman's car smashed the side of Furr's machine. No one was injured.

Furr, after the collision, took a revolver from Coffman's pocket. Coffman subsequently produced a permit from the Sheriff's office of Los Angeles county, authorizing him to carry the weapon.

ISOLATED DANCE PUT UNDER BAN

Orange County Permits for Roadside Cafes Refused by Board of Supervisors

SANTA ANA, June 14. — A blow to dancing at roadside cafes was delivered by the County Supervisors who today refused to renew the dance-hall permit of the Bear Cafe at Westminster, and rejected three other applications for the opening of dance halls in the county.

Declaring that, inasmuch as the public dance halls are open in the cities and conveniently available to the public, they could see no necessity for "scattering" them outside of the cities, where supervision is more difficult, the Supervisors made a clean sweep of all petitions that came before them. Members of the board are known to frown upon the general practice of conducting dancing at roadside cafes, or isolated rural points.

Besides refusing the petition of A. F. Nash, proprietor of the Bear Cafe, the board rejected petitions of F. O. Prather, Sunset Beach; Jesus Valencia and E. Rosales, both of La Jolla, a Mexican settlement near Placentia.

Nonagenarian Pioneer Finds End of Trail

GLENDALE, June 14. — Funeral services for Samuel David Newbill, 95 years of age, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. K. Appenfelder, Wednesday, will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Newbill had been a resident of California since 1853, when he crossed the plains with an ox-wagon train, arriving in Sacramento seventy-six years ago. After engaging in mining and later in stock raising in the Suisun district, he came to Los Angeles in 1864, farming in the San Fernando Valley.

Some years after arriving in Southern California he entered the ministry and was active as an evangelist, traveling through many States and foreign countries to preach. Three years ago he disposed of his home in North Hollywood to move to here. In 1854 Newbill married Miss Mary Ossars, nine children being born, of whom eight are still living.

Extension of Sea Wall Asked

SANTA BARBARA, June 14.—Permission to add 800 additional feet to the eastern end of the breakwater and 500 feet on the western section has been asked by the Board of Harbor Commissioners from the War Department, it was learned yesterday when records were filed in the office of the County Clerk.

E. W. Alexander, chairman of the Harbor Commission, said last night that application for the extensions was made to prepare for future expansions of the sea wall beyond its completed length of 1800 feet, when necessary. The application was made in conjunction with that for addition of the 600-foot length made possible by Maj. Max Fleischmann's second donation of $250,000, now under construction. Completion of the 1200-foot length, financed by Fleischmann's original gift of $200,000 and the city's $200,000 bond issue, has been recognized by the Harbor Commission.

NEWPORT BAY SITE FOR PARK STUDIED

SANTA ANA, June 14.—The State Park Commission is considering the head of Newport Bay as a site for a State park and is anxious to learn whether its plans might be blocked by commercial development of tidelands owned by the county at that point, it was disclosed today in a letter received by County Clerk J. M. Backs from William E. Colby of San Francisco, chairman of the commission, who made known the commission's hopes regarding the local site and said he "assumed that Orange county would welcome a State park." Backs notified Colby that no plans have been made.

INQUEST TODAY IN INDIAN STABBING

ESCONDIDO, June 14.—An inquest into the death of Romaldo Calac, young Indian of the Rincon reservation, who died from wounds apparently inflicted with a knife Wednesday on the Valley Center grade, will be held here tomorrow at 10 a.m., Coroner Kelly said today. Alexander Calac, a brother of the death man, and Willie Calac, a cousin, are being held in the County Jail in connection with the case. The wounds which caused the Indian's death were inflicted during a fight in which the trio participated, Coroner Kelly said he learned.

GRANITE BASE FOR PIER

LONG BEACH, June 14.—Twenty-seven hundred tons of granite boulders are being dumped into the new horseshoe pier daily, the City Council was informed today in a communication from the contractor asking that time for completing the work be extended.

TREE SYMBOLS OF STARS SET

Pasadena B.P.O.E. and Legion Observe Flag Day

Redlands Notes Patriotic Date With Program

Redondo Elks Plan Service Sunday Afternoon

PASADENA, June 14.—Dedication of thirteen cypress trees symbolic of the stars in the first American flag, a parade of veterans and patriotic exercises marked the observance of Flag Day in this city today. The thirteen trees, bordering Rosemead avenue, near the Rose Bowl, were dedicated by the local D.A.R. chapter.

The parade of three divisions marched from Colorado street and Delacy avenue to the City Hall, where Dist.-Atty. Fitts addressed 2000 persons seated in chairs placed in front of the main entrance. Joseph L. Kragh, Past Exalted Ruler of the Elks, recounted the history of the flag.

In the afternoon, Allen B. Bixby, past department commander of the American Legion, was the principal speaker at Flag Day exercises held in Patriotic Hall under the auspices of veterans' groups. M. H. Halsey, patriotic instructor of the local G.A.R. post, presided.

The final event was the graduation of new citizens from the Garfield School's Americanization class.

COL. SMITH SPEAKS IN REDLANDS BOWL

REDLANDS, June 14.—The annual Flag Day services of the local Elks' lodge were held in the bowl tonight with a large crowd present. Cleo Burris, Exalted Ruler, and officers had charge of the ritual. Henry G. Clement gave the flag history and the speaker was Lieut.-Col. Leroy Smith of Los Angeles.

BEACH LODGE DEFERS PROGRAM TILL SUNDAY

REDONDO BEACH, June 14.—Flag Day will be observed by the local lodge of Elks in services set for Sunday afternoon at the Elks' clubhouse. Judge Robert L. Hubbard will give the patriotic address and the history of the flag, and altar services of the lodge ritual will be carried out by the officers. The services are public and all civic and fraternal organizations are to be represented.

Sierra Madre Play Repeated

SIERRA MADRE, June 14.—"Kindling," a play in three acts, will be given its second showing tomorrow night by the Sierra Madre Community Players at the Woman's clubhouse. Mrs. Cecily Allen, one of the founders of the local players' organization, is directing the production.

The Community Players, nineteen in all, were organized last November and since that time have presented three productions. "Kindling," a more serious play than their previous offerings, affords the cast ample opportunity to display their dramatic talent.

Miss Mary Allen as Maggie Schultz with Wilfred Gruit as her husband, Heinie Schultz, present in a gripping fashion problems resulting from life in an unsanitary and neglected New York tenement.

CIVIC FIESTA AT BEAUMONT TONIGHT

COMPLETION OF NEW STREET IMPROVEMENTS NOTED IN PUBLIC CELEBRATION

BEAUMONT, June 14.—Celebrating the completion of $60,000 worth of street improvements last week and at the same time giving entertainment to the cherry visitors, the Chamber of Commerce has arranged a large street dance for tomorrow night. A six-piece orchestra has been engaged for the night.

The new ornamental street lights in the business district and on Palm avenue, in addition to the new curbs, sidewalks and paving were rushed to completion in time for the June cherry crowds, which are regular Southern California features.

Splendid camp ground and hotel accommodations lead groups to attend the dance and visit the groves on Sunday.

The ripe cherry orchards are one of the most beautiful sights in the State and may be seen at their best at any time within the next two weeks.

SCARED CAT ROOSTS ON POLE THREE DAYS

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, June 14. The way of a dog with a cat, also is hard to understand. A pup chased a cat to the top a high-tension wire pole on Chandler Boulevard near Vineland avenue, and then went on his way. After staying on top of the pole for three days, afraid to come down, the cat was rescued today by an Edison Company lineman. The feline was still so frightened when approached by the lineman that the latter was forced to throw a bag over the cat before he could bring it down.

GOODWILL REOPENS SANTA ANA BRANCH

SANTA ANA, June 14.—A local branch of the Goodwill Industries of Southern California will reopen in its new location, 415 West Fourth street, with greatly enlarged facilities tomorrow morning. Two buildings will be occupied, the one at the above address by the Goodwill store, and immediately opposite on Fifth street, a large building, 50x125 feet, will be occupied by the industrial plant and men's dormitory.

EARLY LIFE TO BE RETOLD

Program at San Gabriel Mission Asistencia Will Feature History of Indians and Fathers

REDLANDS, June 14.—On the grounds of the San Bernardino Asistencia of Mission San Gabriel at Mission Road and Nevada street there will be an assembly of historical significance Sunday at 4 p.m. A program will be given that will carry the thoughts of those present back 100 years when the mission, then a new outpost in the wilderness, was the assembly place for members of the faithful and for the Indians of the valley.

The early history of the Indians of the valley will be reviewed and Indians from the San Manuel reservation will be guests of the San Bernardino Historical Society, which is sponsoring the meeting. Chief Roy Manuel will tell the story of his people as learned from his ancestors and handed down from one generation to another. A skilled Indian woman will demonstrate the process of making baskets and Miss Emma L. Jackson will speak on design in Indian basketry.

A display of baskets is to be shown by George Loring of Riverside and Dr. Clara Stillman of Palm Springs will tell of the early traces of Indians and their present-day habits about Palm Springs and also show baskets made at the Palm Springs reservation.

Catucka, a Hopi singer, is to give several vocal selections. The invitation is general for those interested in the things that gave the valley its early touch of romance, whether members of the historical society or not. The work of restoration is well along on the old mission ruins, even to better condition probably than the mission fathers had hoped before the station was abandoned some hundred years ago. Juan Cruz Roche, Mexican potter, has a large display of his wares on exhibition.

FINE DOGS IMPERILED BY CRASH

Machine Bearing Animals to Del Monte Show Struck by Truck on Bridge

VENTURA, June 14.—One thousand dollars worth of blue-blooded cocker spaniels were jeopardized this morning and the lives of five or six people were endangered, when a truck crashed head-on into a machine driven by Mrs. Mary K. Cobb of Hollywood on the Ventura River bridge, west of the city.

No one was injured and no dogs were hurt, although one was threatened with a nervous breakdown and fidgeted fretfully at the delay which kept him from taking his bench at the Del Monte show.

The car was a large sedan occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ives Cobb of Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Neill of Altadena, and a Filipino attendant for the dogs. The party was en route to Del Monte with four dogs to be entered in the show there.

The prized dog, on which hopes for a blue ribbon at Del Monte are principally based, is Yuen, ten months old and black, which was best puppy and reserve winner at the last Pasadena show, when six months old. He is valued at $350.

Costs Slashed by Hospital at Pasadena

PASADENA, June 14.—Through adopting recommendations made as a result of an investigation conducted by the research department of the California Taxpayer's Association, annual savings amounting to $40,000 have been effected in the operation of the Pasadena Hospital, it was announced today.

A large part of the economies followed the dismissal of more than twenty employees and officers of the institution and consequent reduction of the pay roll.

Dr. Charles D. Lockwood, chairman of the committee investigating the training school problem, reported today that the committee has adopted a program that will effect a net saving of $10,000 a year without impairing the school's efficiency.

POMONA TO NOTE CHILDREN'S DAY

POMONA, June 14.—Observing National Children's Day, a community picnic, sponsored by the city administration, will be held Saturday at Ganesha Park, thousands of children and parents being expected to attend. Acting as chairman, Mayor C. C. Caves has outlined a comprehensive program of sports, talks and refreshments, the affair beginning at 10 a.m. and lasting all day, culminating in a swimming meet at the municipal plunge. Various prizes have been put by merchants. Each person must bring lunch, the park department furnishing coffee.

El Centro Fire Damage $50,000

EL CENTRO, June 14. (AP)—Fanned by a strong west wind fire tonight destroyed the Degusta Machine Shop, the Brickson Iron Works and several small machine shops. The loss was estimated at $50,000, water was poured on adjoining apartment-houses, which were threatened, for more than an hour.

DRIVER ESCAPES IN CROSSING COLLISION

VENTURA, June 14.—L. R. Boyer of this city had a narrow escape from death or serious injury yesterday when his light touring car was struck by a freight train at the Seaward-avenue grade crossing and was demolished. Boyer was cut and bruised.

JUDGE FLEMING ASSIGNED

LONG BEACH, June 14.—Judge John Fleming, now sitting in Superior Court at Los Angeles, has been assigned to the new third department of the Superior Court here, which will open Monday, according to announcement today by Presiding Judge Arthur Keetch.

Wires Declared Airport Menace at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, June 14. — The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce today instructed the aviation committee to make a survey of the area in the vicinity of Lindbergh Field and make a report on the location and number of power telegraph and telephone lines which it is proposed to eliminate to reduce the hazards of flying near the municipal airport. The result of this survey is to be read to the board at their next meeting.

The question of limiting the height of buildings and chimneys in the vicinity of Lindbergh Field was referred to the City Planning Commission for action and recommendation.

The board voted to request the City Council to have the city bear the expense of grading and scraping Ryan Field at periodic intervals until the municipal airport is ready for extensive commercial air traffic. At the present time there are many chuck holes at the Ryan field, which offer undue hazard. The soft sand also offers additional handicap and danger to large transport planes, the chamber was informed.

Horses Not Air-Minded

GLENDALE, June 14.—The days when teams hauling farm wagons were liable to furnish some excitement on the streets were recalled today when a team drawing a farm wagon bolted on Sonora avenue when a low-flying airplane, making a landing at the Grand Central Air Terminal, frightened the animals.

George Nelson of Burbank was seriously injured when he fell beneath the wagon and was dragged for thirty feet, and Hugh Burnett, also of Burbank, was injured in the runaway. The men were given medical treatment and sent home. When the team bolted along Sonora avenue automobile traffic was crowded off the street.

WOMAN PURCHASES APARTMENT-HOUSE

GLENDALE, June 14.—Sale of the Louise-Dryden Apartment-house at 1105 North Louise street, to Mrs. Daisy Degelman of Westwood Hills is announced by L. H. Wilson, 1530 South San Fernando Road, owner of the building. The consideration is given as $140,000 with Wilson taking the Degelman home in Westwood at a consideration of $65,000 and other property here as well as a substantial sum in cash. The Louise-Dreyden was erected two years ago and is rated as one of the most modern apartment-houses in the city. Mrs. Degelman plans to hold it as an investment.

NEWMAN TO FIGHT FLY

SANTA ANA, June 14.—Orange county will be represented by Carl V. Newman of Irvine, manager of the San Joaquin Fruit Company, in the State War College of Quarantine and Pest Control, organized to direct defensive warfare against invasion of the Mediterranean fruit fly. He was appointed today by the County Supervisors.

"VISITING SHRINER" HELD

Asserted ex-Convict Said to Have Victimized Alhambrans During Recent Convention

ALHAMBRA, June 14.—Walter S. Rudisill, 44 years of age, who is said to have posed as a "visiting Shriner" and to have cashed many worthless checks in Southern California cties during the recent Shrine convention, today was held for trial in the Superior Court at a preliminary hearing before Police Judge H. S. Farrell here. Bail was fixed at $4000 and Rudisill was returned to the County Jail.

Bank tellers and local businessmen with whom Rudisill had developed a quick acquaintance appeared as State witnesses to identify asserted worthless checks written by Rudisill using the names of James H. Harvey, A. L. Graham and other aliases. He did not have an attorney and offered no defense.

Rudisill is also said to be wanted in San Diego on similar charges. He was paroled, records show, from the Washington State penitentiary in 1915 by President Wilson. He was then serving a life term on a habitual criminal conviction.

BUSY SCHEDULE FOR SAN DIEGO

Long List of Conventions Planned for Summer

Birthday Celebration Set for Middle of July

Veterans and Realty Men to Hold State Sessions

SAN DIEGO, June 14.—San Diego will offer an unusual number of attractions for vacationists and tourists this summer and autumn, according to a statement today by the convention department of the Chamber of Commerce.

Two military conventions and a historical celebration featuring the 160th anniversary of the founding of the city are scheduled for July and August.

The Southern California Art Salon will be open until August 31 in the Fine Arts Gallery, Balboa Park. During this period there will be on exhibition more than 110 paintings and various pieces of sculpture, the handiwork of some of the foremost artists in the United States.

SUNSET SYMPHONIES

The third season of sunset symphonies opens July 21, at the Balboa organ pavilion. These concerts, directed by Nino Marcelli, will be held every Sunday afternoon throughout the summer and early autumn.

Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of California and Nevada, will hold their convention here the 26th to 29th inst. Approximately 3000 delegates will attend. Eugene Carver of Boston, national commander, will preside. The program provides for daily band concerts in the Plaza and a parade of all military and naval units the 27th inst.

What is expected to prove one of the largest glider meets held in the United States will take place July 4 to 7 at Pacific Beach. At least a dozen gliders will compete in distance, altitude and duration contests. There also will be a flower show, motorcycle rodeo and yacht races.

The Coronado horse show, one of the big social events of the summer season, will be held July 27-28.

The principal local celebration will be the event commemorating the 160th anniversary of the founding of San Diego on July 16. Representatives of the Spanish, American and Mexican governments will attend the dedication, by the San Diego Historical Society, of the Junipero Serra Museum on Presidio Hill. A historical pageant depicting Indian life of Old California and the coming of Spanish soldiers, sailors and priests into this new land will precede the dedication.

LEGIONNAIRES COMING

Twenty thousand Legionnaires from all sections of California are expected to attend the American Legion convention August 19 to 21. The convention will be featured by a military and naval parade in which more than 25,000 soldiers, sailors, marines and ex-service men will be in the line of march and by an aerial review of 250 fighting, bombing and scouting planes of the aircraft squadrons, battle fleet.

Another important convention will be that of the California Real Estate Association, October 9 to 12. This will be immediately followed by the State convention of the California Traffic Officers' Association and by the national convention of the Better Business Bureaus.

An outstanding aquatic attraction will be the Silver Gate swim here Sunday, the 23rd inst. Swimmers totaling more than 300 and representing athletic clubs throughout the West and Canada have filed entries. The scene of the unique race is at the mouth of San Diego Harbor.

Copley Holdings Will Not Affect Press-Telegram

LONG BEACH, June 14.—Control and policy of the Long Beach Press-Telegram, afternoon newspaper, will not be affected by the option on 1088 shares of the 5000 shares of the corporation which Col. Ira C. Copley revealed he holds in testimony given at Washington, an editorial in the newspaper today declares.

The editorial states that owners of the majority of the stock had no intimation of the option until Col. Copley so testified. Col. Copley owns the Long Beach Morning Sun, the other daily newspaper published here.

ONTARIO LODGEMEN TO VISIT ORPHANS

ONTARIO, June 14.—Members of the Masonic Lodge and Order of the Eastern Star here plan their annual good-will visit to the Masonic Orphans Home at Covina Sunday under direction of William E. Nugent, master of the Masonic Lodge and Mrs. Anna Mary Beck, matron of the O.E.S. chapter. The members will take gifts of jellies, jams and canned fruits to leave with the children. They will assemble at Masonic Hall here at 1:30 p.m., and move in a caravan to the home. Arthur Francis is in charge of transportation.

RANCHER ARRESTED FOR WASTING WATER

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, June 14. Following a complaint to police, George Keyes, a rancher, was taken to court, where he pleaded guilty to a charge of allowing irrigation water to waste and flood a public highway. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or spend ten days in jail by Police Judge Thompson at Van Nuys. The sentence was suspended on condition that Keyes hereafter show more care in watering his place.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

At Sidi-bel-Abbes, Tarzan soon became a great favorite with the French garrison. Among the officers he met was the very man he had been ordered to track. For a month nothing of moment happened. Then orders came to move into the desert far to the south. Promised some lion-hunting, Tarzan gladly joined the expedition.

Tarzan, as he mounted his horse, caught a brief glimpse of a strangely familiar figure eyeing him from a native house. Later he noticed the fellow in whispered conversation with the suspected lieutenant. Here was something that would bear watching. The march into the desert continued, and he saw neither of them for two days.

Market day at Sidi Aissa brought camel caravans in from the desert. Fascinated at these new sights, Tarzan lingered a day's march behind the soldiers. Before leaving the bazaars he hired a youthful Arab as interpreter and servant. Toward nightfall, Abdul plucked at Tarzan's sleeve, whispering, "Look, Master."

"Behind us," Abdul pointed at a figure disappearing in the shadows. "He has been following us about all afternoon." Tarzan caught a glimpse of an Arab in a blue burnoose and white turban. "He is hiding his face. That is not the way with honest Arabs. He is bad!" said Abdul scornfully.

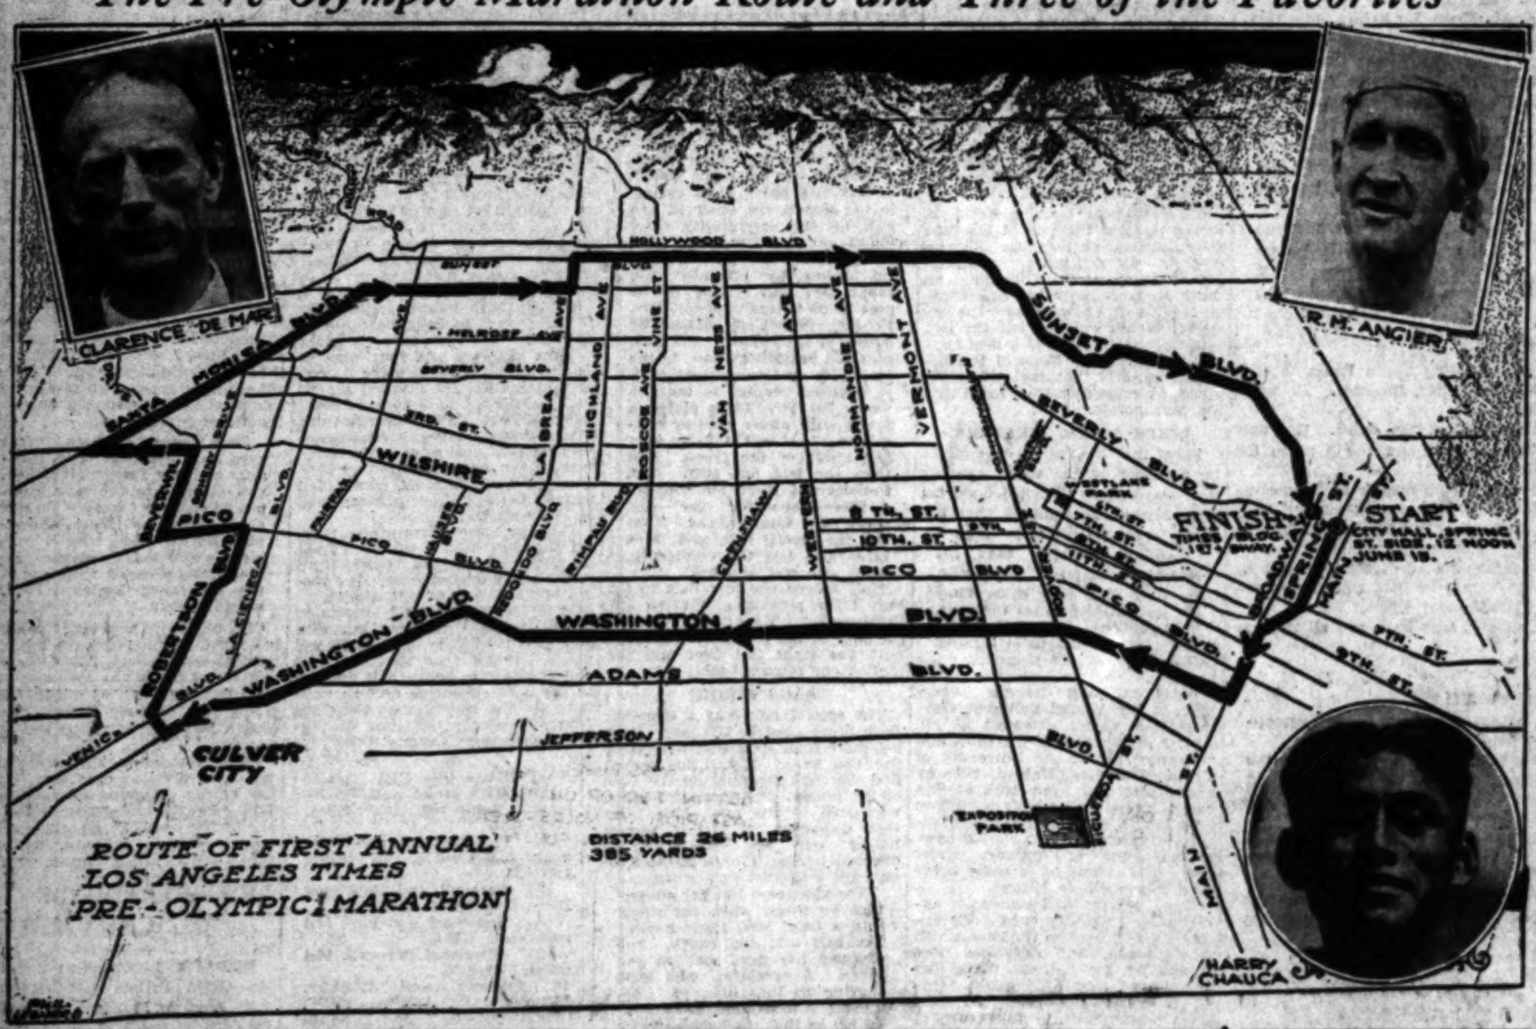
The Pre-Olympic Marathon Route and Three of the Favorites



REDSKINS MAY EXTEND EASTERN DISTANCE ACE

More Than 50 Athletes Slated to Face Starter's Gun at Noon in Front of City Hall

BY BRAVEN DYER

Distance running as it is practiced by the simon-pures comes back into popular favor here today with the staging of the first annual Times Pre-Olympic Marathon.

More than fifty runners are scheduled to face the starter's gun on the Spring-street side of the City Hall when the race officially gets under way at noon. The route is the full marathon distance, twenty-six miles and 385 yards, with the finish slated for around 2:45 at The Times.

CHARLEY KEPPEN

Years ago distance running was all the rage here, but interest in the long grinds gradually died out. Because the West has never produced any marathon runners of any consequence and because the 1932 Olympic Games are to be held here The Times is sponsoring today's race with the hope that this year's gallop and the others prior to 1932 will perhaps bring out material capable of aiding the United States in the distance runs.

DE MAR FAVORED

Today's field includes America's outstanding marathon star, Clarence De Mar of Melrose, Mass. Three times a member of the Olympic team, De Mar stands head and shoulders above any other distance runner in the country. He may be aging a bit, but so far he hasn't showed it in his running, and with nearly everybody who knows track

DE MAR LEADING AMERICAN STAR

"Melrose Marvel" Has Great Competitive Record

BY RALPH HUSTON

Promptly at noon today, some sixty "Perspiring Pedestrians" will get under way from in front of the City Hall, in the first annual Times pre-Olympic Marathon. About 2 hours and 45 minutes later, one of them should cross the tape in front of the Times Building, after zig-zagging 26 miles and 385 yards about the city and its outskirts.

That "somebody" probably will be Clarence De Mar, dubbed the "Melrose Marvel" and undoubtedly the greatest marathon star ever developed in America, although plenty of the local citizenry are willing to argue about it.

De Mar is 41 years of age. He ran his first marathon at the age of 21 in 1910. His first public appear-

Graduate Managers Vote to Have Commissioner

BY FRANK G. GORRIE
Associated Press Sports Writer

SPOKANE (Wash.) June 14. (AP) Coming as a big surprise, the graduate managers of the Pacific Coast Conference in session here today enacted the greatest piece of legislation in the history of the organization when they unanimously voted to appoint a high-salaried commissioner to supervise all athletic problems.

The officials adopted the report of a committee named last fall to investigate the "commissioner plan" which recommended that a "high-class man be obtained who knows the technical and practical side of athletics and has a national reputation for being square."

The commissioner idea would be similar to the football plan in effect in the Western Conference.

The report suggested that a committee of two faculty representatives and three graduate managers be appointed to submit a candidate for the approval of the conference, each university to have one vote in the selection.

ANNOUNCE BODY SOON

The graduate managers announced that the body would be appointed within the next few days. It would begin immediately to search for a suitable man to fill the office.

The committee which drew up the report was composed of W. W. Monohan, chairman, of the University of California; Earl Campbell, Washington; Carl Iodell of Oregon State, and S. W. Cunningham, University of California at Los Angeles.

It was the general opinion of the graduate managers that it

STARS WIN IN ELEVENTH

Ortman Walks Shellenback With Bases Filled to Give Hollywooders 3-to-2 Triumph

BY BOB RAY

Probably about the worst time in the world for a pitcher to walk a batter is when the bases are filled, the score is tied and the home team is having its whack in an overtime inning. Evan a manager of a show will tell you it's bum business to give out any passes when the house is filled and there is no place to put the favored individual.

But anyway, Fred Ortman, young Portland southpaw, walked his pitching rival, Frank Shellenback, with the bases filled after two were out in the eleventh and thereby provided a painless ending to a sizzling mound duel in yesterday's overtime beat at Wrigley Field. When Ortman passed Shellenback he automatically forced Bill Rumler in from third with the winning run and Hollywood profited to the extent of a 3-to-2 victory over the visiting Ducks.

BILL RUMLER

Until Ortman lost the location of the plate in the eleventh, it looked as though he would get out of the embarrassing situation caused by Mickey Heath's double off the left-field fence. Rumler had walked and Carlyle had fanned just before Heath connected for that two-bagger, which landed on the bricks just above Jahn's reach. Rumler had to play safe because it looked as though Jahn would catch the ball; otherwise he could have scored.

Skipper Vitt, out to break the Stars' losing streak of two straight to the lowly Ducks sent in Walter Rehg to bat for Dud Lee. Rehg was purposely passed to fill the bases and make it easier to pull off a double play. Ortman made the strategy look good by striking out Sypher. And that left the situation up to Shellenback and Ortman, the rival flingers. Shelly is liable to bang one out of the lot any time, so Ortman started to work cautiously on the big Sheik spitballer. But the young Duck portsider couldn't find the plate and

HUSKIES HUMBLE BADGERS

Wisconsin Rowers Bow to Strong Washington Crews Over Two-Mile Route

MADISON (Wis.) June 14. (AP)—Pitting smoothness against strength, two University of Washington crews, en route to Poughkeepsie, scored impressive victories over the University of Wisconsin oarsmen on the Lake Mendota two-mile course here tonight.

Washington's varsity rowed two miles in 11m. 2s., while Wisconsin did it in 11m. 6s., almost better than the rabid Badger fans had expected of Coach Murphy's men. The Husky junior boat was timed in at 11m. 13s., against 11m. 23s. for Wisconsin.

The varsity race was of the thriller variety. Both crews started with a thirty-eight stroke, Wisconsin spurting to a

Facts About Marathon

Runners in the first Times pre-Olympic Marathon must report promptly at Central High School, 451 North Hill street, at 11 o'clock sharp this morning. Entrants will receive their numbers and final instructions there.

The race will be started exactly at 12 noon from in front of the City Hall, and runners not on the line at that time will be disqualified. The race finishes at The Times Building. The winning time should be between 2 hours, 45 minutes and 3 hours.

Showers, towels and rubbing tables will be available to all entrants at the high school building before and after the race.

Trophies will be awarded every man who finishes the race. There is a magnificent $300 cup, three feet in height, for the winner. There are gold medals for the first ten place men, and bronze medals for all survivors.

Medical attention will be furnished the runners by Dr. Ben Frees and his staff.

An ambulance has been furnished by the Clair Overholtzer Company.

The Tanner Motor Tours will have a big bus on hand to pick up all runners unable to finish.

The California Consolidated Water Company will serve the runners with Puritas distilled water. This is the only refreshment permitted, and it will be dispensed from a traveling stand.

The Los Angeles city police, the Culver City police and the Beverly Hills police have promised the runners every protection in territory under their jurisdiction.

Holman Lands in Semifinals

BERKELEY, June 14. (AP)—Cranston Holman, defending champion, battered his way to the semifinals of the Pacific Coast tennis championship today, by defeating Neil Brown in straight sets, 6-4, 8-6. Holman displayed a slightly improved game over his previous appearances, and had Brown backed to the deep court during most of the encounter.

In the quarterfinal round of the special men's doubles, Bill Johnston and Neil Brown, heavy favorites, received a momentary shock from Bill Olney and Jim Ludlow. The California net men pressed the veteran combination through two torrid sets, finally dropping the match on scores of 6-1, 13-11. Johnston and Brown will oppose Bob Kinsey and Bobby Seller in the semifinal attraction tomorrow.

POLO RIDERS READY

Everything is in readiness for the Saddle Club-California Club polo game scheduled for tomorrow afternoon on the Saddle Club's field on Ventura Boulevard in Van Nuys. The home team four are favored to win.

"Say Big Boy"

Fixing punctures in worn-out tires is like skinning a flea for its hide—especially in these days of rock-bottom prices on all types and sizes of Goodyear Tires. For example:

John Salo Cuts Ten Full Minutes Off Peter Gavuzzi's Coast-to-Coast Marathon Le

Passaic Policeman Ties With Umek for Second

"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 14.—The strong arm of the law reached out this evening and lopped exactly 10 minutes off the lead which Peter Gavuzzi holds in C. C. Pyle's second annual bunion and blister brigade.

JOHN SALO.

The strong arm of the law, in this case, happened to be Sergt. John Salo of the Passaic (N. J.) police force, Gavuzzi's deadly rival in this strength-sapping, muscle-stretching gallop from coast to coast.

Having run side by side all day yesterday it appeared that neither Gavuzzi nor Salo was going to let the other out of sight today. They started from San Diego hand in hand, so to speak, and continued in this wise until San Clemente hove into view.

SALO STEPS OUT

At this point something got under Salo's skin. Perhaps a migrant bedbug, and the Passaic desk sergeant did Gavuzzi an affectionate adieu and streaked for this ancient village. Bewhiskered Pete tried his best to keep within hailing distance of his foe, but it was no use and Salo slipped into the control exactly 10 minutes ahead of him.

Salo ....512h. 14m. 24s.

All of which indicates that today's grind through Santa Ana to Long Beach and thence to Huntington Park will be a gruelling, relentless battle between the two front-rank runners. The Britisher's lead now stands at only 9m. 56s.

While Salo finished in comparatively fresh condition, or at least without any outward show of distress Gavuzzi was plainly well tuckered out. Peter smiled rather wanly, reached for a cigarette and then wandered off to get a rubdown before eating.

Honors for the day were won by Harry Abramowitz, the little New York Jewish boy, who ran an astounding race to reach here more than three hours in advance of Salo and Guisto Umek of Italy, who tied for second place in the lap of approximately sixty-five miles from San Diego. Abramowitz ran like a man possessed, coming into the control at 4:18 after starting at 6 o'clock this morning.

IN NINTH SPOT

Harry is safely intrenched in ninth position, which means that he will be in line for a prize of $1500 when he finished with the others at Wrigley Field tomorrow night. It looked as if he were attempting to knock Herbert Hedeman out of eighth place today. Hedeman had a seven-hour lead over Abramowitz this morning, but lost 2h. 18m. of that by failing to get here before 8 o'clock this evening.

Eighth place pays $250 more than ninth, but it is hardly likely that Abramowitz, despite his brilliant and heroic showing today, will be able to knock that much off again tomorrow in the fifty-eight-mile lap to Huntington Park. Hedeman, 55 years of age, is old enough to be Harry's papa and it seems that the young Jewish boy was rather disrespectful in lopping so much time off the veteran's lead.

Abramowitz's time of 10h. 18m. 28s. for today's lap made Salo and Gavuzzi look like a couple of snails, but as a matter of fact the two leaders were merely running to finish intact and keep close to each other. Salo pulled in at 7:29 p.m., more than three hours after Abramowitz, and Gavuzzi trailed the flying cop by another ten minutes.

The first half of the run from San Diego was pretty tough on the runners and many of them hadn't made more than one-third of the distance at noon. Up hill and down dale gets 'em where they live and today's run to Huntington Park, mostly on the level, will probably be appreciated — that is if these worn and weary wanderers have any sense of appreciation left. Today's lap on top of yesterday's and the one before that certainly put a kink in the respective systems of the runners and somebody's interior machinery may go wrong even at this late date.

The twenty-six-mile grind at Wrigley Field tomorrow night will be run in circles and although the men have followed a fairly straight line from New York they are undoubtedly in good shape to go 'round and 'round.

BILL TILDEN TRIUMPHS

NOORDWYK (Holland) June 14. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden continued his triumphant sweep through the Dutch tennis championships today, defeating the Egyptian "alligator," Grandguillot, in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2, 6-3.

O'BRIEN RETAINS TITLE

REPRESENTATIVE MARATHONERS

THERE is an interesting sprinkling of nationalities in the first annual Times pre-Olympic Marathon race today. In addition to the usual run of English, Irish, Scotch, Swedish and mixtures there are six Indians who came from Navajo, Zuni and Hopi reservations in New Mexico and Arizona, respectively; a Mexican Indian from Old Mexico, and a native-born Guatemalan.

There is one college undergraduate in the race, several ex-college men, one sailor, one man with running experience ranging from Chicago to Guantanamo, Santo Domingo and San Diego, and a couple of real veterans over forty years of age.

Under the head of this latter class falls the name of Clarence De Mar, the Melrose campaigner, who has won so many of the Boston A.A. races and won places on three American Olympic Games teams. He is 41.

But the oldest man in the race is Hugo Rothstein, 44. He has thirty years of running and walking experience back of him. He was one of the first to enter The Times race.

One of the youngest entrants is W. D. Lackey, 18, formerly a member of the John C. Fremont cross-country high-school team. He has participated in an eighteen-mile run from Venice to this city and a twelve-mile run from La Habra to Spadra. The youngest would-be entrant was Jack Wall, 15. He was ruled out by the executive committee because he was under 18. One man of 55 had his entry rejected.

With the exception of Begay, who is 25, all of the Indians entered from Sherman Institute and running under the colors of the L.A.A.C. are still under their majority. Suhu is 18, Tsemptewa, 18, Jenkins 19, Chaupnaptewa 19, and Chauca 20.

VICTORY FOR HIS RACE

SEVERO ALVAREZ, the Mexican Indian from Santa Paula, typifies the spirit with which the runners are entering the race. He wrote to Manager Charles Keppen as follows:

"The only thing is that I will run until the race finish. The only thing that help me to run is my Indian blood and I will make the best possible to take place for my Mexican race."

Eugene Chilberg, who will wear No. 24 in the race, is an interesting character. He was a member of the Ada Okla.) cross-country team with Andy Payne, who last year walked off with the first C. C. Pyle transcontinental foot race by a margin of some nineteen hours.

Incidentally, De Mar says the marathon record of 2h. 29m. 40 2-5s., made by Johnny Miles in the Boston A.A. race in 1926, will not be bettered by Pyle's runners at Wrigley Field Sunday night.

He says it is too much to expect of men who have run all the way across the country.

A DUMB MANAGER

HERR Arthur Bulow, quondam manager of Max Schmeling, apparently doesn't know when to hold still.

After being protected by the New York Boxing Commission to the extent of getting 20 per cent of Schmeling's end for the Milk Fund fight with Uzcudun he now proposes to sue the commission because he alleges it rousted him around.

After coming in for some sympathy when Schmeling left him and refused to fight further under his direction Bulow is now getting the Bronx cheer in New York.

He apparently has proved ungrateful for the consideration given him by the New York commission, and probably all he will get after this incident is a lot of air.

That seems to be all he has coming to him.

DICTATOR JOB IS PROBLEM

THERE probably will be a lot of rag chewing among the Coast Conference boys before a dictator like Maj. John L. Griffith in the "Big Ten" is appointed.

In the first place the northern institutions won't stand for a man from this city. Secondly, Southern California and U.C.L.A. won't vote for a man from San Francisco. And thirdly, the northwestern schools won't take a man from either locality.

That means an outsider with some knowledge of Coast conditions stands the best chance of landing the job.

A man like "Tad" Wieman, for example, who spent his high-school days on the Coast, played varsity football at Michigan and then coached there, would be the ideal type.

However, the boys have cleared the first hurdle. They have decided to have a dictator.

AUTO DRIVERS PERFORM UNDER LIGHTS TONIGHT

Night auto racing, under sanction from the A.A.A., will make its local bow tonight at the American Legion Speedway at 8:30 p.m. Although after-dark races have been staged here before, only outlaw drivers have competed, tonight's events being the first night events in the history of the racing sport ever looked upon with favor by the national governing body.

Drivers tried the course out last night and were most enthusiastic over the illuminating system as installed for tonight's races. The entire track will be flooded with light from thirty-five huge arcs elevated on sixty-five-foot poles at equal intervals around the oval.

At the request of the drivers plans to have them qualify this afternoon at 2 o'clock have been changed to allow them to run off their qualifying laps under the arc lights. These trials have been scheduled for 7:15 tonight. Sixteen of the twenty-six drivers entered will be picked for the finals from the results of the qualifying laps.

Among the most popular drivers entered in tonight's inaugural after-dark races are Francis Quinn, Jimmie Sharp, Mel Keneally, Speed Hinkley, Bill Heisler, Carl Ryder, Walt Mays, Bill Bundy and Harry Jaques. Particularly is rivalry keen between Quinn and Sharp, who ran neck and neck in the last race at Banning, until Sharp was forced out near the finish of the event.

HUSKIES DOWN BADGER CREW

quarter-length lead. This was narrowed to two feet at the mile, when both eights were clipping of a thirty-four stroke.

Within a quarter-mile of the finish, Washington challenged Wisconsin's lead. The Badgers matched a thirty-six stroke of the westerners, but it was not enough and they fell behind.

BEARS FAIL TO PLEASE EBRIGHT

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 14. (AP)—California had its first trial against the watch this afternoon, and from all appearances, Head Coach Ky Ebright was far from pleased with it. Ebright had no public statement to make other than the varsity "took a row downstream," but to his oarsmen he had plenty to say and it was not complimentary.

BOESEKE TO PILOT ROUGHRIDER SQUAD

Elmer Boeseke, the long-legged Santa Barbara seven-goal polo star, has rounded up a trio of clever horsemen to make up the Roughrider quartet to play against the Uplifters on the latter team's home field tomorrow. He will have the services of C. B. Wrightsman, low-goal Midwick player, who is on the same squad as Boeseke during the winter season; Will Rogers, Jr., and Lyell Puckett. Snowy Baker will have Scott Hackley, Clair Brunson and Howland Paddock with him on the Uplifter team.

TROEH ANNEXES TITLE

TECUMSEH (Ont.) June 14. (AP) Frank Troeh of Portland, Or., is the champion of the Grand International Trapshooting Tournament for 1929. Breaking 96 out of 100 in the final tournament test today, Troeh compiled a grand total of 958 out of 1000, to win the championship.

MUNICIPAL COURT STARS RESUME TITLE TOURNEY

Play in the annual municipal tennis tournament will be resumed this afternoon and tomorrow at Griffith courts in the men's singles, and the opening rounds in the women's singles and men's doubles will be started, according to the announcement of the Playground and Recreation Department. Several of the tournament's favorites include Les Stoeffen, Jack De Lara, Charles Weesner and L. Dworkin in matches scheduled for both today and Sunday.

Today's matches will begin at 1 o'clock and last until 4, and play tomorrow will take place from 8 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon.

Schedule of play in today's matches follows:

FAVOR DE MAR IN LONG RUN

Eastern Ace Picked to Win "Times" Marathon

Sherman Indians May Extend Boston Runner

Field of Fifty Athletes Slated to Take Part

De Mar will undoubtedly be extended over much and maybe all of the route by some of the Indians from the Sherman Institute at Riverside. Coach B. A. Jamison has declared that his boys will run the distance in better than 2h. 50m. De Mar's time in the Boston Marathon this year was 2h. 43m. This indicates that things may be quite warm before the runners have covered the entire route.

Cecil Begay, one of the Indian runners, was forced out of the race last night when Coach Jamison sent him to bed, discovering that the boy had a high fever.

Harry Chauca, wearing No. 1, is looked upon as the best of the redskins because of the fact that he recently ran six miles in record-breaking time at the Coliseum. The mark probably never will be accepted because of a dispute over the accuracy of the watches, but the fact remains that Chauca is a fleet runner, nevertheless. None of the Indians, however, has had the experience over the marathon route that De Mar boasts.

LIKES WARM WEATHER

Belief that the eastern star might be bothered by the warm weather here was quickly dispelled upon his arrival when he declared that the hotter it is the better he likes it.

Jamison declares that his Redskins will stick right with De Marr until they drop. They are not inclined to set the pace, but may elect to do this if De Mar shows any signs of lagging.

Robert M. Angier is looked upon as one of the best athletes in the grind. Last week he ran twelve miles in 1hr. 19m. at Belvedere Gardens and wasn't extended at all. Angier was formerly a mile and two-mile star at the University of Chicago and has trained here by running to and from work at San Pedro. Whether he has the stuff to show real speed over the full marathon distance remains to be seen. Angier runs in ordinary street shoes and claims he is never bothered by bunions or blisters.

R. H. Murray of Pasadena is another likely looking entry. He enjoyed a nice lead in the race which Angier won, but developed foot trouble at the halfway mark and was forced into fifth place. One of Murray's shoes was too tight and he promises to take care of that in today's race. The Pasadena man has done considerable running in his day and if his hoofs hold out today he may spring a surprise.

Joe Andrade, a Montebello High School youth, showed a lot of stuff last week, finishing with a terrific sprint. If he has been able to add a bit of endurance to what he possessed last week he seems destined to place among the first ten.

WAITE IN IT

One of the best-known local runners in the race is Carleton Waite, U.C.L.A. two-miler of several years' experience. Waite hardly figures to bother any of the leaders but he may be among the gold medal winners.

There are sixty-five athletes entered in the race, but due to sickness and one thing and another it is unlikely that more than fifty will face the starter at noon.

All runners are slated to report at 11 o'clock to Clerk of the Course Kinter Hamilton at the Central High School Building, 451 North Hill street. Instructions and official numbers will be given the athletes by Manager Charley Keppen and then they will be taken to the starting point in front of the City Hall.

BAKERSFIELD BEATS CORONADO NINE, 3-2

BAKERSFIELD, June 14. (AP)—Bakersfield defeated Coronado, 3 to 2, today, with Pearson holding the Arabs to seven scattered hits.

Laird, Coronado hurler, pitched air-tight ball until the fifth, when the Bees reached him for four hits and two runs, and followed up that splurge with two more hits and the winning tally in the sixth inning.

Legion Backs De Mar in Run

Clarence De Mar will carry the best wishes of his American Legion Post when he covers The Times Pre-Olympic Marathon route today. The following wire was received yesterday by the famous marathoner from Adjutant John A. Lavender of Melrose Post No. 90:

"Melrose Post No. 90, American Legion, extends best wishes for your victory in Los Angeles. Convey our respects to all legionnaires in California and extend to them an invitation to visit our post when they attend Legion National Convention in Boston in 1930."

MRS. PRESSLER RETAINS TITLE

enough, while Mrs. Lifur made a number of "horseshoe shots" to win and halve holes earlier in the match, she deserved her half on the seventeenth and didn't get it. They teed off on that hole all even. Mrs. Lifur hooked one off into the rough, her ball resting in a poor lie on a hard roadway. Mrs. Pressler poked one down the middle of the fairway, and then played a beautiful spoon to the green for an almost certain 4. It required courage to take a wood, but Mrs. Lifur played a pretty shot under existing conditions, her ball falling fifty feet short of the green. And then she laid one stiff. Mrs. Pressler was short, but dropped a three-footer for her par, while Mrs. Lifur missed. That was the crucial hole, and Mrs. Lifur also lost the eighteenth, when she was stymied.

They halved the first hole in 5's, Mrs. Lifur missing a 4 when she three-putted. Her spoon was on the edge of the green, her approach putt was eight feet over and she muffed one coming back.

BAGS BIRDIE

The second hole was a scorcher. Both drove close to 200 yards, with not more than six inches separating the two balls. Mrs. Lifur socked first, her ball stopping on the edge of the green. Mrs. Pressler's spoon was dead to the pin. Mrs. Lifur then displayed her grit by almost holing out, and Mrs. Pressler dropped her putt for a birdie 3, or an eagle 3 against women's par.

The champion lost her advantage on three, when she sliced into a trap. Mrs. Lifur hooked her ball into the rough, but dropped her next shot on the green. A spectator, who kept moving in the line of Mrs. Pressler's next shot, disconcerted her so that she bobbled twice and took three to get on the green. Mrs. Lifur won the hole with a 3.

MRS. LIFUR 2 UP

Mrs. Lifur won the next two holes in a row, when Mrs. Pressler's putter failed to function, and went into the lead, 2 up. On six Mrs. Pressler had another opportunity to win a hole back, but missed a short putt and they halved the hole in 5's. Mrs. Pressler finally sunk a putt on the 131-yard seventh hole to win with a 3. Mrs. Lifur was short, but played a perfect pitch-and-run shot to the pin, only to miss a short putt for a 4. They halved the eighth and ninth, Mrs. Pressler missing an opportunity to square the match on nine, when she played her iron second dead. Mrs. Lifur was in a trap, had a nice out over the pin, and then sank a long one coming back for a half.

Par (out)	433	444	344—34
Mrs. Pressler	535	655	354—41
Mrs. Lifur	544	545	454—40

Mrs. Lifur picked up on ten to square the match, when Mrs. Pressler got her three. From then on the match seesawed back and forth, first one taking the lead and then the other. They halved the eleventh, and then alternately won holes to the fifteenth, where Mrs. Lifur squared the match for the Nth time. They halved the sixteenth, Mrs. Pressler winning the already-mentioned seventeenth and eighteenth to win.

Par (in)	345	453	445—37—71
Mrs. Pressler	355	554	545—41—82
Mrs. Lifur ..	456	463	556—44—84

Mrs. Pressler can now go east this summer with one of the most brilliant records of any woman in the United States. During the past twelve months she has won the western women's championship for the second consecutive year, the Southern California title two years in a row, the California State championship, and the Del Monte women's championship. Watch her in the national at Detroit later this summer!

SAN BERNARDINO WINS FROM SAN DIEGO, 10-8

SAN DIEGO, June 14. (AP)—For the second time in two days the San Bernardino Padres came from behind today in the closing innings to shade the San Diego Aces, the score being 10 to 8. Brandt's home run and two baggers by Theiler and Berger broke an 8-to-8 deadlock in the first of the ninth.

Rodney Luscomb, San Diego pitcher, drove in three runs with a homer and a double in the early innings. Brandt starred at bat for the winners. Score:

San Bernardino	10	10	3
San Diego	8	[illegible]	3

BABE SIGNED 'EM

One hundred baseballs, autographed by Babe Ruth himself, arrived here yesterday to be given to boys of Los Angeles county who are playing in the American Legion Junior Baseball League. The horsehides were brought west by Vera Marsh and Harry Carroll, New York musical-comedy stars, who turned them over to George Contreras, Legion athletic chairman of Los Angeles, for distribution to the local youngsters.

DE MAR LEADING AMERICAN STAR

"Melrose Marvel" Has Great Competition Record

Has Six Boston Marathons in List of Victories

Expects to Win Handily in First "Times" Classic

ance was in the Boston A.A. marathon run, and since that time he has run in it eleven times. This year he finished ninth, and it was the first time he failed to place among the first three. Which ought to constitute something of a record.

BREAKS RECORD

In 1910 the "Melrose Marvel" finished second to F. L. Cameron, being defeated by exactly 1 1-5 seconds. In 1911 he scored his first victory, breaking the record set by Tom Longboat back in 1907. Thereafter De Mar retired to private life, and it was not until 1917, when he entered the Army, that he tried for honors again. He finished third. After the war, he retired again, but broke loose in 1922 to not only win, but to smash all records in 2h. 18m. 10s. In winning, he became the second runner in history to score a double victory. Back in 1900 and 1901 the classic was won by J. J. Caffrey of Hamilton, Ont.

But De Mar wasn't satisfied to tie the record, so back he came in 1922 and 1923 to make it three straight victories, and four wins in six races. He tried to make it four straight in 1925 but finished second to C. L. Miller, beaten by just thirty-seven seconds. In 1926 he was third behind Johnny Miles, a sensational Nova Scotia youngster, but came back to win again in 1927 and 1928. This year he finished ninth, ten minutes back of Miles, who repeated his 1926 victory.

Thus in eleven marathon runs, De Mar has been returned winner six times, was second twice, third twice, and unplaced once. His record of 2h. 18m. 10s. still stands.

The "Melrose Marvel" expects to run about 2h. 45m. today, but with good, warm weather, may slash this figure. If he does that time, he will average six and a half minutes to the mile. Figuring on this time, here are the approximate times the leaders probably will pass the various checking stations along the line:

(1.) Leave City Hall 12:00.
(2.) Main street and Washington Boulevard, two miles, 12:10-12:15.
(3.) Washington and National Boulevard, 9.5 miles, 1:00-05.
(4.) National and Robertson Drive, 10.2 miles, 1:05-1:10.

Local athletic fans, as well as local marathon runners, have responded eagerly to The Times classic. The runners sent in their entry blanks in surprising numbers—far more than the executive committee had fondly expected. The citizenry, sensing the fact that a California entrant in the 1932 Olympic marathon might be produced from The Times event, has presented itself en masse to offer valuable assistance.

The police department has been particularly helpful. Chief of Police Davis, in addition to his duties as official starter, has turned over the services of six motorcycle officers and three police cars to be used at the discretion of the executive committee, in addition to extra details at all important intersections.

W. P. Hendry, Chief of Police of Culver City, and Lieut. Ed Copp have offered the same service in their district, as have Chief of Police C. C. Blair and Sergeant A. L. Taylor in Beverly Hills.

A.A.U. AIDING

Local A.A.U. officials have co-operated in every way to furnish sufficient men at the various checking posts and to give assurance that the entire race will be entirely official, in event that any records are broken.

The winner of the race will receive a gold medal and will have his name engraved on the three-foot silver trophy, which cup he will keep for a year. The next nine men across the finish line will receive gold medals and every other finisher will receive a "survivor's medal." Arrangements have been made to broadcast to fans gathered at the finish line information on the standing and time of the runners at each control station.

MANUAL NINE WINS OVER FRANKLIN, 7-5

Bunching hits and runs in the first three stanzas of a nine-inning struggle, the Toiling Toilers from Manual Arts High scored a 7-to-5 win over Coach Bill Lopes's Franklin High pill tossers yesterday in a game played at Franklin.

The Toilers' seven runs came off Redondo, utility pitcher of the Panthers in the first three stanzas, after which Sal Machuca, stellar Panther hurler, held the Toilers to two lone hits in the six innings that he was on the mound.

Miss Gladman Wins Eastern States Title

PHILADELPHIA, June 14. (AP)—For the first time in years the western coast has supplied the women's Pennsylvania and eastern States tennis champion. Miss Marjorie (Midge) Gladman of Santa Monica, Cal., a sophomore at the University of Southern California, won the championship today by defeating Miss Anne B. Townsend, Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-2. The California girl played brilliant tennis and Miss Townsend had difficulty in trying to handle her hard drives and netted many of her returns. Miss Gladman served an ace in the fifth of the first set and sprinkled placements generously in both sets.

De Hate Loses to Fitzgerald

Freddie Fitzgerald, in his first start at the Hollywood American Legion Arena last night, won a ten-round decision over Paul De Hate, the Compton slugger. The fight started out slowly, but warmed up at the finish, both battlers slugging the last couple of stanzas. Fitzgerald scored a knockdown in the fifth round when he opened a cut over De Hate's left eye.

Just before the main event went on, Charley Keppen, manager of The Times' Marathon, was called into the ring. Keppen introduced Clarence De Mar of the Melrose (Mass.) American Legion post, who is favored to cop today's classic. De Mar was presented with one of the Hollywood Legion Post's wrist watches.

Clayton Gouyd won over the highly touted Poison Pisens in the six-round semi-wind-up. After the second round there was no more poison in Pisens, Gouyd's rushing style giving him an easy victory. Pisens took a bad beating in the last four rounds.

BRITISHERS DIVIDE WITH HUNGARIANS

BUDAPEST (Hungary) June 14. (AP)—Great Britain and Hungary split even in the first two singles matches of their semifinal round Davis Cup tie today. Baron von Kehrling of Hungary defeated J. C. Gregory, 5-7, 7-5, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, but H. W. Austin, young English star, evened the count by downing I. De Takacs of Hungary in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

BLAIR IS STOPPED BY TOMMY CELLO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14. (AP)—Tommy Cello, 138, of San Francisco, stopped Johnny Blair, 136, of Los Angeles, in the third round of their ten-round bout at Dreamland Auditorium tonight. Blair's seconds threw in the towel after he had been floored twice in that round.

DORVAL FIGHT POSTPONED

CHICAGO, June 14. (AP)—The Les Marriner-Napoleon Jack Dorval heavyweight fight today was postponed for the second time until Monday night due to the soggy condition of the outdoor arena, which has been rain-soaked for two days.

SACS RELEASE JOE HARRIS

SACRAMENTO, June 14.—Joe Harris, one time a leading slugger of the major leagues, was today given his outright release by the Sacramento club of the Coast League.

Harris hit well for the first two weeks of the season but fell ill and since has been of no value to the club. The slugger was badly injured in the World War and his poor physical condition now is said to be a recurrence of old troubles.

WILL PICK CZAR FOR COAST LOOP

would take a $10,000-a-year man to fill the position. Each of the ten universities in the conference would be assessed to cover the expense of the office.

The commissioner's duties would include the following:

(1.) To raise the standard of intercollegiate athletics.

(2.) To keep the public informed regarding conference athletics.

(3.) To help settle eligibility cases.

(4.) To appoint officials for football and basketball games.

The man selected would also be called upon to study all conditions in the various universities and suggest means for improving them.

"The faculty representatives and graduate managers should pass on to the commissioner any rumors or suspicions that they have about the eligibility of athletes in the other institutions," read the report. "The commissioner's duty will be to take up the matters with institutions in question. He should not have power to decide eligibility cases but rather should try to help the authorities of the universities to settle their own affairs.

NO SUBSIDIZING

"If any institution were not willing to live up to the rules and cooperate with the commissioner the matters involved should be submitted to the conference for action.

"The commissioner should not be a glorified detective searching for trouble among the conference schools but it will be clearly the commissioner's duty to do everything in his power to see athletes representing the various institutions are academically eligible and are not being subsidized to compete in athletics."

The report concluded with a clause that no applications for the position will be accepted.

A scheduled meeting for tonight was postponed until tomorrow when the officials adjourned this afternoon to play golf.

The date for the annual dual track meet between Stanford and the University of Washington was set today for April 26 at Palo Alto.

The date for the annual crew race between the University of California and Washington on Lake Washington, Seattle, next year, will be decided in Seattle next week.

POWERS, COURTNEY NAB HANDBALL TITLE

Joe Powers and Ira Courtney won the doubles handball championship of the Los Angeles Athletic Club yesterday, by defeating Maynard Laswell and Gordon Bleckner in two straight games, by scores of 21-18, 21-8.

STARS CAPTURE OVERTIME TILT

tossed four straight balls to send the customers, cash and otherwise, home to a warmed-over supper.

Joe Hassler, that home-run person whom Tom Turner talked Connie Mack out of in exchange for Jimmy Cronin, accounted for both Portland runs in the third inning when he hoisted one of Shellenback's offerings over the left-field wall after Ortman had singled. That homer was Hassler's third in two days and it looks as if the Ducks have picked up a heavy-hitting shortstop from the Athletics because of the convincing qualities possessed by Turner's vocal chords.

The Stars got one of those runs back in the fourth when Ortman grooved one in Rumler's alley and big Will larruped the apple over the right-field screen for the circuit.

Hollywood threatened again in the fifth when Lee singled and Shellenback walked with one away, but a snappy double play executed by Richards, Hassler and Keesey killed off the rally.

In the sixth the Sheiks knotted the count on Burkett's double and Ostenberg's single—and knotted it until the eventful eleventh.

From the sixth inning on Shellenback and Ortman prevented the rival athletes from venturing past first, but the Duck left-hander wobbled off the straight and narrow path in the eleventh and lost.

SOLONS NOSED OUT BY SEALS IN THIRTEENTH

SACRAMENTO, June 14. (AP)—Sacramento and San Francisco battled thirteen innings here today in as good a game as historic Moreing Field has ever seen with the Seals finally emerging winners, 6 to 4. Vernon Gomez, recruit portsider of the Seals, worked the whole game and was the whole show. His single in the final frame after two were out broke the deadlock. He hurled effectively, although a bit wild, and twice retired the side runless after filling the bases with none out. The Seals lead the series, three to one. Score:

SEATTLE POUNDS OUT 18-2 WIN OVER REDS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14. (AP)—It was a gay merry-go-round for Seattle today, who walked away from the San Francisco Missions with a score of 18 to 2. Nine of the visitors' twenty-three hits were batted off McQuaid, who was replaced by Hubbell. Still the Mission was unable to stop the hitting spree Seattle indulged in. BENTON STOPS BUCCANEERS

Petty Chased Early as McGrawmen Triumph, 7 to 2; Johnson Checks Brave Rally and Cards Win

PITTSBURGH, June 14. (AP)—Larry Benton stopped the Pirates with seven hits here today and the Giants won, 7 to 2, their first victory in the three games so far played in the series.

Jess Petty, making his second start in as many days, was knocked out in less than an inning when the Giants scored three runs. Kremer and Fussell finished.

Pittsburgh got two runs in the seventh on triples by Traynor and Hemsley and a single. Comorosky had nine putouts in left field.

JOHNSON HERO

ST. LOUIS, June 14. (AP)—With the bases jammed and none out, Sylvester Johnson came to the rescue of Sherdel today and retired the Boston Braves in the ninth to give the St. Louis Cardinals the game, 4 to 3, and first place in the National League, as the Pirates lost to New York. The game was delayed an hour and twenty-five minutes by the Tuberculosis Day benefit program and rain.

McEVOY HOLDS ANGELS TO THREE HITS; OAKS WIN, 5-0

OALAND, June 14.—Oakland cleaned up today in more ways than one. They defeated the Angels, 5 to 0, giving them four straight and cinched the series. The Acorns have now won ten out of their last eleven starts.

And on top of all that, Lou McEvoy pitched a three-hit game to shut out the southerners. McEvoy found himself near the danger line once or twice, but he was steady at such times and kept the visitors away from the plate.

Deacon Plitt looked to have a lot of stuff on the ball and as a matter of fact fanned six of the Oaks, including Buzz Arlett twice. But the Oaks straightened out his curve ball when hits meant runs and turned three of them into extra bases.

Vergez is now leading the league in home runs, for the little Oakland third-sicker put the ball over the left-field fence today for his eighteenth circuit clout of the season.

The Oaks crashed through with their first run in the second inning, although it took three hits to turn the trick. Arlett started with a single. Carlyle hit safely past short and Lombardi to right field for the tally.

The fifth inning yielded the second run. Tony Governor started with a center-field drive and took third as Reese singed to left. Vergez struck out and Arlett walked to fill the bases. Carlyle grounded out, Governor scoring, and Reese was doubled out at the plate.

Vergez hit a homer in the seventh.

JEFFERSON NINE IN WIN OVER L. A. HIGH

Coach Ching Duhm's fighting Jefferson baseball team came from behind to grab a 6-to-4 victory from the Los Angeles nine, in the last game of the season played yesterday on Housh Field. Their sensational win over the Romans put the Democrats in third place in the City League. Chino Mitre, Jefferson hurler, was the star of the game, making two hits out of two times at bat and fanning twelve men. The score:

PROMISING BOXERS CLASH

Two promising boxers appear tonight at the Main-street Athletic Club in a double main event. In one half, Jack Charvez, the young Berkeley middleweight who has brushed aside nine consecutive opponents, will battle Bert Hubbard, while in the other half, Raul Talan, youthful Mexican lightweight, will face Tiger Bobo, San Antonio negro.

GLADIATORS ON SCREEN

DAWSON OUT OF BRITISH GOLF

American Throws Away Match to Englishman

SANDWICH (Eng.) June 14. (AP) Cyril Tolley, one of the great personalities of British golf, and John Nelson Smith, a Scottish carpenter from Fife, will fight out the final of the British amateur golf championship over thirty-six holes tomorrow.

Until late this afternoon the Prince of Wales and other golf fans in Britain would have wagered a King's ransom that the final would be an Anglo-American affair between Tolley and young John Dawson. The 23-year-old Chicago player in three days of championship play had made a great name for himself in the British golfing world by winning his way to the semifinals.

Dawson, with a three-hole lead over Smith and only three holes to play, seemed as certain to be a finalist as anything ever can be certain in golf, and then to the amazement of the British gallery and dismay of his small but loyal band of American supporters, he literally threw away his lead, lost three holes in succession to have the match squared at the eighteenth. He then lost the nineteenth and the match.

Tolley barely got by Rex Hartley in the other semifinal match, winning the eighteenth hole to take the match, 1 up.

Mastro Here This Morning

Earl Mastro, star Chicago feather weight, will arrive here this morning. He is booked to box Fidel La Barba at the Olympic a week from Tuesday night.

The little Italian will be accompanied by both his managers, Art Winch and Sam Pian. It is the first time Pian has made the trip to the Coast with Mastro.

Mastro is hot on the trail of big matches these days. Since he boxed his first ten-round bout here with La Barba a year ago he has become a headliner in all three of the eastern boxing centers—Detroit, Chicago and New York.

OLD GOLD WINS WITH NEWSPAPER MEN

431 Newspaper Men of the Staffs of Ten New York and Chicago Newspapers Smoke and Compare the 4 Leading Cigarettes

Your newspaper man knows his cigarettes. He has to—he uses so many of them! In his high tension work, he relies on the soothing and refreshing qualities of a cool and non-irritating smoke.

So "Supreme Court Authority" cast its vote when 431 newspaper men compared the four leading cigarettes, with the brand names concealed—and named the cigarette that was most appealing.

These tests took place in the offices and pressrooms of ten New York and Chicago dailies. Ten group tests were made—and .... won eight of the ten tests. To the right is a complete recap of these ten group tests, each of which was conducted, and certified to, by a certified public accountant or an executive of the newspaper.

Certified copies of the results of each test are now in the files of the P. Lorillard Company.

PAN AMERICAN BANK ACQUIRED

San Francisco Group Takes Controlling Interest

Barnhisel Succeeds Meeker as President

Franklin Flick Chairman of Directorate

Acquisition of the control in the Pan-American Bank of California by new interests was revealed yesterday with the announcement of the election of W. G. Barnhisel to succeed Leo M. Meeker as president. The election of Franklin Flick as chairman of the board of directors and of C. E. Tainter as vice-president was also announced by Mr. Meeker, who remains on the board of directors as do the other old members.

Mr. Barnhisel has been engaged in the mortgage business in San Francisco and Oakland for the last ten years, while Mr. Flick is the head of a San Francisco investment house bearing his name. Mr. Tainter has been connected with the Barnhisel syndicate. All are widely known in San Francisco financial circles.

C. L. Hill, who has been executive vice-president of the bank, will remain, it was stated. Mr. Meeker, who about a year ago took over the reorganization of the bank, said that as this work has been completed, he desired to retire so that he could spend a year in foreign travel.

Through the many financial affiliations of the new interests, it is expected that the business of the bank will be greatly increased, according to Mr. Barnhisel. The leasing of the second floor of the Merritt Building to a mortgage company, affiliated with Mr. Barnhisel, will be announced shortly.

While expansion plans are under consideration by the new officials, they denied emphatically that there is any contemplation of a consolidation with any other bank as their purpose is to maintain an entirely independent institution.

The Pan-American Bank, one of the younger financial institutions of Los Angeles, has assets in excess of $6,000,000. Its capital is $1,000,000; surplus, $250,000; undivided profits, $8103.91; other reserves, $12,762.16; letters of credit and acceptances, $112,905.21; other liabilities, $1053.72, and deposits, $4,757,067.70, according to the statement of condition as of March 27, last. Its resources at that time were listed as follows: Loans, $3,456,127.48; United States and other bonds, $1,342,669.66; furniture and fixtures, $83,727.71; safe-deposit vaults, $120,279.95; other real estate owned, $42,511.9[illegible]; letters of credit and acceptances, $112,905.21; other resources, $115,105.25; cash and due from banks, $669,565.56.

TRADING ON WOOL MART STILL DULL

BOSTON, June 14. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

The wool market has continued dull and uncertain, prices are barely steady. There is some demand for medium wools but fine are very quiet. Buying in the West has slackened and dealers are lowering their bids somewhat.

The foreign markets are steady. Bradford reports a bit more demand for tops at the week-end, with prices unchanged.

The goods market appears to be marking time for the moment; at least, there is less business being done than for several weeks.

Mohair keeps steady on moderate business.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1929, to June 13, 1929, inclusive, were 83,038,000 pounds, against 79,733,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1929, to June 13, 1929, inclusive, were 119,350,985 pounds, against 141,734,300 pounds for the same period last year.

Cord Organizes Holding Concern for Auburn Auto

CHICAGO, June 14. (Exclusive)—Formation of the Cord Corporation, with an indicated capital of $125,000,000, as a management-holding corporation, was announced today by E. L. Cord, president of the Auburn Automobile Company. Mr. Cord and a few of his associates have exchanged their entire holdings in the automobile industry for the stock of the new company, according to the announcement.

Mr. Cord explained that the principal reasons for the organization of the corporation are to concentrate the holdings of himself and his associates into a single company to afford co-ordination and management of the many interests involved, and those of any further companies acquired. The new company will also provide a medium through which the employees of the Auburn Automobile, Lycoming Manufacturing, Duesenberg, Inc., Central Manufacturing, Limousine Body, Saf-T-Cab, Expando Body, Spencer Heater and other companies affiliated with the Auburn company may participate in Auburn profits through the purchase of stock.

Capitalization of the Cord Corporation will be 10,000,000 shares of $5 par value, of which 1,000,000 shares will be issued immediately at $12.50 a share. It is expected that the amount outstanding will be increased as negotiations for other companies are completed.

Gilmore Rumors Augur Dividend

Rumors were current yesterday that common stock of the Gilmore Oil Company will be placed on a dividend basis following the annual meeting on Tuesday. Earnings for the fiscal year ended March 31, last, were equivalent to $2.52 a share after charges, compared with 63 cents in the previous year.

It was also reported that a plan to raise the par value from $8 a share in order to conform to a recent ruling of the Los Angeles Exchange setting $10 as the minimum par, will be considered at the annual meeting. There is also the possibility, according to street gossip, that stockholders may be given the opportunity to buy new stock.

TRADING DATE CORRECTED

The Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday issued notice of a correction in the date on which Kemper Radio Corporation stock will be called for trading. The date will be Monday, the 24th inst., instead of Monday, the 17th inst.

BANK GROUP WIDENS SCOPE

Transamerica Bids for Control of Bank of America of California; Minority Terms Not Set

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Transamerica Corporation, the Giannini holding company, took its first step yesterday morning for the absorption of the Bank of America of California when Leon Bocqueraz, chairman of the latter, transmitted an offer from Transamerica to the former stockholders of the United Bank and Trust Company, now a part of the Bank of America.

Transamerica is offering one and one-third shares for the 500,000 shares of Bank of America owned by the former United Bank stockholders. The offer does not apply to the 61,360 shares of Bank of America received by these stockholders as a stock dividend arising out of the consolidation. This stock, according to the terms offered, must be turned over to Transamerica as part of the exchange.

WILL HAVE CONTROL

If all of the Bank of America shares owned by the former United Bank stockholders are exchanged for Transamerica, the Giannini holding company will control 70.17 per cent of Bank of America of California. The capitalization of Bank of America is 800,000 shares.

From this set-up it appears that no definite steps have been taken for the exchange of Transamerica for the Bank of America shares held by the former Merchants' National stockholders. In the consolidation the Merchants' National stockholders received, including the stock dividend, a total of 238,640 shares of Bank of America.

Of this amount, however, 149,150 shares are owned by Transamerica, representing 100,000 shares of Merchants' National acquired by the Transamerica interests from certain of the large Merchants' National holders prior to the consolidation. The deduction of this amount leaves 89,490 shares of Bank of America in the hands of the former Merchants' National holders.

MAY STAY OUTSIDE

Presumably there will be no immediate attempt to work out an exchange for these shares. The chances are that when the 70 per cent interest is acquired from the United Bank interests, the only Bank of America shares outstanding will be those controlled by the Merchants' National group in Los Angeles.

The same situation exists with the Bank of America, N.A., of New York. Majority holders exchanged for Transamerica, but there is still a substantial minority outstanding on which quotations have appreciably advanced.

By taking steps to control the Bank of America of California, Transamerica is clearing the way for the major consolidation program which is generally believed to be under way in the East. The management has hinted several times in the last two weeks that important announcements may be expected to follow the return of A. P. Giannini to New York, and the stock market is disposed to look for another fusion of outstanding importance.

Rumors from New York the other day again mentioned the Bank of America of New York in connection with the Chase National, although this time the story arose through the linking of Chase with the National Park Bank in consolidation proposals. The Chase bank recently purchased the business of the American Railway Express, and evidently is tending toward the building of a large institution through merger or purchase.

Stockholders of Mail House Offered Rights

CHICAGO, June 14. (Exclusive)—Directors of Montgomery Ward & Co. voted today to offer to common stockholders of record July 17 the right to subscribe to additional shares of common at $50 a share in the proportion of one additional share for each three owned. Stock warrants will be mailed on July 24, and rights will expire on August 26.

In announcing this action of the board, George B. Everitt, president, said that it is the intention to recommend to the board that the dividend rate on the common be increased from an annual rate of $2.50 to $3 a share, effective with the November payment. The board declared the regular dividends on the common and preferred shares.

Sales activities of the company, according to Mr. Everitt, show an increase of $23,465,000, or 30.3 per cent, for the first five months of the year, the largest increase for the period in the company's history. This compares with an increase of $1,850,000, or 2.4 per cent, for the first five months of 1928 over the same period of 1927. He predicted that gross sales for 1929 will probably total $300,000,000, and that a total of 500 chain stores would be in operation.

Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, was elected to the board of directors to fill a vacancy.

McCLUNG TO CONDUCT EXTENSION CLASSES

Dean Reid L. MvClung of the college of commerce and business administration, University of Southern California, will have charge of a Monday and Wednesday night course in fundamentals of economics, starting the 17th inst., the university announced yesterday. Prof. H. Dean Campbell is to teach an evening class in the theory and technique of auditing, also opening on the 17th inst. Many other business courses will be given in the summer quarter starting on this date.

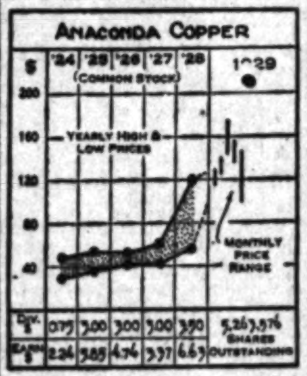
UTILITY REPORTS INCOME

Texas Public Service Company, a subsidiary of People's Light and Power Corporation, reports gross revenues of $890,206.13 for the year ended April 30, 1929. Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, other than Federal income tax, totaled $535,881.22, leaving gross income of $354,324.91.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

ANACONDA COPPER MINING COMPANY

The Anaconda Copper Mining Company for many years has been the leading producer from directly-owned mines. Directly and through the American Brass Company, it is a leading manufacturer and fabricator of copper products. It is also engaged on a large scale in custom smelting and refining of copper, zinc and lead. Large zinc deposits are owned in Montana and an important producer of this metal is controlled in Europe. The company is one of the leading silver producers, while metals from owned and controlled mines include gold, antimony and arsenic.



The company controls the Chile Copper Company and is developing two other South American properties.

In March, 1929, stockholders approved an increase in authorized capital stock to 12,000,000 shares, the proceeds of the new stock to be used to retire $102,846,000 first consolidated mortgage Series "A" gold 6s, due 1953.

Net income for 1928 was $24,174,800, over twice as much as that for 1927.

Improvement in National Trade Tone Reported

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: With weather conditions slightly more seasonable, a slight improvement in the tenor of distributive trade and crop reports is visible. Over against this are signs of some further tapering off in some industrial activities, which tend to shorten the margin of gain in current operations that this year, as a whole, has steadily shown over the like period a year ago. Even with full allowance for these variations, however, the situation still continues to present a more uniformly active appearance than was shown a year ago.

Higher temperatures the country over have made for better growth in crop areas, despite a continuance of cool, wet weather in parts of the Southeast and the Lower Pacific Coast. In most markets the change in weather has favored a larger distribution of seasonable wearing apparel, with more mention of buying of summer and vacation goods and with women's wear leading in most areas.

In industry, despite the tapering off reported in some metal lines, the iron and steel and related trades seem to be displaying unexpected activity.

Weekly bank clearings, $11,198,571,000, a decrease of 8 per cent from a year ago.

Broker House to Open Up Monday

Russell, Miller & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, will open their Los Angeles office in the Associated Realty Building next Monday, it was announced yesterday.

J. B. Speer will be in charge of the office as resident manager. The general partners of the concern, which has offices in New York and San Francisco, include Henry P. Russell, Lawrence McK. Miller, John D. Wing, George G. Bass, William G. Devereaux and C. R. Coster Steers.

MAY CONSUMPTION OF COTTON SLUMPS

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Cotton consumed during may totaled 668,229 bales of lint and 80,145 of linters, compared with 681,710 of lint and 79,008 of linters in April this year and 577,384 of lint and 62,836 of linters in May, last year, the Census Bureau today announced.

CHAIN SETS RECORD FOR LAST MONTH

Safeway System Sales in May Increase by 107 Per Cent Over Year Ago

Safeway Stores, Inc., chain grocery and meat market system, yesterday reported May sales of $17,195,842, a new high record for any month, and an increase of $8,910,647, or 107.55 per cent over the $8,285,195 total in May, 1928.

For the first five months of this year the sales aggregated $75,924,630 as compared with $38,406,545 for the comparative period of the previous year, a gain of $37,518,085, or 97.68 per cent. The Safeway system through the acquisition of a number of other grocery chains has been substantially enlarged since last year.

Safeway sales for the first five months of 1929 with the per centage of increase over the corresponding months of the previous year are as follows:

		Pct. Inc.
January	$12,880,390	86
February	14,088,986	96
March	16,425,859	90
April	15,324,431	106
May	17,195,842	107.55

Estimates on the total sales for the full year of 1929 have been placed at $180,000,000. Sales for the full year of 1928 aggregated $103,303,506.

Curb Exchange Holds Banquet on Birth Date

Members of the Los Angeles Curb Exchange and their employees celebrated the first anniversary of the exchange at a banquet last night at the Biltmore, at which it was announced that installation of a new rapid ticker quotation service will be completed within the next few days. Approximately 225 attended the banquet.

Aside from the announcement of the new ticker service by Phillip S. Leo, secretary, and a few introductory remarks by D. G. Grant, president of the exchange, the evening was given over to entertainment.

During the first year of operation the value of curb exchange memberships has risen from $7000 to $58,000, and the market has handled a total turnover of more than 41,000,000 shares valued at $234,000,000. The exchange has a total of 167 securities listed, forty-four of which are traded in on the New York Stock Exchange and New York curb.

Installation of the new ticker facilities involves the substituting of a self-winding ticker for each of the old-type Universal tickers, permitting about a 50 per cent increase in speed. The substitutions have been nearly completed, except for the installation of a circular transmission board on the floor of the exchange. This will be done on Monday.

New Low Rate Announced for Coast Air Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14. (Exclusive)—Aerial transportation to Los Angeles from the bay district dropped almost to the level of railroad train tariffs today. The Continental Air Express, which inaugurates service tomorrow between the two cities, using Alameda Airport as a northern terminus, announced a one-way rate of $22.

Maddux and Western Air Express immediately dropped $12 to $33 on one-way tickets. Pickwick, which has a one-way rate of $32.50, made no change, nor did Pacific Air Transport, operated by the Boeing system.

Alameda Airport Unit of Curtiss

NEW YORK, June 14. (Exclusive)—Acquisition of the complete stock issue of the Alameda airport terminal at Alameda, Cal., has been negotiated by the Curtiss Airport Corporation. The corporation was recently organized for the purpose of operating a group of strategically situated airports throughout the United States.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—The government's report on domestic consumption for May and the emergence of boll weevil up to the beginning of June appeared to be just about in line with expectations in the cotton market and had evidently been discounted by recent buying. Their publication proved a signal for considerable realizing and after holding steady during the early trading prices turned easier. The midafternoon market was quiet, with net declines of about 18 to 20 points.

O'FALLON RULING PUZZLES

Supreme Court Decision Viewed as Leaving Rail Valuation Problem Dark as Ever

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, June 14.—Donald R. Richberg, Chicago lawyer, for whom the United States Senate shattered a precedent by asking the Supreme Court to hear him as a "friend of the court" in the now famous O'Fallon case, makes the statement, after having read the decision of the Supreme Court, that the "most remarkable feature of the decision is the uncertainty in which it leaves the law concerning the valuation of public utilities, in spite of the tremendous effort of all the participants to obtain a clear statement of just what the law is."

It seems that the Supreme Court felt there should be more emphasis in making a valuation of any railroad property on reproductive value or the present "construction" cost. But how much more? This the Supreme Court ignored. It leaves the Interstate Commerce Commission in a quandary. It is now attempting to work out a plan on which it may proceed with valuations.

But say it goes ahead, works out a plan, and again the Supreme Court is asked to rule on the plan adopted, based on what the commission believes the O'Fallon decision really means—what happens then?

Today no one can tell whether the final valuation set up, which the Interstate Commerce Commission adopted, will hold "water" should a test case again come before the United States Supreme Court.

"So no one can do more than guess at what may follow," says Mr. Richberg. "The law is that 'such weight as may be just and right in each case' shall be given a large number of variable uncertain and inconsistent factors which must be weighed according to unknown ratios." But how?

The attorney, familiar with the case from the beginning, issues this warning: "Consolidation of railroads into large units of still greater 'actual value' (which provided the basis for increased rates,) should not be encouraged unless accompanied by additional safeguards of the public interest in reasonable rates."

The O'Fallon decision, so long awaited, has apparently settled nothing.

E. P. Blanchard of the Bullard Company, makers of automobile machinery, estimates that automobile production in the United States reached a record of $10.55 per capita for the first quarter of this year, as compared to $7.26 per capita for the same period last year. This is a new way of estimating motor production. The figures represent an increase of 51 per cent over production figures for the first three months of 1928.

Think of 1,460,801 cars being produced during the first three months of this year, to be retailed at $1,314,000,000. Compare this with 968,851 cars manufactured during the same period in 1928, with a total value of $872,000,000. So the estimated increase for the first three months this year is $442,000,000.

But export figures receive greater attention now than ever before. During the first three months of this year, 169,105 cars valued at about $152,000,000 were sent out of the country, leaving about $1,162,500,000 worth of automobiles which were taken by the people of the United States. Compare this with 1928, when 115,986 cars were exported, leaving a little more than $767,000,000 worth of cars to be absorbed in the United States.

Net Earnings of Electrical Company Gain

Net earnings of the Diamond Electrical Manufacturing Company for the first five months of this year increased 56 per cent over the corresponding period of the previous year, according to a statement issued yesterday by J. H. Pengilly, secretary-treasurer of the company, following a meeting of the board of directors.

Earned surplus of the company, Mr. Pengilly stated, stood at $109,600 as of May 31, last. This is sufficient, he added, to meet preferred dividend requirements for nearly three years. The directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock and 50 cents on the common, payable the 29th inst. to stock of record the 20th inst.

It was announced that the company will place on the market a new piece of electrical apparatus about September 1, and the last quarter earnings are expected to be boosted as a result of the anticipated profits. Details of the apparatus were not given out.

AIR EXPRESS DISCUSSED

Recent developments in the operations of Western Air Express are discussed in a report being issued by Los Angeles Investment Securities Company. It covers contemplated plans for expansion of flying and port facilities, a record of operations and earnings, and an outline of the company's capital structure.

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—The revived bull campaign on the stock market ran into heavy week-end profit-taking today and closing prices were highly irregular, [illegible] yesterday's accelerated pace of trading was maintained, total sales exceeding 3,300,000 shares.

Call money was considerably easier holding at 7 per cent all day, with some funds available in the outside market as low as 6½. The effect upon sentiment of these lower rates to carry over the week-end, however, was partially offset by bankers' forecasts of scarce money beginning about Wednesday of next week, as a result of the mid-month settlements.

The market opened strong on bullish interpretations placed on the Federal Reserve condition statements, but it was definitely stated in Federal Reserve circles that there had been no change in the tight money policy. Wall street is looking for improved credit conditions beginning in early July, however, with the passing of heavy financing requirements. A further trickle of gold into New York was disclosed with takings of $2,[illegible] in Canada and $1,000,000 in Buenos Aires.

Prominent in the day's news was the passage of the farm-relief measure, without the debenture scheme which was favorably received in Wall street. Montgomery Ward announced the cutting of a $[illegible] melon through granting of rights. Gasoline prices were advanced [illegible] cent in Pennsylvania, Delaware and Houston, Tex. LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Gilmore Boosted on Rumors of Developments at Annual Meeting; Transamerica Higher

Small gains were scattered throughout the list in the trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, although the volume of trading was light. Gilmore Oil stepped forward as an active bidder for attention in the oil group, and advanced 2¼ points to a high and close of 13¾. The rise was accompanied by a respectable volume of sales for a stock that has been in the doldrums for some time.

In connection with the activity in Gilmore the rumor was circulated that some interesting developments may materialize at the annual meeting on Tuesday. The company, according to current reports, has been improving its position lately, and it is possible that holders are in line for a distribution of some kind.

Transamerica Corporation responded to rumors of impending developments in the East and to the announcement that an offer has been made for the acquisition of all shares of Bank of America of California. The stock sold up [illegible] to a final price of 136 7-8. At the same time, Merchants' National Trust, representing stock to be exchanged for Bank of America of California, slumped 5 points to [illegible]

Several industrial issues were noticeably stronger. Hydraulic Brake, which has been quiet lately, climbed 1-4 to 56½ and Jantzen Knitting Mills, another inactive stock, moved up ½ to 42½. Byron Jackson improved 1-4 to 35½, while Douglas Aircraft receded from its high for the day of 40 to a close of 39 7-8, a net loss of 1-8 point.

Public utilities, which attracted considerable attention on the previous day, settled back again to quiet trading. Pacific Lighting acquired 1 point at 84, and Pacific Public Service, a new listing, was up 1-8 at 23½.

Lower priced oils like Occidental, Bolsa Chica "A" and Republican Petroleum improved slightly, while Union Oil Associates managed to move up 1-4 to 47 1-4. Standard and Richfield were off fractionally, and Rio Grande was unchanged.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—Strength of the Liberty loan issues and the United States Treasury certificates, steadied the bond list today. Trading was moderately active, with high-grade domestic obligations keeping generally within fractions of yesterday's final quotations on an irregular trend.

Liberty 3½s, which have been hovering close to the year's low, the Fourth Liberty 4¼s and the Treasury 4¼s brought out the best buying. Some of the activity in the first two was attributed to purchases by foreign governments for their debt accounts. The listed Treasury issues made the largest advances, while the new 5⅛s, selling over the counter, were again marked up as large dealers, who were alloted only one-fifth of their subscriptions, bought to fill orders.

American Telephone convertible 4½s traded in unusually large volume, but moved within a narrow price range to close at 124¾, for a net advance of ½. Sales of this issue, which was offered to stockholders at par, totaled slightly more than $2,000,000, par value. Other convertibles and stock warrant bonds advanced from about ½ to 1½ points.

Rails maintained their recent steadiness. Erie issues were somewhat stronger on reports that a dividend on the preferred stock, the first since 1907, would probably be declared. Northern Pacific 4½s advanced 1½, while Atchison general 4s, one of the market barometers, moved up ½. Sellers of the few Wabash bonds that changed hands were forced to take losses, which in the case of the second 5s, amounted to 3 points. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy 3½s, Illinois division, yielded 2⅝, while that road's general 4s sold down 1¼.

Foreign sugars afford a center of speculative attention and the Cuban Dominican 7½s, the Sugar Estates of Oriente 7s and Vertientes Sugar 7s profited to the extent of 2 to nearly 4 points on the day.

Among the firm utilities, Duquesne Light 4½s, Utilities Power and Light 5½s, Tennessee Electric Power 6s, Public Service Electric and Gas 5s, and Louisville Gas and Electric 5s made the best advances.

Industrials were easy. Pierce-Arrow 8s declined 1⅞, while Fisk Rubber 8s, Gotham Silk Hosiery 6s and International Match 5s also sold off.

Fiat 7s and Pirelli 7s, two Italian convertibles, featured the irregular foreign list, advancing 3 and 5 points, respectively. Rhine Westphalia 6s, ex-warrants, sold at a new year's low of 88½, down 4 points.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—The raw sugar market was firmer today, with refiners showing more interest at 3.49, but offerings light and holders asking higher levels. Sales reported included 20,000 bags of Porto Rican, 21,000 bags Philippine and 8500 bags of Cuban for June shipment at 3.49; 20,000 bags of Cuban for July shipment at 3.52 and 7000 bags of Philippines for July-August at 3.55.

In refined a good withdrawal demand was reported and second-hand sugars were said to be moving in increasing volume. Prices were unchanged, with all refiners listing at 5.00, while second-hands were available at around 4.90.

Futures closed firm; approximated sales, 31,800 tons: July, 1.68; September, 1.77; December, 1.83; March, 1.94; May, 2.02.

The Composite Trust

A Combined Investment Plan and Insurance Trust

STATE LEGISLATION which becomes effective August 15, 1929, will permit us on that date to present complete details of our new Composite Trust.

Combining the features and advantages of the Trust Investment Plan and the Insurance Trust, the Composite Trust provides:

First: A sound and systematic plan for the creation of an estate, gauged to meet aptly the requirements and aspirations of progressive men and women;

Second: The establishment, maintenance and skilled administration of a life insurance estate of substantial proportions;

Third: A life income for the Trustor;

Fourth: The means whereby the Trustor can assure for himself and his family a comfortable income during his later years;

Fifth: A plan by which the Trustor can provide for the permanent replacement of his earning power for the benefit of his dependents and heirs;

Sixth: Provisions for the completion of the accumulation program in the event of physical disability or death of the Trustor;

Seventh: All the Bank's facilities for research and security analysis as an essential factor of sound investment;

Eighth: The elimination of all court procedure in the settlement of the trust estate following the demise of the Trustor.

In formulating the Composite Trust and in establishing the safeguards which surround it, the Bank of America has drawn upon more than half a century of experience. The Composite Trust, we confidently believe, is a worthy expression of the Bank's steadfast purpose to provide the utmost in banking and trust service.

Service of New Jersey, and North American, all of which made new highs yesterday, falling back 2 to 5 points in realizing, while People's Gas dropped 8 points. Brooklyn Edison, a rather closely held issue, however, shot up 37 points to 340, duplicating its best price of the year, and Commonwealth Power jumped about 20 points to another peak at 238.

RAILS IMPROVE

A few of the rails gave a better account of themselves, Atchison and Norfolk and Western mounting about 4 points. Erie shares responded slightly to a report that the executive committee would consider resumption of preferred dividends at their meeting a fortnight from today. Steels were firm, United States Steel mounting more than 3 points to 177 1-4, but losing some of its gain later. In the merchandising group, Macy, Safeway and Sears, Roebuck made fair gains, but Montgomery Ward, after climbing about 5 points, reacted in "selling of the good news" of the granting of rights.

General Electric, after reaching a new peak at 301 3-4, fell back to 297, off a point, net. Columbian Carbon jumped 8 points to a new top, and Minneapolis Moline Power Implement and General Railway Signal reached new high territory.

Auburn Auto, after selling up 4½ points to a new top at 297½, tumbled to 275, and closed at 285, off 8. It was announced that President Cord is forming a new holding company. United States Industrial Alcohol and National Distillers fell back about 4 and 2 points in realizing, and Allis Chalmers, Air Reduction and A. M. Byers were among issues losing 2 to 6 points.

International Silver dropped about 5 points to a new low at 118, reflecting the decline in silver metal prices as a result of demonitization of the metal by several European countries.

In the commodity markets, wheat and corn closed about ½ to 3-4 of a cent higher on bullish weather reports and passage of the farm-relief measure. The cotton market appeared previously to have discounted the bullish May consumption figures, and closed 75 to 90 cents a bale lower.

Foreign exchanges were quiet, sterling cables rallying slightly to $4.84 13-16, with the Canadian dollar dropping to a discount of 7-8 of a cent.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, June 14. (Exclusive)—Despite the statistical position of the rubber industry in general, namely, the new high record for all time for crude rubber consumption in May and a decrease in importations, futures at the local rubber exchange today after opening 10 and 20 points above Thursday's finals turned weak after the first few minutes of business and continued in a downward trend throughout the day and resulting in losses of from 30 to 60 points. London spot was quiet and off 1-16d at 10⅛d and Singapore declined 1-16d to 9⅛d. Outside spot fell ⅛c to 20⅝c.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, June 14. (AP)—The wool market is very slow. Some demand is being received for fleece wools of medium grades for future delivery. There is little more inquiry for 64s and finer fleece wools at the lower range of prices recently quoted, but volume of business transacted has shown no improvement. The western-grown wools are very quiet on practically all grades.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—A tremendous turnover in public utility stocks, total transactions in Commonwealth and Southern alone setting a new high record at 1,032,400 shares, featured today's irregularly higher curb market. So great was the volume of orders that the tape fell nearly an hour behind the market at midday, and was thirty-eight minutes late in recording the final transaction. The day's sales were 2,616,500 shares, which contrasts with the record high of 3,048,400 on November 28 last.

Commonwealth and Southern opened with a block of 75,000 shares at 24, a record curb transaction, and then fluctuated within a range of less than 2 points, closing at 25 for a net gain of 1⅝. Buying of other issues was stimulated by the publication of unofficial terms for the exchange of the Northeastern Power stocks into those of the new holding company being formed by the Morgan-Drexel-Bonbright interests.

Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern, Penn-Ohio Edison and Southeastern Power and Light issues all soared 5 to 12 points to new high records, but not all the gains were maintained. Others to move into new high ground included American Gas and Electric, Central States warrants, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, National Fuel Gas, Northern States Power "A" and Standard Power and Light. Mohawk and Hudson attained a new peak at 102 and then dropped to 92½ for a net loss of more than 6 points. Electric Investors closed 4½ points lower.

American Cyanamid "B" ran up nearly 5 points on the reported acquisition of three other plants. Eisler Electric responded to the announcement of high current earnings by approaching to within about a point of the high established before the May break. Royal Typewriter jumped nearly 8 points to a new high at 88. Transamerica Corporation advanced moderately on the announcement of its offer to acquire all the stock of the Bank of America of California.

Grigsby Grunow ran up more than 6 points and Hazeltine advanced about 2. Aviation Corporation of America and National Aviation pointed upward, but Fokker lost ground. Oils were dull and colorless. Paramount Cab sank to a new low, but Checker rallied 1½ points. Bahia Corporation and Blaumers sank into new low ground for the year.

A total of 124 stocks were quoted ex-dividend today, a new high record. Of the 1060 securities traded in on the curb, 1340 are on a dividend-paying basis.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14. (AP)—Three banking issues, the American Company, Bank of California and Transamerica made the outstanding gains and led the market on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today. Closely following were the industrials, a number of which advanced substantially. The oils were under pressure and the utilities were mixed.

The American Company, which closed at 139 on Thursday, opened at 150, but settled back to 144, with a net gain of 5. Bank of California, opening at 335, with an overnight gain of 10, jumped to a new high at 346, up 20 points. Transamerica strengthened to 136⅞, a gain of 1⅞.

In the industrial section, Caterpillar Tractor advanced 1⅞ to 78. Leslie Salt added 1 at 32 and Oliver Filters "B" at 29⅞ was up 1⅞. Fractional gains were shown by Byron Jackson at 35⅞, Associated Insurance at 16, California Packing at 75⅞, and Foster & Kleiser at 11⅞.

Slightly lower levels were touched by Crown Zellerbach common at 18⅞, John Bean at 49⅞ and Illinois Pacific Glass at 30⅞. New lows were chalked against Galland Laundry at 49⅞, Sperry Flour at 82 and Roos Brothers common at 31¼. Aviation Corporation of California, after registering a new low at 24⅞, rallied to 25⅞, up ⅞.

Among the utilities, Pacific Lighting moved up 1⅞ to 84⅞ and Pacific Gas and Electric preferred added ⅞ at 26⅞. Pacific Gas and Electric common was off ⅞ at 61, after touching 61⅞.

In the oil group, Standard dropped ⅞ to 74⅞, Union at 47⅞, Union Associates at 47, Shell Union at 37⅞ and Tidewater at 21⅞ dipped ⅞. Richfield preferred was steady at 24.

Magnavox opened at 4.55, climbed to 5.00 and settled at the close to 4.85, up 15 cents.

PITCAIRN AVIATION ACQUIRED

Curtiss-Keys Interests Announce Acquisition of Southern Concern

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—C. M. Keys, head of the Curtiss-Keys group of aviation interests, today announced the purchase of the entire capital stock of Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., which operates the air mail to the south.

"I have bought the entire capital stock of Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., together with its flying services at various points in the south, but not including any of the manufacturing interests of Harold F. Pitcairn," Keys said.

"Mr. Pitcairn desires, he tells me, to concentrate his efforts on manufacturing. Personally I regret his retirement from the air transport field and hope some time he will come back to it.

"We are going to carry on with the old staff the work Pitcairn has begun. His studies indicate a good possibility for the development of rail and air passenger connections, perhaps seasonable in character, between the North and the South, and we intend to develop these possibilities so far as seems reasonable."

CALIFORNIA STANDARD MAY BUILD PIPE LINE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14. (Exclusive)—Standard Oil Company of California is surveying a route for a 10-inch pipe line from Kettleman Hills to Tidewater. The Kettleman Hills terminal has not been decided upon, but the Tidewater terminal will probably be Port San Luis where Union Oil also has terminal facilities. The proposed line would be approximately 70 miles long.

BIOPHONE SUED AS PATENT INFRINGER

NEW YORK, June 14. (Exclusive) Western Electric Company and Electrical Research Products, Inc., have filed a suit against the Biophone Corporation for infringment of sixteen patents covering important features of sound reproducing systems as used in talking motion pictures.

PROJECT THRIVING

Merced Irrigation's Retirement Fund Balance Large

After the payment of bond interest of $961,881.78, the fund established by the Merced Irrigation District for the payment of interest and the retirement of bonds showed a cash balance of $794,582.78 for the year of 1928, according to the annual report of the district. The general fund maintained for the operation, maintenance and improvement charges of the district showed a balance of $44,210.81. Capital expenditures during the year totaled $412,547.05.

Judgment for $67,000 against the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation was won by the company, the report states. This decision, it is pointed out, assures the district an additional revenue of $67,000 a year for the term of the power contract.

CLEARINGS GAIN

Total for Hollywood Banks in Five Months Sets Mark

Hollywood bank clearings for the first five months of 1929 registered a remarkable increase with a total of $230,084,614.19, as compared with $157,167,273.24, for the corresponding period of 1928, a gain of $72,917,340.95, or 46 per cent, according to an announcement made yesterday by G. R. Dexter, president of Bank of Hollywood.

At this rate of increase Hollywood bank clearings will go well beyond the $500,000,000 mark in 1929, he declared.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Incendio Forestal que Está Causando Estragos en Méjico

NOGALES (Arizona), Junio 14.—Un terrible incendio de bosques se ha declarado en territorio mejicano, cuatro millas al sudeste de aquí. Las llamas se extienden sobre un frente de siete millas. Ayer mañana comenzó el fuego, y pronto se comunicó a una extensa área de bosque reseco. Existen, según se dice, muy buenos ranchos dentro de la faja por donde camina el fuego.

Con Motivo de la Prorrata de Cintas Quedan Muchos sin Trabajo

PARIS, Junio 14.—Los directores de empresas cinematográficas norteamericanas han despedido a unos mil empleados franceses, que estuvieron conservando durante varios meses a pesar de no haber trabajo para ellos. Las empresas esperaban que se resolviera el problema del intercambio proporcional de vistas. Los empleados despedidos han convocado un mitin para mañana, a fin de ver si se acuerda alguna gestión unida.

Los altos empleados de las empresas norteamericanas de cine han conservado sólo una pequeña fuerza de ayudantes para atender a sus contratos viejos. Declaran que no podrán hacerse negocios nuevos mientras el gobierno francés no proponga las condiciones que ellos consideran satisfactorias para la importación de películas yanquis.

Apruébase por Fin la Ley de Ayuda a Agricultores

WASHINGTON, Junio 14.—Ha terminado hoy la larga lucha sobre legislación agrícola con la votación por ambas cámaras del proyecto de ley de auxilios que favorecía a la administración.

Dicha disposición legislativa, que representa el resultado último de años de estudio y controversia política, ha sido firmada inmediatamente por el vicepresidente Curtis y el "speaker" Longworth, y enviada al presidente Hoover, quien piensa firmarla mañana, dándole de ese modo valor y fuerza de ley.

Están convencidos los líderes agrícolas de que el presidente nombrará pronto la Dirección Federal Agrícola, cuya creación dispone la nueva ley, solicitará un fuerte crédito para que dicha dirección intente la estabilización de la agricultura, y tendrá particular interés en que este novísimo remedio legislativo de males económicos se empiece a aplicar bajo buenos auspicios.

La Señora Coolidge También Empuña la Péñola

Merle Crowell, redactor del "American Magazine", ha anunciado hoy que la señora Coolidge acaba de completar una serie de artículos, que habrán de revelar muchos episodios íntimos ocurridos durante la administración del señor Coolidge, y relacionados con la vida doméstica del presidente.

NUEVA YORK, Junio 14.—A la defensa de los izquierdos ha salido el doctor Ralph Haefner, conocido investigador de la Universidad de Columbia. Una prueba que instituyó entre chicos de las escuelas públicas le ha convencido de que la zurdería no es un obstáculo para el desarrollo de la inteligencia; y, en tal virtud, juzga que hacen mal papá y mamá en golpearle los nudillos al chico cuando éste demuestra preferencia por su mano izquierda.

La Hija de Wilson Prefiere Ser Madre a Ser Senadora

BOSTON, Junio 14.—Una hija de Woodrow Wilson prefiere la carrera de madre de sus hijos a una curul en el senado federal. A indicaciones de que podría optar con éxito al cargo de senadora, ha contestado lo siguiente la señora Francis B. Sayre: "Tengo tal querencia por mi marido, mis hijos y mi casa, que no puedo pensar en actividades que me alejen de ellos."

NOTAS LOCALES

Se Prorroga el Plazo de unos Billetes de Excursión

Para la apertura de los viajes veraniegos de Julio, a precios de recreo por viajes de ida y vuelta, han convenido las empresas ferrocarrileras del Sudpacífico, el Santa Fe y el Union Pacific en prorrogar el plazo de validez de los billetes de tarifa especial.

Los billetes de ida y vuelta, que se vendan por las dos terceras partes del precio normal, podrán adquirirse hasta el Día de la Independencia, y serán válidos para el retorno hasta el 8 de Julio. Aquellos viajeros que no puedan concluir su viaje dentro del límite estipulado tendrán opción a una prórroga de dieciséis o de treinta días, pagando la diferencia entre la tarifa de recreo y la aplicable a billetes con dieciséis o treinta días de plazo.

Se Anuncia un Salto con Tres Paracaídas

La suerte más peligrosa de los saltos con paracaídas, la llamada "salto del triple paracaídas", será presentada mañana a las 3 p.m. a los espectadores que concurran al Gran Aeropuerto Central con ese fin. La practicará Frank Brooks, veterano saltador, que tiene ya en su activo 2090 descensos en paracaídas.

Brooks se arrojará de un pequeño avión en pleno vuelo, con tres paracaídas de un peso total de 110 libras asegurados en la espalda. Muchos dueños de avión, y muchas otras personas asisten a los programas de sábado y domingo en el aeropuerto de la compañía Maddux-Transcontinental-Pickwick - Nevada, sito en Glendale, intersección de San Fernando Road y avenida de Sonora.

Entre 3 y 4, aparecerá sobre el Gran Terminal el dirigible "Volunteer", de la Goodyear. Esta noche se iluminará el aeropuerto, y se inaugurarán oficialmente los vuelos con un programa musical, de baile y de aviación.

CHARTER SLOWS PORTER BROOM

OFFICIALLY READY FOR CRYER'S SEAT

John C. Porter

NEW MAYOR TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Porter Quietly Becomes Certified as City's Chief With Only Few Present

Without notifying many friends and supporters who had desired to make an occasion of the event, John C. Porter took the oath of office yesterday for his term as Mayor of Los Angeles, which begins July 1. The oath was administered by City Clerk Dominguez in the presence of Merle Allen, an executive of the Porter campaign organization, and Albert E. Sherman, a close personal friend.

The ceremony was brief, starting with the receipt by Mr. Porter of his certificate of election from the City Clerk. Then Mr. Dominguez read the oath, the Mayor-elect signified his assent and signed the register containing the oath. Mr. Dominguez wished the Mayor-elect success in his administration. Mr. Porter thanked him and quickly left the City Hall to return to the mountain resort where he has been resting since the election.

It was on his physician's orders that the Mayor-elect repaired to the mountains after his election and it had been assumed that he would not return to the city, even to take the oath, until a day or two before the start of his term. He attended to no other business on his trip to the city yesterday, going directly to the City Hall and setting out directly for his vacation resort as soon as the official business was concluded.

Film Stars Will Aid at Benefit

Players of stage and screen will appear Monday night on the Junior Chamber of Commerce benefit program at the Majestic Theater, according to Ross McPhee, chairman in charge.

Funds derived from the sale of tickets will be used to establish a fund to aid certain needy cases. The entire house has been bought out for that night and an elaborate program has been planned, McPhee declared.

Among those donating their services are Paul Whiteman's rhythm makers, Lina Basquette, Barbara Kent, Mary McAllister, Tom Bergin, Morrie Lief and others. Edward Everett Horton has planned several innovations in conjunction with the show.

JACOBSON CASE NEARING JURORS

Arguments in "Frame-up" Concluded Today

Fifteen Hours Employed Reviewing Evidence

Judge Reads Instructions This Morning

The case against Mrs. Callie Grimes of Beagle street and five police officers, accused of "framing" the arrest of Councilman Jacobson, is scheduled to be given to the jury this morning. Final arguments were nearly completed last night, making a total of fifteen hours spent by attorneys in reviewing the evidence to the nine men and three women who sit in the jury box.

In spite of the fact that the jury is expected to get the case today, the Jacobson-Grimes incident is due for another rehashing Tuesday, when the grand jury is to investigate charges that Jacobson used improper methods to induce Mrs. Grimes to tell the former grand jury a story that would run parallel to his.

FINAL TALK THIS MORNING

The final address of counsel was made by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison. He failed to conclude in the time allotted and will speak for a few minutes at the opening of court this morning. In the course of his argument, Mr. Dennison said that so far as the conspiracy was concerned, it was immaterial whether Jacobson removed his clothing or whether it was snatched from him by force. Mr. Dennison, following Defense Attorney Paul D'Orr, who talked for more than four hours.

This morning Superior Judge Wilson will read his instructions on points of law, and the case will be presented to the jury before noon. With five defendants charged with conspiracy, an early decision is not expected by courtroom observers.

ACQUITTALS ASKED

Defense Attorney Joseph Fainer started proceedings yesterday morning by pleading for acquittal for his clients, Special Investigator Harry Raymond and Patrolman Frank Cox. He asked the jury not to "guess" them into the penitentiary on what he termed the nebulous deductions drawn by the prosecution.

D'Orr, who is defending Captain of Detectives Wallis, covered the two weeks of testimony at great length, and made an attempt to riddle the story told by Councilman Jacobson, who occupied a front-row seat during the argument.

On Thursday Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bush, for the State, and Defense Attorneys Paul Schenck for Detective-Lieutenant Richard Lucas, Joseph Ryan for Captain of Detectives Frank Williams, and Leo Dase for Mrs. Grimes, had their say.

City Asked to Take Beacon From Tower

Removal of the airplane beacon and platform surrounding it from the City Hall tower was requested by the Municipal Art Commission in a communication received yesterday by the Board of Public Works. No member of the board was sympathetic to the idea, however, and the communication was filed.

The letter from the Art Commission did not state the grounds of the commission's objections to the beacon and platform, but said its action was based on arguments advanced in a letter to The Times from Crandal Mackey, which was published early last week.

In the letter Mr. Mackey characterized the presence of the beacon and platform at the top of the tower as "a desecration and a sad reflection on the good taste of those responsible."

TWINS MAKE CLUB SMILE

Members of the Canadian Club yesterday were congratulating their president, G. M. Grant of 4522 Edgewood Place, who was wearing an extra-wide smile. Grant, who is an attorney, had to explain that Mrs. Grant had presented him with twin boys on Thursday at the Queen of Angels Hospital. The newest eligibles for the Canadian Club's waiting list weighed respectively six and seven pounds upon arrival. Mr. and Mrs. Grant came here from Saskatoon, Sask., and already had one son, 4 years of age.

FRANCHISE CASE TO BE TRIED

City Loses Plea for Judgment in Suit Against Gas and Electric Corporation

Superior Judge Collier yesterday signed an order denying a motion for a judgment on the pleadings in an injunction suit brought by the city against the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation wherein an order is asked to restrain the company furnishing electricity in the city to customers for purposes other than lighting. The ruling was made after several days of oral argument by attorneys in the action.

The injunction is asked on the ground that the company's franchise to furnish current for power machinery and heating expired in 1916 and never was renewed. The court is asked to restrain the company from furnishing its current and to allow damages for unlawful use of the streets since 1916.

Recently attorneys for the city appeared before Judge Collier with a motion for a judgment on the pleadings in the pending action. They also filed a demurer to the company's answer. While the arguments were under way they filed a motion that the court define the issues in the case.

After hearing the arguments Judge Collier denied the motion for the judgment on the pleadings and denied in part the demurrer and sustained it in part. He also denied the motion to define the issues.

The probability now is that the case will be set for trial after Judge Collier returns from Santa Barbara, where he has been ordered by the Judicial Council to hear a water case, the trial of which will last several months.

Attorneys for the defendant company assert the company has a right to use the streets of Los Angeles for furnishing electric current for both lighting and power; that the city slept on its rights when the company's franchise expired.

It is pointed out that no action was taken at the time of the expiration of the franchise to compel the company to renew it; that the city stood by and allowed the company to spend millions of dollars for improvements and for equipment to furnish power to plants that use electric power; that even the city itself bought power from the company, therefore, it is estopped from demanding any rights now it might have had in 1916.

Had the motion which was before Judge Collier been granted, it would have practically ended the case now pending and enjoined the

KERR URGES NEW VOTERS TO REGISTER

Public Reminded of City and County Elections to be Held on Early Dates

With several elections looming in various parts of the city and county Registrar of Voters W. M. Kerr yesterday directed attention to the fact that registration of voters is open at all times, both for new registrations and transfers. In fact registrations and elections in this county, he pointed out, never cease. Special elections scheduled for the near future follow:

Pasadena city bond election and San Gabriel county water district bond election, the 18th inst.; Long Beach city recall election, July 11; Los Angeles city municipal improvement district No. 67 election (Devonshire street, San Fernando Valley,) and Los Angeles city municipal improvement district No. 70 election (Van Nuys,) July 23; Los Angeles City municipal improvement district No. 68 election (Reseda Park,) July 24; Los Angeles city municipal improvement district No. 69 election (Hollywood Knolls,) August 20.

In preparing the precinct registers and revising the indexes thereto for the Long Beach city recall election, July 11, the Registrar of Voters finds that there are 67,707 voters registered for this election, 32,448 male and 35,259 female, a large percentage of which have been transfers.

For the Pasadena city bond election there are 16,785 male and 21,092 female voters registered, making a total of 37,877 voters registered for this election.

Family to Get Bulk of Estate by Packer Will

Under the terms of a will filed for probate yesterday, the late Stephen C. Packer, prominent Glendale automobile dealer, left the bulk of his estate to his family.

Packer died May 13, last, leaving an estate, the income from which is estimated at $11,400 annually. He leaves 390 shares of stock in his automobile business to his son, Donald H. Packer, 394 shares in trust for his daughter, Doris Packer, New York actress, and ten shares to his grandson, Jerry Packer.

Household goods and the residue of the estate is bequeathed to the widow, who is credited by the testator with helping him build his fortune.

COURTHOUSE GROWS WINGS

Judge, Attorneys and Witnesses Fly North to See How Placer Mines Work

BY W. W. FERGUSON
"Times" Staff Representative

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Los Angeles county's "flying courthouse," with Superior Judge Stephens's department of the Superior Court, including attorneys and witnesses engaged in the trial of a case aboard, landed at Oakland Airport today, on the way for an aerial inspection of various placer mining properties in the Sacramento and American River districts.

The "flying courthouse" is a Western Air Express twelve-place Fokker three-motored plane, chartered for the trip by Millson William Downs, president of the San Gabriel Development Company, the defendant in a $500,000 condemnation suit brought by Flood Control Counsel Dowds for Los Angeles county to gain title of various placer mining claims owned by the defendant on the site of the $25,000,000 flood-control dam in process of construction.

TIME SAVING WAY

Mr. Dowds and his attorneys, John Martin and Alfred Dennis, desired to place before the court certain evidence regarding the operation of placer mining claims that could be presented only by a physical inspection of the properties. To have made the trip by rail and auto would have taken a week or ten days. So to save this time, valuable alike to the court and to the many prominent business men involved in the case, aerial transportation was chosen. As the case is being heard before the court without a jury, only one plane instead of two was required.

Experts for the county, summoned by Flood Control Counsel Dowds, who is representing the county's interests on the trip, have testified that the San Gabriel River sands cannot be worked profitably for gold. The defendants assert that sands bearing less gold than the San Gabriel gravels are being worked with great profit by power dredges in the La Grange and Folsom districts. They assert that more than $500,000 worth of gold can be recovered from the gravel that would be used by the contractors building the dam, at very little cost, as the gravel has to be washed and handled for use in concrete, anyway.

JUDGE ENTHUSIASTIC

Judge Stephens was enthusiastic over the performance of his "flying courthouse" when he landed at Oakland today.

"In the opinion of this court, air transportation is as safe as rail travel, and infinitely more interesting and convenient," the judge declared. "Just what conclusions can be reached by an aerial survey of a placer mine, I am not prepared to state at this time, but the way flying can make a tedious trip a real pleasure is evident to the casual observer.

"I am proud to be the first judge in California to use an airplane in speeding up the machinery of the law. I have no doubt but that the

DEFIANCE BY ATTORNEY CAUSES COURT UPROAR

Throwing the courtroom of Superior Judge Wood into an uproar when he refused to take his seat after being ordered to do so by the judge, William J. Clark, who with M. J. Phillips is representing two former officials of the Mutual Motors Corporation, was fined $100 for contempt just before court recessed yesterday.

Judge Wood ordered Attorney Clark to sit down during the cross-examination of a witness. Clark refused and the court then ordered Bailiff Parker to force Clark into his chair. Clark reached for an ink well and, for a moment, spectators visioned a free-for-all fight.

At the time the argument started, Clark had just finished cross-examining a witness and complained because the court had upheld objections of the prosecution.

"I suppose you had better send the jury out," Judge Wood remarked, "and you may make any offer of proof that you wish."

Attorney Clark interrupted the judge.

"Sit down until I get through," Judge Wood said.

"I shall not sit . . ."

"Mr. Bailiff, make him sit down," the court ordered.

"You keep your hands off me or I will have you arrested for battery," Clark shouted at Bailiff Parker.

"Sit down! Sit down! Sit down!" Judge Wood cried.

The bailiff then placed his hands on Attorney Clark's shoulders and the attorney cried, "Help! help! help!"

Attorney Phillips intervened on behalf of Attorney Clark at this time, informing the court that Clark "is a sick man."

Quiet was restored in a few moments and Clark arose once more, delivering a long speech in which he assigned the actions of Judge Wood as misconduct.

At the end of Clark's remarks Judge Wood fined Clark $100 for contempt of court, with an alternative of one day in jail for each $2 of the fine. Clark refused to make any move to pay the fine and the court announced that he would give him until 11 a.m. today to pay it.

And then Department 27 of the Superior Court adjourned.

INCREASES APPROVED BY COUNCIL

Many Employees of City Included in Schedule of Pay Advances

With only one Councilman voting consistently against the increases, Council yesterday approved pay advances for a large number of city employees. The lone objector was Councilman Alber, chairman of the Finance Committee. The increases are subject to approval by the Mayor.

By the action of Council yesterday, 174 janitors employed in the main City Hall and the branch city halls will have their pay of $100 to $115 a month raised to $115 to $125 a month. Others who will receive increases are motor truck drivers, mainly those employed in garbage collection.

The drivers of light trucks, who now receive $5 a day, are to receive $5.50 under the new schedule. This increase affects 176 drivers. Seven drivers of light trucks who are employed at night are slated for an increase from $5.25 to $5.75 a night. Fifty-nine drivers of heavy trucks, who now receive from $131.50 to $141.50 a month, are to be advanced to $145 a month.

Another large group affected by the increases are the street lighting construction helpers. They now receive $4.75 a day and will be advanced to $5.50 a day. Four animal slaughter inspectors employed by the health department, who have been receiving from $145 to $170 a month, had their titles changed by the Council to assistant veterinarians and their pay increased to $165 to $185 a month.

SAN GABRIEL'S WATER FIGURED

Conkling Report on Basin Looks Into Future

Costs to Rise Unless More Storage Provided

Rainfall for Fifty Years Studied in Plan

An analysis of the water supply of the San Gabriel Basin and recommendations for the development and conservation of the supply is contained in a report issued yesterday by the State Division of Water Rights following a survey conducted under the direction of Harold Conkling prior to his appointment as chief of the division.

One of the outstanding findings and recommendations in the report is that "if the precipitation (rainfall) occurs in the same wide variability it has in the last fifty years over the basin, costs of water supplies will be increased greatly for all, and it will not be possible for any group to escape the increase in costs. This will be in spite of the large expenditures for flood-control reservoirs now under way. Wise utilization of the best places of underground storage and avoidance of waste will hold down added costs to the minimum possible."

UNDERGROUND SOURCE

Another interesting observation made in the report is that the underground reservoirs in the basin are replenished by percolation from the streambeds during the winter floods in probably the same amount as by percolation of rainfall which comes directly to the valley floor.

The San Gabriel flood-control dam is the key structure to any program of conservation of the water, and it is estimated that this project, together with several other minor projects over the valley will effect a saving of 90,000 acre feet of water annually, or an increase of 30 per cent over the present use of water in the valley, which is now estimated at 300,000 acre feet.

OTHER CONCLUSIONS

Other conclusions drawn in the report are:

About 200,000 acre feet of storage capacity will be needed in San Gabriel Canyon to enable the underground reservoirs to be charged most efficiently. This capacity is believed to be needed in addition to any capacity reserved purely for flood control.

The construction of surface reservoirs will not prevent further lowering of the water plane, but will decrease the amount of such lowering.

The lowering of the water plane since 1916 has been due largely to subnormal rainfall since that year. The normal and natural recharge over a period when rainfall is average is sufficient for the present draft on the central part of San Gabriel Valley and that part of the coastal plain affected by San Gabriel River.

The draft on Raymond Basin is greater than the long-time average to recharge and a definite shortage exists. San Dimas and Glendora basins are on the verge of being overdrawn.

CONSERVATION REQUIRED

The supplies which can be salvaged are sufficient for the next fifteen years' development in San Gabriel Basin if this goes forward at the same rate as at present and unless sewage contamination makes water unusable.

Conservation of the wasted supplies of San Gabriel Basin depends on utilization of the surface reservoirs for getting the water underground in places where it will be retained longest. It is easy to get the surplus underground, but it will not be sufficient merely to put it underground in the easiest place. The places where it will be restrained longest are in the minor basins on the east and west of San Gabriel Valley. These should be utilized to the fullest extent possible by conduits from San Gabriel Canyon, where most of the waste originates.

IDEAL POLICEMAN PAINTED

Lecturer at U.S.C. Says Model Officer Has Tact, Intelligence and Honesty

That the ideal police officer possesses three qualifications, intelligence, honesty, and tact, was the opinion expressed by Dr. William B. Munro, who addressed the final session of Division A of the second annual short course in public administration yesterday at the University of Southern California. Dr. Munro lectured daily this week to a group of public officials and employees. He stated that Irishmen dominate the police forces of cities the world over because they combine courage and good humor.

Prof. Munro discussed desirable and objectionable features of the consolidation of cities and counties; the city manager and commission plans of municipal government; borough and township forms of governments; the basis of seniority as against the basis of merit, and the combination of the two in promotional practice in civic work; staff conferences, and stated that in many instances the overlapping of city and county jurisdiction is both wasteful and expensive.

Division B of the school, for mayors, councilmen, city managers, department heads, and city clerks, will meet next week, according to Emery E. Olson, professor of economics at Southern California, in charge of the summer institute dealing with public administration.

Dr. Munro will lecture daily at 1 o'clock with visitors admitted to this one session. Special classes will meet during the afternoons following his lecture. These sections will deal with sanitary engineering, headed by Dr. Harry N. Jenks of Iowa State University; Dr. Edwin A. Cottrell of Stanford University will lecture on budgets; Carl K. Chapin, commercial director of the Los Angeles Water and Power Department, will lecture on water supply; R. J. Burby of the college of commerce of the University of Southern California will head the section on governmental accounting; F. W. Mohlman, chief chemist, sanitation districts of Chicago, will have charge of the section on municipal chemistry and testing; and Dr. George B. Mangold of the school of social welfare of the University of Southern California will lecture on juvenile welfare.

Morning classes, from 10 o'clock to noon, also will meet each day to study problems dealing with recreation and parks; Dr. Leroy Bowman of Columbia University, secretary of the National Community Center Association, will have charge of this section.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

COUNT KEYSERLING says that a conquering people always take on the psychology of the conquered—provided that the people conquered have been next to the soil. That is to say, if the conquered have not conquered some other people to get the land.

This fact is shown in New Mexico.

There is nothing especially Spanish about Santa Fe or Taos. Not as Spanish as Los Angeles in many ways—in spite of the fact that the proceedings of the State Legislature are in two languages.

On the other hand, New Mexico is rapidly turning Indian.

TURNING INJUN

Probably no group of people in the world do so much to influence public thoughts as the writers and painters who have flocked to these high-brow towns, Taos and Santa Fe. And they are all imitating Indians.

Their houses are all elaborations of the adobe huts of the Indians. Their jewelry is all Indian. Their determined seclusion and the fierce hostility they show to modern innovations are all pueblo Indian. I have a suspicion that the old religions and the old superstitions have gained more than a little hold on some of our "finest minds."

AN OLD PHILOSOPHY

Some of the archeologists are quite frank in saying that their diggings among the Indians have given them a new philosophy.

Twice I have been shown the junk that a Navajo Indian medicine man carries in his bag—bits of earth, feathers, stones, scalps, bird claws. The collector in Los Angeles showed me and laughed. A world-famous archeologist showed me one like it with admiration and wonderment.

HIGH-BROW STUFF

The idea of the Indian medicine man is this:

That man is one element in a grand scheme of creation. There are rocks, animals, birds and man—all making up a complete symphony of harmony.

A sick man is one who has lost his sense of sympathetic touch and contact with one or another of these elements. Hence in his medicine bag, the medicine man carries something to represent each elemental fact of creation. If he can find out, by long inquiry, one with which the patient is out of [illegible] the cure is certain.

It is apparent that the first psycho-analyist slept in a hogan on a sheepskin.

UNCHANGING THOUGHT

There must be some fundamental reason why these Indian pueblos have maintained the most determined front against an alien people to be recorded in all human history.

They sell us beads and jewelry. They go to our schools and learn to speak our language; but we have not made one dent upon their habits of thought; their customs of life; and not much upon their ancient religions.

They go to church and make friends with the priest; and hold their secret religious dances on the hills; and sit in secret council in the kiva.

LIQUOR-RUNNING SECRETS TOLD

Unloaders Declared to Get $100 Per Night

Sugarman and Cornero Trial Develops Facts

Defendant "Spills Beans" on Illicit Traffic

One hundred dollars a night is the price paid for helpers who unload liquor on the beaches of Southern California, it was stated yesterday by Eddie Richards, a defendant who pleaded guilty and now is testifying for the government in the trial of Maurice Sugarman, Frankie Cornero and six others, accused of conspiracy to violate the national Prohibition Act. He said that he was so employed. The case involves several hundred thousands of dollars in liquor.

Testimony of Richards yesterday brought into the case the names of Frankie Cornero, brother of Tony Cornero, rum-runners, and Madeline Stralla, wife of Louis Crank and sister of the Corneros; as well as Crank himself. The testimony was corroborated by special intelligence agents of the government.

Lyle Chapman, a special intelligence agent, testified that he and other agents went to Sunset Beach and arrested Madeline Stralla and Richards. He said that he saw the young woman on the running board of a car, which later yielded forty-one cases of liquor. He stated he demanded and got a key from her to another car, which had twenty cases of liquor in it.

Also linking Frankie Cornero to the charges, Richards said that Cornero employed him to help Louis Crank, husband of Cornero's sister, Madeline Stralla, to unload liquor at Sunset Beach and that he did so for three days until arrested. He said he was to receive $100 a night for this service. He also said that Cornero told him to go over to that woman (Mrs. Ione Beck) and tell her to "stand pat."

Richards admitted that he previously had pleaded guilty to a liquor felony charge. The case will be resumed Tuesday.

Company to Establish Its Radio Telegraph Network Station Here for Coast

The potential resources of Los Angeles as a world center of commerce and industry as well as excellent business conditions assured by abundant power and water at low cost were two of the paramount reasons why this city is chosen as one of the fourteen key cities for the domestic radio telegraph network which will be established by R.C.A. Communications, Inc., it was announced yesterday by J. G. Harbord, president of the corporation.

In a statement issued by the R.C.A. official, it was pointed out that Los Angeles enjoys splendid outlets for all kinds of export and transportation. This city is one of the largest western markets and is destined for much greater importance because of the richness of the area which it serves.

Mr. Harbord's statement follows: "Los Angeles was selected as one of the fourteen key cities of the domestic radio telegraph network of the United States, which R.C.A. Communications, Inc., will establish, because its leadership for pleasant living and business conditions is assured by its abundant water and power at low cost, cheap fuel and low building costs.

"It is one of the largest western markets with excellent outlets for exports, rail connections and highways. With all these things accomplished, it still might be pointed out that Los Angeles is one of the youngest of our large cities, and the area which it serves is destined for a still greater development in the future.

"I was particularly interested recently in a statement by the United States Department of Commerce that 32 per cent of the aviation activity of the whole United States is centered in Southern California. It has great significance in indicating the forward looking quality of Los Angeles and its territory.

"These are some of the reasons why R.C.A. Communications, Inc., believed it was only good business to serve Los Angeles with radio communication in its new inland system."

FILM PLAYERS WILL AID IN LAKE PAGEANT

Betty Compson, Erich Von Stroheim, Margie Babe Kane and Don Douglas will aid in the Hollywood pageant at the Lake Norconian Club at 2 p.m. tomorrow. The pageant will be free to the public. They will appear on a mammoth stage erected on the shore of Lake Norconian, together with a singing and dancing chorus of sixty-five artists and an orchestra. Scenes from a picture just completed by James Cruze will be re-enacted on this outdoor stage with the original curtains and sets. Meals will be served during the pageant in the club's main dining-room, casino and tea house. Aquatic sports and a diving contest are to precede the performance and will begin at 11 a.m.

PEACE HAS HER MEDALS, TOO

For Service

Both the principal and a student of the Hollywood School for Girls were honored yesterday by the French government for outstanding work of the year past.

Mrs. W. L. Woolett was presented with the Palmes Academiques medal of honor and made an Officer d'Academie in recognition of her efforts and that of the school in behalf of French orphans and in appreciation of the school's French class. Miss Ariel Scholfield, a pupil, was given the Medal de l'Alliance Francaise for the most satisfactory work accomplished during the year by a student.

The honor conferred upon Mrs. Woolett was at the instance of L. N. Brunswig, a native of France, now resident in Los Angeles, who maintains a hospital for sixty-five tubercular French orphans at Trinite sur Mer to which Mrs. Woolett's school has made substantial contributions.

The medal bestowed upon Miss Scholfield is given each year to the leader of the school's French class.

NEW LAWS EFFECTIVE AUGUST 14

Judge Offers Opinion on Date Bills Will Become Statutes in California

Bills passed at the last session of the Legislature will become laws on August 14, next, no matter when they were approved by the Governor, according to the opinion of Superior Judge Bishop, chairman of the legislative committee of the Superior Court judges of Los Angeles county.

"The Legislature finally adjourned on May 15, last," Judge Bishop declared yesterday. "By Article IV, Sec. 1 of our State Constitution no acts, except those calling elections, those making appropriations for current expenses and a few emergency measures, go into effect until ninety days after the final adjournment of the Legislature. Inasmuch as referendum petitions may be filed at any time during this ninety-day period the effective date of general legislation cannot be before the ninety-first day after adjournment, which day, this year, is August 14.

"The Legislature may, of course, postpone the day its laws go into effect for a period beyond the minimum fixed by the Constitution. In years past confusion has arisen from such a provision, that contained in Sec. 323 of the Political Code. This section has been amended this year in harmony with the Constitution and all but emergency laws or those containing special provisions go into effect August 14."

Angelus Temple Flock to Hear Whoopee Singer

From a Ziegfeld show to the rostrum at Angelus Temple!

That's the transcontinental jump that will culminate tomorrow when Pietro Gentile, late second singing lead in the Broadway extravaganza, "Whoopee!" appears in the role of soloist before Aimee Semple McPherson's congregation.

Born in Foggia, Italy, Gentile who is only 24 years of age, spent his boyhood in Panama, where he gained fame as an athlete and later as athletic instructor. A year ago he went to New York and sang over the radio. Ziegfeld heard him and signed him for "Whoopee" in support of Eddie Cantor. Recently he left the stage, heeding the call of the talking pictures.

When Mrs. McPherson heard he was coming to Los Angeles she invited him to let her congregation hear him. He will sing "The Lord's Prayer" to a musical arrangement by Josephine Forsythe.

INSTITUTE'S ANNUAL ART SHOW OPENS

Otis School's Exhibition Seen by More Than 500; Student Prizes Awarded

The Otis Art Institute presented the work of its students in the main gallery of the Los Angeles Museum at Exposition Park last night. The opening of the annual exhibition was attended by more than 500 who viewed specimens of work from all departments of the school.

The annual student prizes were presented last night in recognition of specially meritorious work, the largest of these, the Huntington Assistance Prize of $100, going to Charles Morimoto.

Scholarships valued at $75 each were won by Preston Blair and Benjo Okubo; scholarships of $50 each were awarded to Betty Resnik, Koyoshi Ito and Pascal J. Lawson. Night school scholarships valued at $30 each went to J. X. Escalante and G. W. Schloat.

Howard Greiser, Bernice Denton and Vivien Valencia won the three scholarships for high-school students. These are valued at $120 each. Bivouac Club prizes of $20 each went to R. Dohl, Jack Siegel, Jean Doobrovo, Paul Walton, Ian Crandall, Pearl Schroeder, Richard H. Cowdrey, Frank Pfuff and Mariana Ulianoff, while the $10 prizes of the same club went to Louise Oliver and Adele Russell.

The exhibit embraces ten divisions and the work revealed much of the modern type both in design, painting, drawing and craft work, as well as in the arrangement of exhibits into alcoves constructed in the modern style with simple intersecting planes.

Many students received honorable mention for their work in the different departments. The exhibition will continue one month.

FIDDLER SAWS WAY INTO CITY

Illinois Man Says He Played Violin Every Step of Way from New York Here

Otto Funk, 62-year-old fiddler of Hillsboro, Ill., completed the last lap of his 4000-mile "fiddling-hike" from New York City to Los Angeles last night when he arrived here shortly after 7 p.m. from Pasadena.

The self-styled "walking fiddler" required 159 days to complete his coast-to-coast journey during which time he says he fiddled "every step of the way."

He will fiddle his way up Broadway this morning to present a letter of introduction to Mayor Cryer from Walker of New York City.

There is a difference between a fiddler and a violinist says Mr. Funk, who asserts he is both, adding "A violinist is just a fiddler with Sunday clothes on."

STATE GUNS SET FOR FRUIT PEST

Development Association Lays Tentative Plan

Forces Ready for Battle if Fly Invades California

Regional Advisory Council Holds Session Here

Organization of its resources for any emergency that may arise out of the possible invasion of California by the Mediterranean fruit fly, which has wrought havoc in Florida, has been perfected by the California Development Association, it was revealed at a meeting yesterday of the regional advisory council of that State-wide organization at the Alexandria. Report of E. W. Postlethwaite of Riverside, chairman of the agricultural committee of the council, shows that the committee already has taken every possible step to place the association behind any battle that may have to be waged in California against the pest.

COMMITTEE URGED

The report recommended a State-wide committee to make contact with all counties and to determine what organization work has been done or will be undertaken in the various counties toward combatting the possible invasion. The counties will be urged to prepare for any emergency, through organization, education and legislation. Attention of the council was called to the fact that the Mediterranean fruit fly has not made its appearance in Mexico, as yet, and the committee urged that the California Development Association call upon the proper Federal authorities to lend every possible aid to Mexico in keeping the fruit menace out of that country, as a further means of combatting the evil in the United States. Recommendations of the committee were adopted by the council.

RECOMMENDATION ADOPTED

Adoption of recommendations of the industrial committee to work for the standardization of lumber, as to grades, strength and kinds, was another feature of yesterday's conference. Similar standardization work in the iron and steel industry is now being carried out by the association and, upon motion of A. E. Holloway, chairman of the industrial committee, the council voted to urge adoption throughout the lumber industry of the State of standardization ideas promulgated by the United States Department of Commerce.

Report of the aeronautic committee of the council, through its chairman, Maj. T. C. MacCauley, revealed that the association's recently adopted plan of urging that names of communities in California be painted where pilots can read them and so identify their positions in the air, had borne fruit. Out of a total of 174 communities approached by the association, 112 have responded to the appeal, and others will follow suit, it was shown.

MANY AT LUNCHEON

Upon recommendation of the aeronautic committee, the council adopted a resolution to urge the establishment of a modern and safe airport at Santa Barbara, to complete the chain of coastal airports.

Popularization of winter sports in Southern California was urged upon the council by the publicity committee, headed by Justus F. Craemer of Orange.

Approximately 125 members of the council were present at the luncheon meeting at noon, which followed the morning sessions of the various committees. Dr. T. C. Young of Glendale, regional director, presided. Prominent among the speakers was Clinton M. Miller, regional vice-president.

STATE WILL START FLY SURVEY MONDAY

SACRAMENTO, June 14. (Exclusive)—G. H. Hecke, State Director of Agriculture, announced today that the State-wide fruit fly survey will get actively under way next Monday.

The survey was proposed by the department and indorsed at a conference of bankers, farmers and State officials here this week in order to determine definitely whether the Mediterranean fruit fly is existent in the State and to lay the groundwork for eradication efforts, should the pest be discovered.

In Southern California the field forces will be mobilized, under H. J. Ryan, Los Angeles county horticultural commissioner. In the north the work will be carried on by the horticultural commissioners under the direction of D. B. Mackie, senior entomologist of the State Department of Agriculture.

DECORATING TO BE TAUGHT

A summer course in interior decorating under the auspices of university college, downtown branch of University of Southern California, was announced yesterday, to begin Tuesday in Barker Brothers' auditorium. The course will last eight weeks, the class meeting on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, from 5:40 to 7:20 o'clock. Edgar Harrison Wileman will deliver the lectures.

ACTOR WEDS SINGER AT PARK

Pupil-Teacher Romance Culminates

George McDaniel and Bride

George McDaniel, actor, former screen "heavy" and opera singer, stole a march on his friends this week by hieing himself to Orange County Park, where, under the shade of the trees, he was married at noon Tuesday to Miss Evelyn Stringer, formerly of Denver and a professional singer.

The wedding was a culmination of a romance begun a year and a half ago when Miss Stringer enrolled as a pupil in voice instruction under McDaniel's tutelage. Although friends of the pair had been cognizant for some time that a wedding was in the offing, announcement yesterday of the event came as a distinct surprise.

McDaniel is now appearing in "The Yellow Jacket," Chinese fantasy at the Figueroa Playhouse, and the play, due to go north in a week, will provide the wedding trip. Following the conclusion of its run, the pair will go to New York, where McDaniel will appear in the leading role and his bride in a minor characterization in a new play by Don Marquis, author of "The Old Soak."

Rev. William Fenton Dwight of the Church of Faith, Los Angeles, an old family friend of the bride, made the trip to Orange County Park to perform the wedding ceremony, which was attended by the mothers of the couple, Mrs. Minnie Stringer of Los Angeles and Mrs. John L. McDaniel of San Fernando.

One of McDaniel's best-known screen roles was in "The Shepherd of the Hills," from Harold Bell Wright's novel. He was for many years a leading baritone singer in Victor Herbert and Gilbert and Sullivan operas. His current role at the Playhouse marks his first appearance on the stage in three years.

Julian's Auto to Be Sold at Public Auction

An expensive automobile once in the possession of C. C. Julian will be sold at public auction on August 11, next, by Deputy Sheriff Barton to satisfy a judgment for $4012.75 against the promoter, Capt. A. C. Jewell, chief of Sheriff Traeger's civil department, announced yesterday.

Since the car was placed under attachment by the Sheriff's office, O. S. Witherell presented a claim of part-ownership in the vehicle. Despite this fact the automobile will be sold and it will be necessary for Witherell to bring suit for his share of the proceeds, Capt. Jewell said.

The original judgment was obtained against Julian by Harry Heise in Superior Court August 14, 1928. Heise asserted that the money was due on a promissory note. After obtaining the judgment, Heise assigned it to Roland Siegel.

COUNCIL DENIES PROTESTS

The City Council yesterday denied the protests against the ordinances of intention for the improvement of Cochran avenue between Third street and Wilshire Boulevard, Sweetzer avenue between Rosewood avenue and Beverly Boulevard, Cloverdale avenue between Third street and Wilshire Boulevard, Rhodes avenue between Kittridge street and Victory Boulevard, and Huston street between Bellflower avenue and Tujunga avenue.

FUNERAL OF MAJ. LUMBY TO BE TODAY

Salvation Army Official Will Be Laid to Rest in Organization's Plot

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today at the W. A. Brown funeral parlors, 1815 South Flower street, for Maj. Walter Lumby of the Salvation Army and superintendent of the Evangeline Home, who died on the 12th inst. Commissioner Adam Gifford of San Francisco, western commander, will officiate, and the eulogy will be delivered by Col. Walter F. Jenkins, aide to Commander Evangeline Booth. Interment will be in the Salvation Army plot at Inglewood Memorial Park.

MAJ. WALTER LUMBY.

Maj. Lumby leaves his widow and a sister, Miss Lou Lumby of Oakland. Tomorrow evening, memorial services will be conducted at the Temple Corps Building, 832 West Ninth street.

Maj. Lumby died at Hollywood Hospital, at 66 years of age, following cerebral hemorrhages. He was born in Birkenhead, Eng., and had been in the United States many years. The family home is at 7711 South Harvard Boulevard.

C. E. Burge, Board of Harbor Commissioners.

William C. Means, Playground Commission.

Harold Swartz, Municipal Art Commission.

Mrs. Warren McIntyre, president, Humane Treatment of Animals Commission.

M. C. Bettinger, Social Service Commission.

James C. Good, Board of Health.

Lyman Farwell, vice-president, City Planning Commission.

C. E. Noerenberg, Building and Safety Commission.

MAY BE RETAINED

It is deemed probable in many instances, that Mayor Porter will retain some or all of the members of existing appointive bodies, his chief desire for a change in personnel being centered on the Police Commission and the Harbor Board.

In addition to Police Commissioner Gollum, the members of the police body include: Dell A. Schweitzer, president; Mark A. Pierce, Earl B. Gilmore and W. O. Thorpe.

The Harbor Commission is composed of the following members in addition to Mr. Burge: Walter B. Allen, president; J. A. Crawford, vice-president; F. M. Andreani and Emerson Spear.

One important Cryer appointee—in fact a most self-important appointee—whom The Watchman has not mentioned, is H. H. Kinney, the retiring Mayor's secretary. Kinney, as much as Kent Parrot or other professional politicians associated with the two administrations of Mayor Cryer, has been generally regarded as being responsible for the hesitant and variable character of the Cryer policies and program.

Thus far Mayor-elect Porter has not made known his intentions with regard to Secretary Kinney, but it is understood to be a certainty that the next secretary will not be the same functionary whose principal apparent delight during the last eight years has been his publicly and privately acknowledged right to call the city's chief executive "George."

JAPANESE LABOR PARTY LEADER IN CITY FOR VISIT

Known in his own country as the "Ramsay MacDonald of Japan," Isoo Abe, member of the Japanese Parliament and Labor party leader of Tokio, is a visitor in Los Angeles yesterday.

Mr. Abe, accompanied by his wife, came to California about a month ago for his health and, finding himself much improved within a few days, launched into a lecture tour that has taken him to the principal cities of California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, where he has addressed large audiences of Japanese on political questions at present at issue in Japan.

The distinguished visitor is the head of the Proletarian or Labor party in Japan, which seated eight members in Parliament at the last election. As a candidate for Mayor of Tokio, he polled the largest popular vote ever given a Labor leader.

The Japanese lawmaker, when he was a member of the Waseda University faculty in 1905, carried on negotiations that resulted in baseball games between Waseda and Stanford, an innovation that grew in favor until succeeding years saw many American universities making the trip to Japan. Mr. Abe, himself educated in an American college, believes the games do much to promote friendly relations between America and Japan.

The Japanese visitor will remain on the Pacific Coast until next Wednesday when he is scheduled to sail for Japan from San Francisco. While in Los Angeles, he and his wife are guests at the home of Dr. Roy H. Akagi, 1314 West Thirty-seventh street.

STREET-CAR WHEELS END MAN'S LIFE

Witnesses Divided on Suicide or Accident in Death of Sufferer

Henry Silverman, 65 years of age, of 322 South Flower street, was killed instantly yesterday, when he was ground beneath the wheels of a street car at Third and Flower streets. Eyewitnesses were divided in their opinion of whether he fell accidentally or hurled himself deliberately in front of the car as it made a turn from Flower into Third street. The man's body was terribly mangled and the work of extricating it from the trucks tied up rush-hour traffic in the vicinity for some time.

Mrs. Caty Vertrees, manager of the hotel at the Flower-street address where Silverman lived, told police he was a victim of an incurable malady and was of a brooding turn of mind, lending credence to the theory of suicide. It is said he was a charge of the Associated Jewish Charities.

Motorman H. E. Adams and Conductor J. J. McFarlane, in charge of the car which struck Silverman, were not held by police.

TENNIS WORK APPROVED

The Park Commission yesterday approved the recommendation of Landscape Engineer Hall that Davis & Davis be granted the contract to surface eight tennis courts in Vermont Canyon, Griffith Park, with emulsified cold asphalt at a cost of $3998, or approximately $500 for each court.

ADDICT RETREAT OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Southern California May Get Federal Narcotic Farm

Possibility Seen in Arrival of State Senator Young

Site Committee Head to Stay Here for Several Days

Possibility of the establishment in Southern California of the Federal government's proposed $5,000,000 farm colony for narcotic addicts was seen in the arrival here yesterday of State Senator Young, chairman of the special committee recently appointed by Gov. Young to provide suitable tentative sites to be suggested to the government.

Although the committee has several sites under consideration for recommendation, the committee has found nothing that fully comes up to the requirements, he said yesterday at the Alexandria. Senator Young plans to remain in Southern California for several days. He is co-operating with Frank H. Benson, State narcotic director and secretary of the committee, and O. T. [illegible], Jr., member of the committee.

"I can see no good reason why California should not be able to get this Federal narcotic farm," Senator Young said. "It would be an excellent thing for the State, since it would prove a great economic factor in the further development of the West."

An island, because of its remoteness, would prove the ideal location for such a farm, but an island that would meet all the requirements is difficult to find, he explained. Natural barriers to prevent the escape of inmates is one of the chief factors which Federal authorities will be guided by in reaching a decision as to location.

Although several other western States are anxious to have the proposed narcotic farm located within their borders, California's chances are regarded as excellent. In fact, the Senator said, he is convinced that this State eventually will be the one selected.

HIGHWAY CONTRACT AWARDED

Ventura Boulevard Work Will be Done by Peck; Other Jobs Approved

The contract for the improvement of Ventura Boulevard between Lankershim Boulevard and Pacoima avenue, for which Municipal Improvement District No. 62 was formed, was awarded yesterday by the Board of Public Works to the Will P. Peck Company for $230,827.-[illegible]. The same company previously had been awarded the contract for the improvement of Ventura Boulevard between Pacoima avenue and [illegible] Boulevard, for which Municipal Improvement District No. [illegible] was formed, for $439,373, bringing the total cost of the present Ventura Boulevard improvement program to $670,200.05.

The board yesterday also awarded another large contract for street improvement work in the San Fernando Valley, this being for the improvement of Lankershim Boulevard between Burbank Boulevard and Ventura Boulevard. It was let for $170,286.80. Another contract awarded yesterday was for the improvement of Huntington Drive between Thelma avenue and Mission Road. It was for $62,610. The awarding of several other smaller contracts brought the total value of contracts let by the board yesterday to $966,412.05.

OFFICIALS GIVE REPLY TO ATTACK

Police Board Members Answer Judge Doran in Merritt Case

A reply to Superior Judge Doran's denunciation of the Police Commission, over the reinstatement last [illegible] of Officer Axel D. Merritt to the police force, was made yesterday by President Schweitzer and Commissioner Pierce. Merritt was involved in the theft of four cases of liquor from Henry Higgs, of 1129 West [illegible] street.

"It seems very queer," said Schweitzer, "that Judge Doran, if correctly quoted, should make such a statement. I cannot understand it in view of Merritt's acquittal."

Pierce pointed out that usually, when a suspended officer is acquitted by a court of any charges, he automatically is restored to duty, and that in the case of Merritt a hearing was held by the commission, at which Riggs stated that he was unable to identify positively Merritt as one of the two officers who took the liquor.

"Our action," said Pierce, "was based on the fact that the court acquitted Merritt. Under these circumstances why should we be condemned for restoring him to duty?"

Councilman's Aide Marries

When Virginia Roche, secretary to Councilman Webster, came to work yesterday she informed her friends at the City Hall that she is no longer Virginia Roche, but now is Mrs. John H. Sides, having been married Wednesday evening to Lieut. John H. Sides of the United States Navy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold G. Griffith at the Wilshire Christian Church. Lieut. Sides has been recalled to duty on his ship, the destroyer [illegible], which is stationed at San Diego, and the couple's honeymoon has been postponed until after July 1, when Mrs. Sides will give up her position and join her husband at Coronado, where they will establish their residence.

HART REPLIES TO SCHENCK

Two-Gun Screen Hero Throws Down Gantlet to Producer in Word Duel Over Making of Talkie

Virtually charging that he had been banned from the screen by theatrical and producing interests, William S. Hart, hero of many successful western features, yesterday flung down the gantlet in the contention that has arisen over his proposed return to the films. The Hart move follows closely on the heels of his voluntary cancellation of a contract that he held with Hal Roach, comedy producer, for making a cowboy feature, and was rebuttal to a statement by Nicholas M. Schenck, president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, that Hart pictures recently have not been successful on the screen.

To an inquiry made in New York as to whether there was any misunderstanding between him and Hart, Schenck had issued a peremptory denial. He further stated, according to telegraphic advices:

"Our contract with Hal Roach calls for him to make comedies which we distribute. We did not care as a matter of business policy to undertake the distribution of a western talkie picture such as the Hart contract called for, and I wired Mr. Roach to that effect. Mr. Roach then dropped the contract with Hart on his own responsibility after Mr. Hart had agreed to this step. As a matter of fact, I was willing to help to the greatest degree that I could by waiving our rights under our contract with Mr. Roach and willing for him to release the Hart pictures wherever he could. Why Mr. Roach did not avail himself of this permission is something that I cannot explain, as I have not heard from him since I sent my answer to his request."

STATEMENT CALLED SILLY

Schenck denied emphatically that he had squelched the contract because of a screen ban placed upon Hart. "Not a bit," he continued. "Why should there be a ban. The only reason I know to justify such a report is that the few pictures Hart has made of late years have not been successful. But that has not resulted in any ban. It is just the opposite. Everybody likes Mr. aHrt and that is why I tried to help as much as I could by waiving our release rights."

"The statement made by Mr. Schenck is silly on the face of it," Hart rejoined here yesterday. "It does not conform with the wire which he sent to Mr. Roach the 6th inst., in which he definitely drew to his attention the undesirability of his action in signing me for a picture. The last sentence of that wire in which he stated 'but we do not expect you to do this again' definitely indicated his attitude on the subject. The only polite thing that I could do in the circumstances was to release Mr. Roach from his contract.

"The statement made by Mr. Schenck that my pictures in late years have not been successful is absolutely erroneous. I can point to 'Tumbleweeds' for clear-cut proof. This picture was played in 11,078 theaters, according to actual figures, and I mean not 11,078 theaters in the world at large, but in America. The best expectations when it was released were that it would play in 8000, but it has exceeded this by a large margin. There are only about 14,000 theaters regularly running in the country, and allowing for competitive houses it would be impossible for any picture to play in all of them.

SKEPTICAL ABOUT IT

"Mr. Schenck speaks of wishing to help me, but I can hardly believe this is true when he makes such a misstatement as that my more recent pictures have not been successful."

Continuing on the subject of his screen efforts being interfered with, Mr. Hart said: "When Mr. Roach broached the matter of my returning for a western talkie through George Ullman, I told him that I was skeptical about the possibilities. I said to him: 'Hal there are certain interests connected with the big motion-picture theaters in this country that don't want me, and you must be sure of a release for my pictures before you make one.' He said that that was a good idea, and that he would look into it, and he assured me after a few days that everything would be all right, because he had spoken to the officials of the Metro-Goldwyn company here, and he was told he could go ahead. The contract was signed May 30. The telegram from Mr. Schenck did not come until nearly a week later. This fact in itself is I think quite significant."

JOB HERE FOR COTTON MATHER

Court Hears Angeleno Testify to Witch's Spell on Home; Charms Fail to Lift Hex from Wife, So Judge Sends Her to Norwalk for Sanctuary

That there are many people living right here in Los Angeles who believe in witches, who tie ropes around their homes and use other charms to protect themselves and who are preyed upon by witch doctors who charge as much as $100 for treatments, was revealed yesterday in the Psychopathic Court at a hearing on the sanity of Mrs. Concha Pedgredon, 35 years of age.

During the course of the hearing the husband of the woman, Jose Pedgredon, and other members of the family insisted the patient was not insane, but bewitched by a woman who lives close to the Pedgredon home. Physicians, however, testified she was suffering from dementia praecox, after which Presiding Superior Judge Gould ordered Mrs. Pedgredon sent to the State Hospital at Norwalk for treatment.

RELATIVES, TOO

Relatives of the patient were sincere in their belief that Mrs. Pedgredon was bewitched by a neighbor whose machinations, they said, had brought disaster not only to the mother of the household, but also to two sons. They also, according to their testimony, had consulted a witch doctor who would have broken the spell on Mrs. Pedgredon for a $100 fee. In their own efforts they had tied a rope around the house and used other charms to drive the witches away.

Question: What is the matter with your wife?

Answer. My wife has been sick. We think that the trouble is caused by a woman who lives close to our home, who has bewitched her and also her boy, who has been sick for several weeks.

Q. What makes you think the neighbor's bewitch your wife?

A.: Because of signs that we see around the house.

Q.: What are those signs?

A.: We see dogs. One day they told us they were going to come into our place to get her and all we saw come into the place was two dogs.

Q.: What did you do to get rid of these witches?

A.: We haven't done very much; three in the family have been sick like that, but we have cured them. This woman told us she was going to fix the boy, too. My boy is sick now.

Q.: Do you have a witch doctor to take care of them?

A.: Yes. I don't remember her name.

MAGIC COMES HIGH

Q.: What does she charge you for a treatment to drive out the witches?

A.: To get them in good shape she charges $100.

Q.: Haven't you any means of keeping witches out of your house?

A.: That kind of people have means of getting in; they give powders in a secret way. I can't keep them out that way. There are lots of things we have seen and we know that is what is the trouble.

Q.: What has been the matter with your wife, aside from these witches bothering her? What does she do or what does she say?

SELF-DEBATER

A.: She just mumbles and talks to herself and refuses to eat.

Q.: How long has this been going on?

A.: Four or five days. Some days she is worse than others.

At this point physicians and psychiatrists entered the examination, declaring that the patient is suffering from dementia praecox. They recommended her committal to a hospital.

KILOWATTS IMPERILED BY VICIOUS LITTLE BUGS

Rescue forces of the Southern California Edison Company have been mobilized to save thousands of embryo kilowatts from the ravages of progeny of the Caddis fly which lurk in the tunnels and flumes that carry water into the company's hydroelectric plants. Two thousand young kilowatts were saved yesterday at the company's Kern River No. 3 plant. The rescue campaign is conducted annually with the coming of warm weather, when the Caddis fly eggs hatch.

The potential lives of useful kilowatts are menaced when larvae of the Caddis fly build up obstructions on the walls and bottoms of the waterways, seriously retarding the flow of water into the power houses. These obstructions, like barnacles on the bottoms of ships, must be scraped away.

At the Kern River No. 3 plant, where the normal rate of flow is 620 second feet, the larvae had built up barriers that reduced the rate of flow forty second feet in a year.

The larvae of the Caddis fly are equipped with vicious little hooks which enable them to cling to the waterways. As they cling, they spin minute webs which act as a net for particles of dirt and vegetable matter in the water, from which they extract their food. With countless "bugs" spinning webs, the accumulation of moss-like growth on the waterway walls is rapid. When the larger tunnels and flumes are cleaned, the water is shut off while workers armed with especially designed "bug eradicators" clear away the obstructions. In the smaller pipe lines oak brush balls, slightly smaller than the pipes, are forced through under pressure of the water.

AD CLUB HEAD WILL GIVE PULPIT TALK IN NORTH

Flying to San Francisco and preaching a sermon in the First Methodist Church of Oakland will be the experience of Herman A. Nater, vice-president of the National Bank of Italy Trust and Savings Association and president of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles.

Mr. Nater will leave this morning in a Maddux plane from the Grand Central Airport, Glendale, to attend the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs in the Bay City next week.

"Keeping in close contact with the Methodist church is a good thing, in my opinion," Mr. Nater explained. "You see I married the daughter of a Methodist minister."

"It's just to be a plain business talk developed from the theme, 'Impressions,' and will touch the application of Christian principles in business."

Six members of the club were invited to occupy the pulpits of various San Francisco and Oakland churches tomorrow and all have accepted. This will be Mr. Nater's first experience in speaking from the pulpit, as he has had no theological training.

More than 100 members of the Ad Club will leave for the convention tomorrow morning. Mr. Nater also expects to make the return trip next Friday by airplane.

BATTLE FLEET SAILS TUESDAY

Puget Sound Will be Goal of Many Warships

Aircraft Group, However, to Stay at Local Port

Other Units Will Take Part in Activities Here

The battleship divisions and destroyer squadrons will depart the local area next Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. for their annual summer cruise on Puget Sound, it was announced yesterday aboard the battle fleet flagship California.

Although the dreadnaughts and destroyers will not return from the North until August 31, the local base will present a busy navy scene all summer, since the aircraft squadrons, headed by the carriers Saratoga and Lexington, will base at Los Angeles Harbor all summer for intensive aerial tactical training; the dreadnaught Colorado will base here as a "schoolroom" for a new advanced course in fire control for selected officers of the fleet, and fleet auxiliaries will operate from this base.

The battleships and destroyers, holding tactical exercises en route, will go from Los Angeles Harbor to San Francisco for a week's good-will visit at the Bay City. They will arrive in the Puget Sound area about July 10, after visits at Fourth of July ports. The Colorado, remaining at Los Angeles Harbor, will dress ship during the day and illuminate ship at night on Independence Day, with an interesting program arranged for civilian visitors aboard.

Rear-Admiral Frank H. Schofield yesterday boarded his flagship New Mexico to assume command of Battleship Division Four, the post being vacant since early May when Vice-Admiral William C. Cole left for the Atlantic to assume command of the scouting fleet.

The Pacific Coast itinerary of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ernest Lee Jahncke, who is making an around-America aerial tour in a navy trimotored Fokker transport monoplane, was announced yesterday on the California.

Mr. Jahncke will arrive at San Diego from New Orleans on the 20th inst., fly to Long Beach on the 22nd inst. and go aboard the aircraft carrier Saratoga; fly to Los Angeles on the 23rd inst.; fly to San Francisco on the 24th inst.; to Portland on the 26th inst.; Seattle on the 27th inst.; fly over the Puget Sound country on the 28th inst.; fly to Salt Lake City on the 29th inst., returning via Chicago and arriving in Washington July 6. His plane is being piloted by Lieut. W. G. Tomlinson, winner of this year's Curtiss marine trophy.

PAIR FETED ON SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. E. Fleury Honored at Gathering of Three Generations

Completion of a quarter of a century of married life was celebrated last night by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fleury, of 3500 Hunter Drive, when they were the honored guests of members of the family and a large circle of friends at a twenty-fifth-anniversary party in the auditorium of the Y.W.C.A. at 435 South Boyle street.

MRS EUGENE FLEURY

Mr. and Mrs. Fleury both were prominent in the musical department of St. Francis Xavier's Church, New York City, where they were married on June 15, 1904, and continued their work there until they moved to California in 1920. Three generations of the family were present at the silver anniversary, the youngest being the year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eck, Mrs. Eck being the daughter of the celebrating couple.

EUGENE FLEURY

The celebration was arranged by Mrs. Hubert Cheap, sister of Mrs. Fleury, and Mrs. Albert Cheap, a niece. The gathering was unique in that almost all members of the group of 100 are related. The younger members of the party enjoyed dancing during the earlier part of the evening, while friendships and acquaintances started in the eastern States were renewed by the elders.

A huge cake, bearing the inscription: "25 years; Eugene and Catherine" formed the piece de resistance of the wedding anniversary refreshments which were served at the large table in the center of the room and at which the honor guests and friends and neighbors were seated.

Truck Driver Critically Hurt

Dick Kelly, 26-year-old truck driver of 3821 Wall street, yesterday suffered injuries that surgeons reported may prove fatal, when his truck collided with an automobile at Sixth street and Manhattan Place. The other car was driven, according to the police report, by George P. Thatcher of 2722 Menlo avenue, who was released when he satisfied investigating officers that he was not responsible for the crash.

Kelly first was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and then removed to Santa Fe Hospital, where it was said he has possible internal injuries and a possible broken back.

DANCER TRIPS WAY INTO FILM CONTRACT

Babe Kane

Babe Kane, pretty little dancer from Chicago, will not have to worry any more, not for five years at least, about crashing the gate at Hollywood to get into motion pictures. For yesterday Miss Kane, who is 20 years of age, went before Superior Judge Keetch with her guardian and mother, Mrs. Lillian Kane, and signed a five-year contract with James Cruze, motion-picture producer.

Babe, whose real name is Marjorie, first made her appearance in Los Angeles about a year ago with a part in a stage play, "Good News."

SEATS FOR PAGEANT SELL FAST

Coliseum Likely to be Filled for Elks' Event on Night of July 11

Indications that the Coliseum again will be sold out for the $1,000,000 motion-picture electrical pageant which the motion-picture industry will present Thursday night, July 11, for the sixty-fifth Elks' convention here July 7 to 13, were evidenced by the brisk demand for tickets at all Elks' box offices yesterday.

It is expected that all seats will be reserved well in advance of the opening of the conclave, according to a statement issued at convention headquarters last night. The best seats in the Coliseum have been set aside for the public sale and while the demand is heavy, there still are available choice seats, it was stated.

Tickets, admitting to both the great Elk and Grand Elk dress parade, in which 10,000 Elks will march dressed in a variety of colorful costumes on Thursday afternoon, July 11, and for the $1,000,000 motion picture electrical pageant that evening, cost $2.50. They may be obtained at B. H. Dyas stores, Seventh and Olive streets and Hollywood Boulevard at Vine street and at the Elks' Temple, opposite Westlake Park.

This will be the last time that the mammoth electrical pageant ever will be presented, according to Director-General Jack L. Warner. It will be more elaborate in illumination effects and will contain more floats than when presented for the Shrine conclave.

Edwin Carewe and ex-Wife to Wed Tomorrow

Edwin Carewe and his divorced wife, Mary Akin Carewe, former motion-picture actress, will be remarried in Chicago tomorrow, according to a wire received in Hollywood yesterday from Carewe, who now is in the Windy City. Mrs. Carewe left for Chicago on Thursday.

Immediately following the wedding, the wire said, Mr. and Mrs. Carewe will depart for New York, where they will board a liner for a second honeymoon in Europe. They expect to be absent several months.

The wedding, the message said, will be quiet, performed in the presence of a few Chicago friends.

The reconciliation between the Carewes was effected several weeks ago in Hollywood before he left for the East on business.

On his return to Hollywood Carewe will take up his new duties as a producer at United Artists studio. He will give up directorial work after twenty-five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Carewe were divorced a year ago this month in Mexico, where they were married in 1925. They have two children.

Creche Benefit Set for Today

Music, dancing and a fashion show will be given this afternoon by friends of Castelar Creche, a home for babies under one year of age. The affair will be held on the grounds of the W. A. Clark, Jr., residence at 2205 West Adams street, and is under the auspices of the Tri Gamma Sorority. Period and character dances are to be given by Ann Douglas and Jean Ballou. Samuel Pedraza, Mexican tenor, will give a recital of Mexican songs. There will be a fashion display, with hats by Annette Dupin and gowns by Alice Phinney, worn by debutantes.

The Castelar Creche takes infants of any race or sect and has an average of thirty in the home the year around. It was founded in 1920 by the late Mrs. Michael J. Connell.

Here in Los Angeles there is a wonderful opportunity to make money with candies! The Liberty Candy and Supply Co. will teach you to make all kinds of high-class candies, ice cream, frozen delicacies, cake icings, and glace fruit so my advice is that you go up and see them at one! Their address is fourth floor, Grant Bldg., 355 S. Bdwy. TUcker 4156.

Looking for some reliable concern to make slip covers for your furniture? . . . then let me urge you to go to the West Coast Slip Co., 1425 W. 8th. (DRexel 6728.) who make, as well, beautiful draperies! Their slip covers fit perfectly, indeed, you will find this concern absolutely dependable in every way.

To preserve soft rubber goods, suspend articles, or rest them on a rack, several inches from the bottom of an inclosure, in which place a small quantity of kerosene. The vapor arising will prevent cracking without injuring the goods.

Good old picnic parties you may have as frequently as you please, for they are no trouble at all to get up now that you know about the "Sur-Val" Box Lunches and Sandwiches that may be bought at a moment's notice and which are so very inexpensive—a factor which is worth considering. The Sur-Val Box Lunch Company is located at 608 Mateo street and it is interesting to know that if in San Francisco, Oakland or Long Beach you may obtain the same excellent lunches and sandwiches. Arrange to have a picnic or beach party tomorrow, calling up FAber 1176 for box lunches or sandwiches.

To clean piano keys, use a piece of muslin dipped in alcohol. For very yellow keys, use flannel moistened with cologne water; (common water turns them yellow.) Finely powdered French chalk mixed with benzine is also good.

It is a never-ceasing source of pleasure to bank in the Woman's Banking Department of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association at Seventh and Olive streets. You will be able to go to Miss Grace S. Stoermer, the gracious head of the department, on all financial matters and be assured of her services at all times.

A good paste—Take one-half teaspoonful each of starch and flour and add a little boiling water; let stand a moment, add more water, and stir and cook until thick. It spreads smooth, sticks well and does not mold or discolor paper. Add ten drops of oil of cloves to each half-pint to improve its lasting qualities.

Now is the propitious time to have your rugs cleaned! Now, do let me urge you to send them to John Bloeser, City Steam Carpet Cleaning Works, 2152 Sacramento St. (TRinity 4739.) Such excellent work is done here . . . Why, do you know your rugs will come home not only thoroughly clean but bright in colors and satisfactory in every way. This concern is known far and near for their reliable work. So you may intrust your finest rugs to them.

It is a hard thing to find adjectives which do justice to the grape beverages and desserts you can make from Guasti Concentrated Grape Juice! What is it about this intriguing product made by the Italian Vineyard Company which produces a growing desire for more and more? Summer time thirsts are so delightfully quenched with the grape juice which it makes by adding three parts water, while the splendid part about it is that it is so very healthful, refreshing and beneficial as well.

Then in the matter of desserts take their Guasti Special as an example . . . isn't it perfectly delicious? Here is the recipe if you haven't tried it yet:

Guasti Special: Place one scoop vanilla ice cream and one scoop pineapple ice in fancy dish; pour over this mixture of one part cube bananas, one part cube cherries and one part Guasti Concentrated Grape Juice; top with whipped cream.

Now to procure Guasti (pronounced Gwah-Stee) Concentrated Grape Juice. It may be bought in quarts or gallons from your grocer. If he can't supply you call up MUtual 2124 and the order department of the Italian Vineyard Co. of 1248 Palmetto street will at once see that you are taken care of. Remind them, won't you, to send you one of their free booklets, entitled, "Grape Drinks and Desserts."

When using an electric fan, if the buzz is annoying, slip a thick newspaper or magazine under the base of the fan and the noise will cease.

Nothing looks more attractive in your beach cottage than Fluff rugs or Colonial rugs. The Hoffman Rug Works, 2914 W. Jefferson, (Empire 2078), make them at a very reasonable price out of your old carpets and rags. Order them now why don't you?

To pick up broken glass easily, even the smallest pieces, pat gently with wet absorbent cotton, or a damp woolen cloth, which can afterward be burned.

Peggy, it was, who lamented the fact that she had been unable to buy old-fashioned country sausage to serve for Sunday morning breakfast. Well then you can imagine, can't you, what a lot of pleasure I derived from being able to recommend with highest praise, the Western Sausage Company's product—telling this little friend how their sausage was made out of eastern shoulder fresh inspected by the government, if you please. Only the finest of spices are added for seasoning, which makes it most delicious. You can see it made while you wait at 300 1-2 S. Broadway, 302 S. Hill, and 6400 Hollywood Blvd.

To clean white woolen toys, etc. —Use a paste made with white starch and cold water—just enough water to dissolve the starch; rub it well all over the soiled toy and lay it aside until it is dry; then brush off all traces of starch.

Hurry up—the last call is sounded for your son and daughter to have their photographs taken before graduation, at one-half the original cost! By mentioning the school attended when making an appointment with Witzel, photographer, they can procure this remarkable reduction. Isn't that splendid news? Witzel's do make the most artistic portraits—indeed, you can travel the world over and you couldn't get any truer likenesses. Arrange for a sitting this coming week, won't you? There are two studios: One at 1611 W. 7th; the other at 6324 Hollywood Blvd.

The most alluring French prints are to be found in the picture department of Mathews' Paint Company's three stores . . . while their English prints and etchings of innumerable scenes are quite the loveliest I have seen in many a day.

Do you know this picture and framing department is unusually interesting? You can find just the wedding gift you desire among the host of framed and unframed subjects and if you are desirous of procuring a frame for the photograph or picture you own, why, nowhere will you see more appropriate frames or mouldings.

Go in soon and satisfy yourself of their allure. There are three addresses to visit: One is at 1245 S. Hill; another, 1559 Vine (corner of Selma,) Hollywood, while the third is at 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

For novelty candle-holders use rosy-cheeked apples, polished and hollowed out to receive the end of a candle; at a children's party, where a color scheme of red and white is carried out, nothing more suitable could be designed.

Travaglini's Roma Rotisserie at 1801 West Seventh, corner of Burlington, is now under the management of "John" and his brothers. They will continue to serve in the rotisserie and food shop the same delectable things to eat and take home that you had before! Go in, won't you, and dine there soon or take home to serve the ready prepared food.

Let me suggest that you go to H. E. Simank, 725 West Ninth, to have special pieces of furniture made. Mr. Simank is well known for his distinctive furniture, which is made to order if you so desire. He does reupholstering and refinishing, too. TUcker 2642 is the phone number.

To deaden a telephone or doorbell during sickness or for very nervous persons, slip blotting paper under the edge of the bells.

No matter how badly bent your old silver is—nor how tarnished and worn, the Peerless Platers will make it look like new and wear even better. The address of this concern is 239½ S. Spring (upstairs), while their phone number is VA. 5417. P.S.: Their prices are ridiculously small; workmanship is excellent.

Felice used to make her own ice cream—then one day she heard me speak in glowing terms of Hughes Ice Cream, whereupon she bought a quart! Well, the moral of this story is this: Felice now eats Hughes altogether because she realizes that the same rich, thick cream, fresh fruit juices and best chocolate and vanilla she employed goes into the making of Hughes. Wouldn't it be well for you to buy this same kind of ice cream?

VETERAN OF SALVATION ARMY HERE

Col. Jenkins, First Aide to Evangeline Booth, Will be Tendered Reception

Col. Walter F. Jenkins of the Salvation Army, national secretary and first assistant to Evangeline Booth, is in Los Angeles en route to the national conference of social workers which will be held in San Francisco next week.

Several meetings will be held in Southern California during the next three days, at which the veteran religious worker will tell of the new government of the Salvation Army. When questioned concerning the recent election in London of Gen. Edward John Higgins to succeed Gen. Bramwell Booth as head of the army, he gave as his opinion that "sole trusteeship in the Salvation Army is a thing of the past." The young, progressive element of the organization will rule henceforth, he believes.

Col. Jenkins has been an officer in the army for forty-six years. He will address a Salvation Army meeting in Long Beach Tuesday. A reception will be given for him at the citadel here on Wednesday.

WHITEMAN DUE TODAY WITH HIS ORCHESTRA

Paul Whiteman and his orchestra are due to arrive at 9:30 a.m. today at the Southern Pacific station, coming to broadcast the Paul Whiteman hour weekly from Los Angeles and to make a sound picture for Universal. The reception, in which a number of bands are scheduled to participate, will be broadcast. Whiteman will parade to Pantages Theater where he is to play a week's engagement. This marks the conclusion of his transcontinental tour of the Columbia Broadcasting System's chain. The tour was sponsored by the P. Lorillard Company.

Woman Held on Charge of Arson

Mrs. Eva M. Wheat, 920 Georgia street, was held for trial in Superior Court on second-degree arson charges, following her preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Galbreth yesterday.

Witnesses introduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman testified that there were six fires instead of one. Harry B. Light, former army colonel, declared that he observed Mrs. Wheat with a flaming torch on her back porch, where a fire later was discovered.

CITY ENVOY GOES EAST

D. O. Hoye, chief accountant of the City Controller's department, left yesterday for Chicago, where he will represent the city at the international convention of city comptrollers and accounting officers. The convention meets each year and Mr. Hoye is planning to bring it to Los Angeles in the not-distant future.

HEARING POSTPONED

Hearing of protests against the ordinance of intention for the installation of lights on Federal avenue between Wilshire Boulevard and Ohio avenue, was postponed yesterday by the City Council to August 15, next.

Today's Bible Text

Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. Matthew xxiv:42.

FORTIFICATIONS

Dr. Hubert Work resigns as head of the Republican National Committee. Secretary Good is also out of the leadership. Now there is a call for Congressman Franklin Fort of New Jersey to take command during the dull season. If the Good-Work combination may not carry on we may still hold the Fort.

TRIP TO THE MOON

The French Astronomical Society gives a prize of 10,000 francs to Prof. Herman Oberth of the Rumanian University for his device for going to the moon in four hours by means of a rocket-propelled car. And they call these guys scientists! Why don't they join the professor in a trip!

MAY SHED TEARS

Sheriff Traeger is reported as having acquired a stock of several hundred of the newest wrinkle in tear bombs. Wastrels who start a rough-house are apt to be very demonstrative with their remorse. A few whiffs will take the fight out of any guy. A couple of these can break up any party.

THE DIFFERENCE

The Van Sweringen railroad interests are about to commence the construction of a $90,000,000 union station in the city of Cleveland. Why can't our railway lines be as chivalrous to the city that gives them their business and prestige? The Van Sweringens live in Cleveland and take pride in the place.

SCIENCE AND CRIME

Prof. August Vollmer, who for a time held down the trying job of Chief of Police in Los Angeles, has already assumed the new chair of criminology at Chicago University and students who crave to be cops or detectives may here acquire an intelligent start. Science and psychology are getting together in the effort to solve and stifle crime.

NO WANT ALIMONY

There was great surprise for one of our local judges the other day. A wife scornfully refused to accept the divorce alimony which the court offered to affix. It isn't often that a lady behaves that way. They may refuse to have aught to do with the man, but they will still take his money. So the judge made a big red mark on his blotter and called the next case.

NO GIANTS IN THOSE DAYS

A scientist says that the tales about giants walking this earth in ancient days are all guff. The man who found that Eve was more than thirty feet high and Adam much taller was dreaming. This authority says that a man fifty feet tall could not walk. The bones in his thighs and ankles could never support the weight of the carcass. Anybody wishing to pick a fight with the professor over this assertion may go ahead.

SLANDER BY RADIO

The Governor has signed the bill which provides a penalty for malicious slander when broadcast over the radio. Punishment is already provided for slander that is spread in print or over the back fence and all States now agree that the wireless kind must also be penalized. Because of its unguessed circulation and far-reaching results the radio slander may easily be the worst of all. The radio is primarily for entertainment rather than gossip.

LOOKING BACKWARD

There is report of the discovery in an ancient cave in France of two skeletons, one evidently of a creature of the Paleolithic age while the other was pronounced to be a human of the Neolithic period—which bridges the gap between the ages of ice and iron. How they came together is hard to explain. The first may have been a compatriot of the Cro-Magnon man who made stone hammers in France 35,000 years ago, but the other carries all the marks of a bozo who went back only about 20,000 years. It is a pity that these birds could not have left their telephone numbers or some reliable data. As it is the scientists will have to do a lot of guessing.

CONGRESS MAKES PROGRESS

Final passage of the farm-relief bill, with the silly export debenture scheme left out, followed yesterday close on the heels of the sending to the President of the reapportionment and census bill. This means that Congress, after two months, has cleared its calendar of two-thirds of its program for the special session, leaving only the tariff bill to be disposed of. In both measures passed the administration has won notable victory.

Whether President Hoover will succeed as well, in the tariff, in holding the Congress to his program, remains to be seen. The administration program is limited revision, with special reference to the agricultural schedule. So far the record is impressive and hopeful.

It is very fortunate for the nation that the vicious and unconstitutional provision which the House at first included in the census bill was stricken out by a clever parliamentary maneuver. This provision would have excluded aliens from being counted as a basis of Congressional representation and thus have violated one of the principles on which the nation was founded—that there should be no taxation without representation. Coupled with it was an amendment which also would have excluded legally disfranchised negroes in the South, for which there is Constitutional justification in Section 2 of the Fourteenth Amendment, which provides for reduction of representation where States deprive any male citizen, 21 years of age, of the right to vote. This section is intended to penalize States for something under their control; the exclusion of aliens would penalize them for something not under their control. There were votes enough to pass either amendent separately and the House had a right, under the rules, to vote on them separately. The brilliant expedient of proposing a substitute section for both sections was then conceived and the substitute was adopted.

The Constitution, by any fair reading and interpretation, specifically provides that aliens shall be counted, and they have been counted since the Constitution went into effect. That Congressional representation should be a representation of all those who contribute financially to the nation's support is to be inferred from the exclusion of "Indians not taxed." That aliens, whether eligible or ineligible to citizenship, do not escape taxation is beyond question. It is to be hoped that the country has heard the last of this proposal, which would have amounted to declaring that only citizens are members of the human race or have any rights entitled to respect.

The new apportionment will go into effect for the Congressional election in 1932, a two years' delay resulting from the House amendment fixing the census date for April next instead of November next. Had the figures been taken in November, it would have been possible to apply the new distribution to the 1930 Congressional election. But under the bill as passed the census results are to be presented to the short session of Congress in 1930. If that session does not effect reapportionment, it will be made by Presidential action.

It is a pity that the present "lame duck apportionment" could not be got rid of sooner, since California will under the present scheme be deprived for two years longer of her rightful voice in the nation's affairs. During the past nine years she should have had four or five more Representatives, and the new apportionment will give her six or seven.

The House vote against debentures was more decisive than had been expected. Supporters of the President had expected to muster a majority estimated at 50 to 100; the actual majority was 137. The Senate majority for the farm relief bill shorn of the debenture provision was 74 to 8.

The most important provision of this measure is a fund of $500,000,000 to finance co-operative marketing associations, under the supervision of a Federal Farm Board. The California associations will be able to take advantage of this aid, of great importance especially to fruit growers.

The President appears to have suffered a minor defeat in the declination of the Senate to take up his request for postponement of the "National Origins" immigration quota plan, which will go into effect July 1 unless something extraordinary happens. The President believes this quota distribution is unjust as President Coolidge did. The measure, of course, has no such importance as the reapportionment, census, farm-relief and tariff bills.

If there is not too much Democratic obstruction, the Senate should be able to dispose of the tariff measure before the end of August. A still earlier date would be better, since the pendency of changes is hurting business. Adjustment to the new rates takes time and the process ought to begin as soon as possible.

MAGNA CHARTA ANNIVERSARY

We celebrate the Fourth of July as France does the Fall of the Bastille. We give each other the lockjaw with firecrackers to stop the oratory over the American eagle. But Calvin Coolidge calls attention to another day that is "the background of all we have" in the way of liberty.

Magna Charta was signed by King John of England on June 15, 1215. On that day the freedom of all English-speaking peoples was wrested from an unwilling monarch at the point of the sword. And now enthusiasts in the United States, Canada and Australia are advocating an Interdependence Day.

The King wallowed on the ground and gnawed straw and sticks in his impotent rage. But 2000 barons representing the people were on one side of the River Thames and a few retainers of the ruler were encamped on the opposite bank. The parley that meant so much to the world was held on an island in mid-stream halfway between the two forces.

When finally asked to affix his signature to the instrument, the King snorted, "Why don't they ask me for my kingdom?" All they were asking for was trial by jury, habeas corpus and fixed courts distributed over the country convenient for the people. Up to that time those seeking justice had to travel to a vagrant king and his whims.

No high-sounding words were used in Magna Charta. It was a practical demand for rights of person and property. Out of it has grown the Constitution of the United States and other constitutions of free people. But it was a sturdy growth of British soil. Even the Latin and Germanic nations have appropriated its benefits.

While King John did it peevishly, niggardly, hatefully, and some have a tendency to highly esteem the medieval king for his surrender, yet it was an achievement, not a gift the people received.

An Interdependence Day is suggested as calculated to help preserve cordial relations among the nations of our common tongue. Anything that inspires John Bull and Uncle Sam to keep step together even in nothing but a parade would promote the peace of the world.

NOT TO BE DROPPED

The Mayor is in error in his opinion that charges made against the Humane Animal Commission should be dropped without further inquiry. The charges have been made, and officially, in a report of the City Council Health and and Sanitation Committee. Without regard to whether that committee could lawfully make an investigation, or to the correctness or otherwise of its findings, those findings have been officially made public and should be disposed of otherwise than on a technicality.

The public is rightly insistent that this department of the city government shall be properly conducted, and nothing touches the public heart more deeply than an intimation that horses, particularly pensioned fire horses, dogs and other animals are being abused. The charges made would have been serious enough to require an investigation if they were made merely by a responsible citizen.

The Humane Animal Commission denies the charges, but it should be given an opportunity, or required, to answer them. The matter should be cleared up, not merely brushed aside. The Mayor's desire to end his brief remaining tenure of office with as little trouble as possible is understandable, but in this case is ill-advised.

SPECULATION

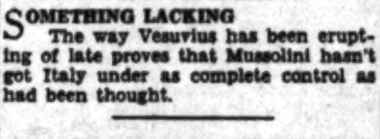
Mighty hard to stop the speculator. Some economists say that speculation is progress. Earth's pioneers have been speculators. Practically every human is born with an urge for speculation in his veins. The itch for change is merely a form of speculation.

But there are those in Congress who do not like the way the banks have been behaving in the matter of providing funds for those who dabble in stocks and bonds. Senator Glass, who is generally supposed to be an authority on banking and finance, threatens a government impost of 5 per cent upon all stock exchange transactions in which the shares are held less than sixty days. This would be a ball and chain on margin trading calculated to cripple that feverish industry for life. It is not likely that enough Senators will join with him to put his punitive program through, but the threat should inspire serious thought in Wall and other tempestuous streets.

During the month of May more than 92,000,000 shares of corporate stocks were bought and sold on the New York Exchange. It was said to be the biggest May in the history of the street. The banks may lift the rate on call money, but the speculators seem able to get the dough. Outside money will pour in when there is a demand for it. Financiers who will not take a flyer themselves do not scruple to supply the powder for the fireworks. So it is that speculation goes blithely on.

SOMETHING LACKING

The way Vesuvius has been erupting of late proves that Mussolini hasn't got Italy under as complete control as had been thought.



BAD ENOUGH

By James J. Montague

Adolph Lewisohn, retiring, says that golf is his only sorrow.

I sadly ply the spoon and cleek
For season after season;
To imitate the pros I seek
With neither hope nor reason.
Each night I say, with hope elate:
"I'll mend my game tomorrow"
And I myself can also state
That golf's my only sorrow.

But may one call a sorrow light
Which causes one to suffer
Through many a weary day and night
The pangs that rack a duffer?
Can one find life holds any joy
When, constantly increases
His knowledge that a callow boy,
Can lick him all to pieces?

I feel a burning sense of shame
Which nothing serves to sweeten,
To think how long this foolish game
Has had me down and beaten.
For years which number more than ten
I've sought the game to master,
And every time I've tried again
Has ended in disaster.

Some people may feel deep relief
To know there is surviving
In their old age no other grief
Except their putts and driving.
But though in matters which are sad
I may not be omniscient
This grief, which daily drives me mad,
To me is quite sufficient.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

LET us Joshua Little, brother,
Just to show we read your sheet—
You can Seymour Seitz in Venice
Than in Altadena sweet.
If you aren't Adam Sinnich,
If you aren't Feller Prune,
You can find life gay and lively,
Full of interests and boons.

AND WE'LL HAVE MORE FUN!

Come and bring Aunt Effie Casey,
Bring the Carr no man can drive,
And we'll give you entertainment
Which will make you feel alive.
We can show you youth more flaming
With sunburn than any rose,
And can match your breezy Russell
And your Cale that never blows.
You will feel like Tennyson, Mabie,
As you break, break, break out here
Where the bathing beauts stroll on the Pier and peer and disappear.

Japanese Native Sons

Ken Tashiro is a brother columnist. He writes feature stuff for Rafu Shimpo, otherwise the L. A. Japanese Daily News. And he calls attention to the fact that the younger generation, the Japanese native sons of California, are Americans through and through.

Maybe you didn't know that this Japanese newspaper runs "columns" headed "The Log of Our Own Ole Sojer" and "Sportitorials." We didn't, till Ken called our attention to them, and we're glad he did, for they shed entirely new light on the rising generation of Japanese in our midst. They are columns conveying a good deal of naive humor, of impetuous revolt against hampering traditions, of evidences of deeper thinking than is in most columns, and of a very striking literary gift. They make one think of the sort of stuff the youthful Robert Louis Stevenson must have written when he was publishing a student paper in Edinburgh.

What Young Japanese Are Thinking

Most notable is the ardent desire of the young Japanese, of whom Ken is spokesman, to take their place in American life as American citizens. Here, for illustration, are some of the musings of "Ole Sojer":

"Sometimes my dinner companion and I talk of the surprising resemblance of the preceding night's beef broth to tonight's vegetable soup; but last night we waxed Freudian and talked of complexes, not inferiority or suicide complexes, but racial ones.

"We discussed the respective desirabilities of arrogant blind racial pride compared to a submerging pitiful racial inferiority complex. Why, we reasoned, should a Japanese boy or girl, intelligent, talented, a leader in his own crowd, go to school and be nothing but that quiet little "Jap" who sure can do algebra or chem, or geometry. It shouldn't be, we said, and cited numerous instances to prove ourselves correct. But on the other hand, consider the lowly typ. Go to school, study, eat lunch, study, come home and so on ad summer vacation. In his crowd in typtown the "bon vivant," the wise-cracker, the big noise. Why all this? Racial inferiority complex. Have you one? I have a part of one that grows or diminishes per environment. And, topping off our cuts of banana shortcake, we queried how shall we eradicate it?"

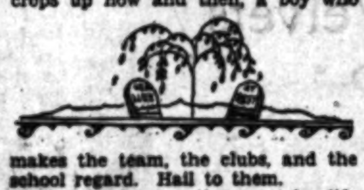
Just Studying the Facts

These frank, truth-seeking young Japanese are not blaming America for anything. Instead, they are pointing out the success of many of their race in American life, and suggesting that it is their own fault, largely, that others do not stand as high as their abilities entitle them to stand.

Enter the Third Generation

But here's some more of "Ole Sojer":

"Statistics unearthed by the 'Brown Man' show that nearly all of the original 'typ' settlers in California are now safely ensconced in the ole' country cemeteries. Dagoes, Polacks, hunkies, squareheads and other California pioneers of European origin fertilize the soil of the Golden State. And so on through the years the ambition of the 'lil' brown man' seems to be to gather U. S. golden eagles, and go back to Japan to sport a mustache, a derby hat, a cigar and a row of gold teeth. So typtown remains 'typ' and its children grow up as 'Typs.' The quiet little Japanese who does his geometry so well. A rarity crops up now and then, a boy who makes the team, the clubs, and the school regard. Hail to them.



"The third generation must be different, no R. I. C. or nuthin' like it. And we'll all go back to Japan to live, will we?

THE OUTDOOR RELIEF PROBLEM

BY ALMA WHITAKER

For six months, welfare workers and students have been watching with interest, an experiment being made in Los Angeles county under the direction of Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, one of the city's most distinguished physicians, who served under Hoover in Russia.

The alarming increase of "cases" in the outdoor relief division of the county charities was reaching staggering proportions. It was important to discover the underlying causes for such a condition—in one of the richest and most prosperous counties in the country.

Dr. Orbison, therefore, started a clinic, giving, gratis, two days a week of his time, to the mental and physical examinations of these indigent ones. The work was progressing successfully, a gratifying number of cases being reinstated into solvency and self-support through a careful analysis of their mental and physical capacity. It has been proved by this method that a large percentage of families cannot only be lifted "out of the red," but can be kept self-supporting.

Dismay reigned, therefore, when it was learned that W. H. Holland, superintendent of the county charities, had recommended to the Supervisors that they abolish the outdoor relief division as now instituted, thus automatically eliminating the two welfare workers who had enthusiastically co-operated with Dr. Orbison—and thereby automatically abolishing the clinic.

This action was taken, it is declared, in the cause of "efficiency and economy." The salaries thus saved amount to about $7000 a year, which cannot be compared with the real economy of rehabilitating literally hundreds of public charges and guiding them back to self-support and self-respect.

In an interview with a Times representative, Mr. Holland made it clear that he had never welcomed nor sanctioned Dr. Orbison's clinic. It was also evident that he had not taken the trouble to inform himself of the results it was obtaining, but, on the contrary, dismissed the work as valueless to date. He intimated that there weren't any results to investigate. He had been against the idea from the first, considering "that the department was not ready" for any such innovation.

Moreover, he said, he thought it shameful that poor people should have to submit to any such examination, just because they needed public charity.

Which seems an unfortunate view for the head of the county's ever-growing charities to hold. It is obvious that the problem is an immediate one and that scientific methods must promptly be applied to solve it. The outdoor relief department is actually supporting many thousands of families at the present time, and there must be good reasons behind this condition, which should be probed. Why is this apparently husky, able man unable to find work? Why has this honest, seemingly decent woman failed to support herself? Modern psychiatric methods are usually able to discover the real causes of such indigence and suggest, in a large percentage of cases, swift remedies. Some of the cases are ill, some mentally weak, some just nervous and neurotic, some merely lacking in judgment. It isn't possible to rehabilitate all of the cases all the time, nor some of them any of the time, but an enormous percentage of them can be aided to find themselves, resume their self-respect and self-support. Even in the short time that the experiment has been in operation, Dr. Orbison's clinic has proved this.

Had the Los Angeles county experiment been permitted to function to its fullest capacity and continue its work for a longer time, States all over the country, vexed by the same problems, hoped to profit by our experience. Everyone admits that the old methods are wasteful, improvident, hopelessly inadequate to deal with the condition.

A temporary economy such as this can prove highly expensive. Moreover, there is the feeling that the superintendent of charities has neither given the subject of the clinic his best attention nor fully informed himself of the work being accomplished. On the contrary, his explanation of his action indicates resentment that the innovation was instituted. Dr. Orbison's distinguished reputation and services to this city have deserved better of our officials.

Mr. Holland admits that any "reorganization" of the outdoor relief division, now under his personal control, does not include a clinic such as this. The fact that two civil servants have lost their jobs arbitrarily, with no complaints lodged against them, is unimportant. But the fact that a fine altruistic experiment, designed to bring the best modern scientific methods to bear on a dire, grievous and expensive problem, has been summarily abolished is of vital moment to the community. It seems to be retrogression of a perverse sort.

King Alfred of England is best known, perhaps, by the story of the ash cakes he burned while engrossed in thought, but lovers of fine gold and silver crafts know that he encouraged the fashioning of jewels and other arts by assembling skilled workmen from other countries. In the Ashmolean Museum is a richly carved locket bearing the inscription which, translated, affirms "Alfred Had Me Made." More than 1000 years old, it bears an enamel portrait and crystal stone, set in rich carving.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

"The Star-Spangled Banner"

HOLLYWOOD, June 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Harry Bowling, in his article, "Old Songs to New Tunes," seems to contradict himself quite a little. He deplores pacifist sentiments sung to the "Marseillaise," and then turns about and defends the martial words which were put to a well-known drinking song, and which has since graduated as our national anthem. It seems quite logical to suppose that those who knew the tune as the drinking song were not thrilled up over the change 115 years ago when it happened.

Such objections as may be raised to "The Star-Spangled Banner" as a national anthem are not to be based either on its origin as a drinking song, nor in its martial atmosphere—the chief difficulty is that it is so pitched as to render it a very hard song to sing. Inasmuch as not one American in fifty knows the words of the song, their import doesn't seem to matter much.

In spite of his heroic attempt to defend our national song, it is probably safe to say that more Americans are thrilled to a greater extent over "Dixie." Considering the mature age of our republic, we ought by this time to have produced some composers who could evolve a melody for a new anthem which would express our own development and be pitched to our voices.

Five generations of my family had lived on this continent before Francis Scott Key saw the dawn's early light, so I hope I can avoid being considered a "Red" because I can't share Mr. Bowling's enthusiasm for the "Oh say can you see."

One on John

TUJUNGA, June 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Not long ago, out of the cultured East there came to our town a man and wife ostensibly looking for lots. The lady in the course of conversation exclaimed effusively: "I've long known of this place as the home of John Steven McGroarty. I'd like so much to meet him, and I'd just love to see that dear little synagogue of his." She was told that the synagogue referred to was not a building made with hands, but a spiritual concept of the Congregation of the Faithful, and invisible to human eyes. However, she went away unconvinced, and doubtless still holds the belief that hidden somewhere among these magic hills there is a miniature chapel with regulation spire and belfry, and that sometime our gentle Irish poet will take her hand and lead her straight to the door of "that dear little synagogue of his."

The End and the Means

HOLLYWOOD, June 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In one of the interesting letters written recently from the Orient by your staff correspondent, Mr. Fred Hogue, he says something to the effect that the Japanese seem to be adopting the "old Jesuit theory that the end justifies the means." As I have not the text before me, I am quoting from memory. Mr. Hogue is in error in ascribing any such maxim to the Jesuits. No Jesuit has originated or promulgated such a doctrine.

I have only to add that numerous substantial rewards have been offered to any person who could produce proof that any Jesuit has ever proclaimed the doctrine that the end justifies the means. And if any reader of The Times should like to investigate the matter, he will find that no one has ever been able to draw down any of the handsome rewards so offered; or to attach in any way, truthfully, this doctrine to that society of devoted men, known as the Jesuits.

DIESEL-DRIVEN CRUISERS

"Faster than any capital ship, able to outshoot any cruiser, and capable of an unprecedented cruising radius, the Ersatz Preussen, one of the three new cruisers to be built by the German Admiralty, is a veritable bombshell in naval circles," says Roswell H. Ward, expressing the opinion of naval experts in World's Work.

"Germany, under the terms of the Versailles treaty, was restricted to building no naval vessels larger than 10,000 tons and mounting no guns larger than eleven inches," he says. "However, the German designers have risen in triumph from the bounds of these limitations; and a further ironical note in the situation is the fact that other nations who are signatories to the Washington treaty, even if they could reproduce the technical development, cannot build a 10,000-ton cruiser with as heavy an armament, for the Washington pact limits such vessels to eight-inch guns."

The Diesel engine, so far ignored by other naval authorities, is the chief secret of the new German cruiser's power, the writer points out. Her fuel requires only one-third the space needed for oil in a steam-driven cruiser, and this fact accounts both for her great cruising radius and her ability to carry her tremendously heavy armament.

TALLMAN NET COVERS GLOBE

Posters Describing Fugitive Sent to All World

Intensive Search Made Here for Suspect's Car

Detective Accused in Escape Fined and Demoted

Search for the automobile owned by William L. Tallman, asserted slayer of Mrs. Virginia Patty, and the broadcast of thousands of posters bearing photographs and description of the radio man yesterday comprised the activity of police in the murder investigation.

At the same time Capt. Slaten broadcast an appeal to all garage and parking station owners and operators, service-station attendants and citizens who rent private garages to be on the alert for the automobile and report any suspicions to him at Georgia-street Police Station.

The roadster bears a 1929 California license number 6-G-1093, engine number 10-487-679, and is registered to William Tallman, legal owner, 1533 Seventy-eighth avenue, Oakland, Capt. Slaten announced.

Squads of detectives searched throughout the city yesterday and last night but failed to find trace of the car.

More than 25,000 posters, announcing the $3000 reward for the fugitive, are being sent all over the United States, Canada and Mexico, and to principal ports in seventy countries of the world. The posters have been translated into nearly a score of languages.

In the greatest broadcast of posters since the search for William Edward Hickman, the bills are being mailed to all shipping commissioners and customs and immigration inspectors. Sheriff Traeger, in co-operation with the police, yesterday mailed the placards to all sheriffs, constables and police chiefs in the United States.

DETECTIVE DEPRIVED OF RANK AND PAY

Captain of Detectives Bean, suspended as chief of the police homicide detail a week ago for asserted negligence in his failure to capture William L. Tallman for the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty, is disciplined by loss of a half-month's pay and removed as head of the squad, Chief of Detectives Cline announced yesterday.

A committee of ranking officers under Deputy Chief of Police Lyons found Capt. Bean guilty of negligence in the Tallman escape from San Pedro, Cline said, with recommendations for the disciplinary measure and Bean's removal to an outlying division.

As result Cline appointed Capt. E. R. Cato head of the homicide squad and assigned Capt. Bean to command of the detective bureau at Wilshire station. Capt. Smith, temporarily in charge of the homicide squad, returns to Huntington Park division. The orders are effective tomorrow.

Capt. Bean was in command of the Patty murder investigation, charges against him assert, and neglected to inform San Pedro division by teletype of the suspicion against Tallman, at that time aboard the steamer Admiral Benson, docked at the local port.

The finger of suspicion leveled at Tallman about 11 a.m. the day the murder was discovered. The Admiral Benson did not sail until approximately 3 p.m. Within the four-hour period a newspaperman interviewed Tallman aboard the ship, but the police did not attempt to apprehend him. He sailed away and escaped later.

Salvation Army Commandant to Take New Post

Commandant and Mrs. Edgar Harris, prominent in Los Angeles Salvation Army circles, have received orders from Commissioner Adam Gifford, San Francisco commander, to "farewell" from their appointment as assistants to Brig. James Bell in the administration of Salvation Army affairs in Los Angeles tomorrow.

The farewell meeting will be conducted by Col. Walter F. Jenkins of New York, who is in Los Angeles for a series of special gatherings, tomorrow at 2:30 p.m., at the Citadel Corps, 125 East Fourth street.

Harris has held appointments in Long Beach, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara. His new appointment takes him to Seattle, where they will direct the army's large Evangeline residence for young women.

Triple 'Chute Leap Scheduled

The most hazardous of all parachute stunts, the triple-'chute jump, will be demonstrated before spectators at the Grand Central Air Terminal tomorrow at 3 p.m., by Frank Brooks, veteran jumper, with 2090 parachute landings to his credit.

Brooks will leave a small plane in midair with three 'chutes, weighing a total of 110 pounds, strapped to his back. Many plane owners and other persons attend the Saturday and Sunday programs at the Maddux-Transcontinental-Pickwick-Nevada air terminal, which is located at San Fernando Road and Sonora avenue in Glendale.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock, the Goodyear dirigible Volunteer, will appear over the Grand Terminal.

Tonight the lights of the airport will be turned on and night flying officially inaugurated with a musical, dancing and night-flying program.

HIDDEN BRACELET FOUND BY BURGLAR

Returning from a trip to Honolulu, Mrs. George H. Bishop yesterday reported to police that a $5000 bracelet had been stolen from her home at 332 South Lorraine Boulevard. She declared it had been taken from its hiding-place under a shelf in the medicine cabinet. Police made a futile search for fingerprints.

OIL MAN FLIES HERE TO WED

Utah Magnate Will Take Bride Today

John C. Howard and Mrs. Charlotte Lasenby Varnedoe

JOHN CALVIN HOWARD of Salt Lake City, president of the Utah Refining Company, quietly dropped into Los Angeles in his private plane a week ago and kept the reason for his journey here shrouded in secrecy until he gave out the statement yesterday that he is here to play one of the two principal roles in a wedding ceremony which will take place this morning. The bride is Mrs. Charlotte Lasenby Varnedoe of Memphis, Tenn.

The ceremony will be performed at 11 a.m. in the Presidential suite of the Biltmore, with Bishop David P. Howells, a life-long friend of Mr. Howard, officiating. Through the courtesy of Charles Baad, manager of the hotel, the entire suite will be used for the occasion and a profusion of flowers will add to the festive surroundings.

Following a brief reception in the parlor preceding the ceremony, the couple will stand before an altar on which the two principal decorations will be the American flag and the Bible because of Mr. Howard's belief that they are the two most important influences in one's life. Immediately after the benediction has been pronounced a wedding breakfast will be served in the dining-room of the suite.

After the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Howard will leave for a two weeks' honeymoon at Del Monte and about July 1 will go to Salt Lake City to Red Butte Hollow, Mr. Howard's home there.

With Mr. Howard when he arrived here in his 425-horsepower Wasp-motored Fairchild cabin plane were his three daughters, the Misses Kathryn Musser, Virginia Musser and Jean Musser Howard.

"I had to do a Lindbergh for Mrs. Varnedoe," said Mr. Howard yesterday, "so I swooped down in my plane after being in the air more than eight hours, during which time we were lost for almost an hour. Of course, I wanted my girls to be here for the wedding and incidentally they got quite a thrill out of the trip over here."

Those to be present at the ceremony include Mr. and Mrs. R. Winfred Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Leppert, Mrs. A. B. Creal, all brothers and sisters of the bride; Bishop and Mrs. David P. Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Don Carlos Musser, Dr. and Mrs. A. Ray Irvine, all of Los Angeles; President and Mrs. G. W. McCune of the Los Angeles Stake; Mr. and Mrs. Burton W. Musser and Master Bernard Musser of Salt Lake City; Mrs. Melvin Sowles of Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Whitehead of Nome, Alaska; William Dodge of New York, and Mr. Howard's three daughters.

Swimming Pool to Open Today

Los Angeles's eighth municipal swimming pool will be presented to the citizens of North Hollywood by the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Commission when dedication ceremonies take place today at the new swimming center at 5301 Tujunga avenue, North Hollywood.

Children and grown folks will be given a chance to try out the new plunge without charge, when free swims are offered both morning and evening. Exhibitions of swimming and diving will be given by members of the Los Angeles Athletic Club team.

Formal dedication will be under the direction of Marshall L. Carter, president of the Playground and Recreation Commission, and George Hjelte, superintendent of the Playground Department.

Councilman Randall, B. B. Basore, secretary of the North Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, and executives of the North Hollywood Parent-teacher Association, high schools and grammar schools and Boy Scouts will aid in the ceremony. The plunge will be open for regular service beginning tomorrow.

TEST CHANGE MADE

To discourage those who are simply operators and know nothing of technical work in connection with radios, the Park Commission yesterday approved the recommendation of the Civil Service Commission that the title of radio operator for city parks be changed to radio technician for the examination to be held on July 25.

DRYS FIND OUTFIT FOR HUGE STILL

Four Arrested in Raid on 200-Gallon Plant Being Erected at Dry Lake

An attempt to install a 200-gallon still, with room for many barrels of mash, at a place north of Dry Lake in Kern county was unearthed yesterday, it is reported by the dry agents. The agents, acting under direction of Dry Administrator Woods, reported the arrests of Joe C. Casper, Steve Rossi, Natali Balli and Harry Rose.

They said they found an excavation fifty by 100 feet in dimensions, as well as apparatus for a 200-gallon still, 18,000 pounds of sugar, 700 pounds of yeast and thirty-four 500-gallon vats of mash. The still, it was said, was to be underground.

The defendants are accused of violating the National Prohibition Act in a complaint filed before United States Commissioner Head. It is expected other arrests will be made in connection with the raid.

'Old Ironsides' Casualty Case Given to Jury

Investigation into the death of Charles O. Davis during the filming of the motion picture "Old Ironsides" off Catalina Island several years ago was instituted by the Los Angeles county grand jury yesterday to determine whether the actor's death was caused by criminal negligence.

James Cruze, who is reported to have directed the picture, had been subpoenaed as a witness, but was out of town and could not be reached yesterday.

Among the witnesses who participated in the scene with Davis were Harry Brayles, Ernest Olson, Eric Johnson and Charles Carlson. Davis was killed when a mast which he was climbing was blown up.

New Light on Dancer's Death Shed by Chum

Helen Neff, former chum of Miss Delphine Walsh, 22-year-old Hollywood dancer who died in a Glendale hospital recently from an asserted illegal operation, was questioned regarding the case yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kemp. Kemp announced that he had obtained considerable additional information from the girl.

Drs. P. S. Traxler and R. S. Lanterman, Glendale physicians, are awaiting trial on a murder charge as a result of Miss Walsh's death. Investigators declare the girl named the physicians in a deathbed statement as performing the operation.

VETERANS' BENEFIT WILL BE TOMORROW

Singing, dancing and instrumental music will make up the program to be presented at the Breakfast Club on Riverside Drive tomorrow under the auspices of the Post War Service League of Hollywood for the benefit of the veterans of Sawtelle Soldiers' Home. The program, commencing at 4 p.m., will introduce Sol Cohen, violinist, Corrine Elkins, soprano, Irma Bradley Boyle, contralto, Carlo Fessia, accordionist, the eight McAdam dancers, and addresses by Maurice De Mond, president of the Breakfast Club, and Mrs. Emerson Bond Weirick, president of the Post War Service League. Assisting Mrs. Weirick in arranging the affair are Miss Margaret Gillespie, Mrs. R. M. Brin, Mrs. Bert Felser, Mrs. Frederick Bloom, Mrs. Dorothy Johnston, Mrs. Hal Christie, Mrs. H. J. Christie, Mrs. W. H. Hay, Mrs. Creighton Brown and Mrs. W. R. Brown.

MISS BOW CAN'T EMOTE BY CLOCK

Inspiration on Union Hours Not Her Ideal

Group Lent No Aid in Climb to Fame, She Says

Clara Bow, vivacious redhead of the films, yesterday joined the long list of prominent screen players protesting against the attempted intrusion into the industry of the Actors' Equity Association, which is trying to place the so-called "Equity shop" in Hollywood. The only situation in the business that needs a remedy, she asserted, is the self-same situation that Equity is "trying to stir up."

Miss Bow added her name to such an imposing list of protestants against the Equity as Lionel Barrymore, Willard Mack, John Gilbert, Marie Dressler, Louise Dressler, Norma Talmadge and others.

NO NEED FOR EQUITY

"I think it is quite wrong for Equity to attempt to invade Hollywood," Miss Bow declared yesterday. "We have absolutely no need for it here. It is a slight on the intelligence of screen players when an effort is made to make us believe that we have suffered indignities, grievances and hardships that Equity alone can remedy.

"When I start a new picture, that picture, my characterization, my lines are the only thought in my mind. I like to work and work hard and long until it is completed. All my directors agree with me in this that the best screen performances are given when a player is keyed up to the creative pitch that permits him to forget time and surroundings and to think of nothing but the work in hand. I want to work until I am tired, whether that be two hours or ten hours.

"Under Equity we would begin work in the morning and quit in the evening like workmen in a factory. I want none of it. I have a certain work to do. I do not want Equity telling me what to do and how to do it.

"I started my climb of the motion-picture ladder on the lowest rung. I was a Brooklyn school girl without one friend in the business on whom to call for help. I worked my way up through my own efforts alone and not once along the way did I ever have need for the aid that Equity pretends to be able to offer.

IT'S A FLAT TIRE

"Conditions in the motion-picture industry have not changed in this respect. I got along very well without Equity and I still can continue to do so.

"Equity wants to add a fifth wheel to a perfect-running motor car, and to me that fifth wheel has a flat tire."

Complete details of the new arrangements for the release of United Artist's pictures through Paramount and the plans for the entrance of Florence Ziegfeld into the talking-picture field will be learned when Joseph M. Schenck, president of the company, and Samuel Goldwyn, one of its producers, return to Hollywood. Ziegfeld and Goldwyn have formed a company for the production of all-color musical screen shows.

Schenck left Hollywood several weeks ago to complete the proposed United Artists'-Warner Brothers' merger, and when this plan collapsed he arranged the Paramount distribution tie-up. The Paramount deal is for distribution only.

Lions Install New Officers at Club Banquet

Street to Bear Colden's Name

Charles J. Colden, who represents the Fifteenth District in the City Council, will retire from public life, temporarily at least, at the expiration of his present term on July 1, next, but Council yesterday assured the continuance of his name in the annals of the city.

By unanimous vote the Council passed an ordinance changing the name of Ninety-sixth street between Compton avenue and Western avenue to Colden avenue. The petition which resulted in the street being named for him was circulated by several residents of the section.

NEW SLEEPER BUSSES WILL OPERATE HERE

A new step in motor bus transportation will be taken here on the 26th inst. when the first motor bus sleepers in use in the West will be placed in service on the Pickwick stage line between this city and San Francisco, announcement was made yesterday by Charles F. Wren, president of the Pickwick Corporation and Pickwick Nite Coach Company. Construction of sleeping busses is proceeding behind closed doors in the Pickwick shops here. The coach has buffet lunch and lavatory facilities, eliminating necessity for stops for meals.

CHURCH TOPICS ANNOUNCED

Dr. M. H. Fagan Will Be Among Speakers in City's Pulpits at Services Tomorrow

Dr. M. Howard Fagan, formerly pastor of Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church and who for the last two years has been pastor of the Christian Church at Honolulu, will be the preacher tomorrow morning at Arlington Avenue Christian Church, Arlington avenue and Pico Boulevard, according to announcement made yesterday by Dr. Charles R. Hudson of the Arlington Avenue Church.

One of the outstanding ministers of the Disciples of Christ and popular in the ministerial profession and with members of all denominations, Dr. Fagan was pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church for ten years. It was under his influence and largely through his personal direction that the new $1,000,000 plant of the Wilshire church was built. Necessity for a prolonged rest, following success of the building campaign, caused Dr. Fagan to resign the pastorate and, after a tour of the world with his family, he accepted the pastorate of the Honolulu church, which he recently resigned to return to California to live. Dr. Fagan's plans for future ministerial work have not been announced.

DR. M. HOWARD FAGAN.

Services at Arlington Church tomorrow evening will include an address on "The Gold Mine Under Your Hat," by Mrs. Jean M. Ellis, psychologist.

DR. G. A. BRIEGLEB

"Why is Buron Fitts being attacked by discharged employees when he is getting results where the police have failed? Why are business men cocerced to advertise in a police magazine which the City Attorney and Council have declared illegal?" These are among the questions to be discussed by Dr. G. A. Briegleb in his sermon tomorrow evening at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Valley Forge Lodge, No. 577, F. and A.M., will attend the service in a body. The sermon topic for morning is "Tarry Thou Till I Come."

Religion Without Revelation

Julian Huxley, Professor of Zoology at King's College, London, has written a book of the above title which has been pronounced the most important volume since Darwin's Origin of Species. It describes the religion which all thinking persons who accept the scientific world view are coming to accept. A series of three addresses on this remarkable book will be given by

PATHE CHOOSES PLAY FOR STAR

Millard Webb is to Direct Billie Dove

Rights to 'Greenwich Follies' Purchased

R.K.O. Signs Allan Kearns for Leads

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Now that Ann Harding has been triumphantly launched in "Paris Bound," at the Pathe studios, Pathe is planning big things for the young stage actress.

ANN HARDING

Miss Harding's next offering will be a story entitled "A Woman Afraid." This is an adaptation of a foreign novel, "The Right to Kill," written by Leo Urvantsov, which it is said will offer Miss Harding an excellent acting opportunity. Of course, the picture will be a talker.

Harry Bannister, who was signed by Pathe while portraying the role of the doctor in "Strange Interlude," at the Biltmore Theater, will have the leading male role in "A Woman Afraid," and the balance of the cast is now being signed. Bannister is the husband of Ann Harding in private life.

Paul Stein, one of Pathe's ace directors, will direct the picture, which will have a lavish production and will be done partly in colors.

MILLARD WEBB WILL DIRECT BILLY DOVE

It has been decided by First National that Billie Dove's next picture will be "Give This Girl a Hand." It is adapted from Fannie Hurst's story.

BILLIE DOVE

Millard Webb, who has been busy in the East during the past months, has been assigned the direction of Miss Dove in the picture, which will be a talker. Webb leaves New York on Sunday for Hollywood. He will stop off in Chicago for his little 9-year-old daughter Barbara, who he will bring west with him in order that she may spend her holidays here. She has been at school in the East.

Follies Rights Purchased

Hard on the heels of Florenz Ziegfeld's announced affiliation with Samuel Goldwyn for the production of a series of the former's famous Follies, Pathe, we learned yesterday, will go about making a talkie in colors of the "Greenwich Village Follies." The picture company has purchased the rights to title and material from Jones and Green, who sponsored this annual revue in New York for many years.

Pathe's "Greenwich Village Follies" will supplant the original stage production.

Allan Kearns Has Lead

Still another footlight favorite has been lured away from New York. He is Allan Kearns, who has just been signed by R.K.O. to play one of the two leading masculine roles in "The Very Idea," William LeBaron's successful stage farce, which is to be made as a talking picture.

Frank Craven is starred, with Allan Kearn's role that of the juvenile. He is on his way west with Craven at this moment, and will arrive within a few days.

Kearns was born in Canada, but ran away from home at 14 years of age to seek his fortunes. He went to New York, where Gus Edwards discovered him. He rose rapidly on Broadway, some of his successes being in "Little Jessie James," "Tiptoes" and "Funny Face."

Margaret Fealy in Chevalier Film

Margaret Fealy, who has devoted thirty-five years to the stage, and who made her debut with Richard Mansfield at the age of 15, has received her first contract to appear in a motion picture.

The actress has been engaged by Paramount to play an important role in "The Love Parade," the talking screen's first original operetta, which Ernst Lubitsch will direct, with Maurice Chevalier starred.

Charles Wakefield Cadman With Fox

Charles Wakefield Cadman, one of America's most famous composers, has been signed by Fox Films to write the music for John McCormack's initial Movietone production, we learned yesterday.

The composer is widely known as the writer of operettas and of many semiclassic compositions, as well as popular ballads. He is tremendously interested in American Indian music.

Virginia Bruce With Lasky

Virginia Bruce, the Fargo (N.D.) high school girl who broke all Hollywood records by being signed to a contract by Paramount following just one day's work as an extra in "Why Bring That Up?" has been given an excellent ingenue role in "Woman Trap," which William Wellman will direct, with Hal Skelly, Evelyn Brent and Chester Morris in the leading roles.

GALA EVENT PLANNED AT BILTMORE

A majority of the stellar lights of stage and screen will journey to the Biltmore Theater Monday night, when "Broadway," Universal's picturization of the stage play by George Abbot and Philip Dunning, will be given an elaborate western premiere. Spotlights, movie cameras to photograph celebrities present, radio announcement of arriving notables and other features of the film colony's pretentious "first nights" will be in evidence.

MERNA KENNEDY

Picturized as a Carl Laemmle, Jr., production, on a mammoth scale by Director Paul Fejos, "Broadway" closely follows the stage play both in action and dialogue. Glenn Tryon, Evelyn Brent and Merna Kennedy enact the principal roles in "Broadway." Thomas E. Jackson, who created the role of the cop, Dan McCorn, in the original New York stage version, is also seen in this part. Robert Ellis enacts the part of the gang-leader, Steve Crandall and Paul Porcasi, also of the New York cast, is seen as Nick Verdis, proprietor of the Paradise Night Club. Otis Harlan, Leslie Fenton and others figure prominently in the cast.

A special feature of "Broadway" is the introduction of a number of songs written specially for the picture by a trio of noted composers, each with several hits to his credit. They are Con Conrad, Archie Gottler and Sidney Mitchell.

Fox Plans to Make Follies Annual Show

Encouraged by the country-wide success of the Fox Movietone Follies of 1929, current musical talking picture revue at the Criterion Theater, studio heads of the Fox organization have started work on the Follies of 1930, which will be a year in the making.

The Fox Follies of 1929 required seven months' work and the unusually large profits from this year's attraction, now playing in all the large cities of the nation, will be turned back into the 1930 version, it is said.

A separate studio unit with its own executives and extensive organization will handle the production, and the company with studio in New York and at Fox Hills undoubtedly will become one of the most important organizations within the Fox studio ranks. Con Conrad, Sidney Mitchell and Archie Gottler, it is announced, will continue with the Follies, now that it has become an annual institution. Their task will be to pick, as they did this year, the song hits from New York's melody lane.

Argus Bowl is Scene of Indian Pageantry

"Hiawatha" is drawing capacity audiences to the Argus Bowl in Eagle Rock this week and the performances will be concluded with four productions, this afternoon and evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The story of the American Indian as portrayed in this romantic operetta has been elaborately staged in the unique amphitheater in the Eagle Rock hills by Mrs. W. O. Bates of Indianapolis. She is the wife of W. O. Bates, playwright and newspaper man, who wrote the pageant.

BURBANK ENTERTAINING

The present burlesque production at the Burbank Theater, under the direction of Producer Charlie Fritcher, is entertaining with sure-fire comedy, tuneful melodies and large dance ensembles. The comedy, in the hands of Charles Fritcher and Harry Le Van, is well handled. The chorus is seen in many dance creations throughout the offering. Fay Norman offers a new routine of work that places her high in the estimation of her followers. June Rhoads's popularity is increased with her clever dancing, and diminutive "Curls" Mason offers a dynamic personality. The voice of Miss Jane Hazelton is appreciated.

"RADIO DOLLS" AT FOLLIES

Two sparkling comedians, Max Coleman and Bumps Mack, aided by Louise Kellar, Mary Walton and a dancing soubrette, Evelyn Myers, are featured this week at the Follies Theater. They head the "Radio Dolls," presenting some new effects in stage settings and costumes. Coleman and Mack are two rapid-fire artists of fun and show their ability to keep the house in an uproar. Miss Myers keeps things moving at top speed. Walter Van Horn is an excellent straight man and Syd Ray makes a good juvenile. A cycle of numbers is offered by the "Harmony Four."

SOLDIERS SEE BANCROFT

One hundred and fifty veterans from the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home will be the guests of the Paramount Theater tomorrow afternoon to see George Bancroft in "Thunderbolt." The admission of the soldiers is in honor of Fathers' Day. The majority of the ex-fighting men are fathers, according to statistics on file at the home.

"Ghost Train" Stops on Signal

Two Passengers
Are Charlotte Stevens and Franklin Pangborn who occupy frightened roles in the "spook" comedy nearing its close at the Vine-street Theater.

Four Comedians Lead Hard Life in Circus Jobs

How four runaway youths grabbed a toe-hold on circus life and rose to international recognition is related by Harold Boid, one of the Runaway Four, eccentric comedians, featured in the R.-K.-O. Collegiate Show starting today at the Orpheum Theater.

"We all ran away from home," says Boid. Four young fools, three from Brooklyn, the other from St. Louis, unwilling to live normal lives. We trekked to Chicago, where a large circus was camped. Rain was falling in a fine drizzle the morning I arrived. I dragged my stiff, wet legs out of an empty box car and gazed bewilderedly at the skyline of tracks and buildings. It's funny, but I didn't have any regrets. We saw fame right around the corner.

"With clothes slept in for nights, I reached the muddy lot on the lake-front where the circus tents were pitched. Roustabouts were around. There were no jobs giving the elephants water; they drank out of the lake. Two other kids were sitting dejectedly near by and I sat down beside them. They came from my home town, Brooklyn. Together we haloed Brooklyn until a roustabout told us to clear out. We countered with a plea for work, and were told to see the tent boss.

"Drifting over to a lunch room, we met a St. Louis lad named Tom O'Brien. We all went back together and secured jobs as helpers in the circus. It was hard and discouraging, and we got knocked around aplenty. Finally we worked up a clown act and were given a chance. We made good and have been clowning ever since."

Warner Presents Stars at Revel

Late theatergoers who attend the midnight revel at Warner Brothers' Theater tonight have a treat in store for them, it is said, in the form of some of the stars of stage and screen. Not only those in "On With the Show," the first all-natural color Warner Brothers' Vitaphone production, that it now in its last week at that theater, will be seen, but many others.

Heading this galaxy of stars will be Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star, whose singing and dancing made her a success in "Sally," "Sunny," "Rosalie" and other shows on Broadway. Because of his wit, Frank Fay has for the second time been chosen to be master of ceremonies.

Others that will entertain from the stage at this event are Monte Blue, Patsy Ruth Miller, Armida, Harry Gribbon, Alice Day, Marion Byron and Mayrna Loy. Larry Ceballos and Seymour Felix will stage the show and will present the Larry Ceballas girls in some dance routines.

Theater Offers Dancing Lesson

Fanchon and Marco are offering what is veritably a free course in ballet and stage dancing at Loew's State this week by including a rehearsal and dance exercise number in their "Contrasts" Idea on the stage.

Forty girls are shown working out at the regulation ballet bar, going through stretching exercises, whirls, pirouettes, back bends, high kicking and other essential and elementary dance movements which they are continually practicing in the rehearsal halls to keep themselves in condition for stage work.

TWO ROLES IN "JEALOUSY"

Both roles, of Maurice and Valerie, which Fay Bainter and John Halliday make real and gripping in "Jealousy," the A. H. Woods novelty drama now playing at the Mason Theater, are "longer than Hamlet," and these two have played them more than 600 times, speaking the lines only to each other.

GAY INSURES LION

Charles Gay, director of Gay's Lion Farm near El Monte, has made application for a $100,000 life and accident insurance policy on Numa, famous motion picture lion star of Chaplin's "Circus," and other successes. Numa has worked in over 100 film productions, and is known all over the world and his fan mail averages 3000 letters a month, requesting photographs. Numa's earnings over the past eight years are said to total over $80,000.

"JAZZ KING" ARRIVES FOR ENGAGEMENT

Pantages Theater Setting for Whiteman and Band in Week's Feature

The appearance of the musical leader will be his first in Los Angeles in three years. Whiteman is carrying his music unit, consisting of more than thirty musicians, manager, secretary, stage crew, etc., on his own special train.

Following the engagement at the Pantages, Whiteman will start work on his first sound picture, "The King of Jazz," at the Universal studios. It will be directed by Paul Fejos.

French Star in Eccentric Role

The role of the eccentric "Countess in "Serena Blandish," Edward Everett Horton's current Majestic offering, is said to be adequately interpreted by Rose Dione, who offers her own conception of the part. The comedienne was formerly a star of the French stage, before coming to this country to appear in pictures.

With a flare for pets, the royal household of the "Countess" is swarmed with peacocks, parrots, flamingoes, monkeys and other members of the animal kingdom.

Mme. Dione's interpretation of the tempermental noblewoman has brought her many forms of congratulations and her French accent adds more charm to the production.

DEL RUTH ON COMEDY

Having completed shooting on "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," the all-technicolor, all-talking, singing and dancing story of backstage, Roy Del Ruth, Warner Brothers director, has been assigned to direct Edward Everett Horton in a new comedy, "The Aviator."

PATHE CHOOSES PLAY FOR STAR

Rights to 'Greenwich Follies' Purchased

R.K.O. Signs Allan Kearns for Leads

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

ANN HARDING

Now that Ann Harding has been triumphantly launched in "Paris Bound," at the Pathe studios, Pathe is planning big things for the young stage actress.

Miss Harding's next offering will be a story entitled "A Woman Afraid." This is an adaptation of a foreign novel, "The Right to Kill," written by Leo Urvantsov, which it is said will offer Miss Harding an excellent acting opportunity. Of course, the picture will be a talker.

Harry Bannister, who was signed by Pathe while portraying the role of the doctor in "Strange Interlude," at the Biltmore Theater, will have the leading male role in "A Woman Afraid," and the balance of the cast is now being signed. Bannister is the husband of Ann Harding in private life.

Paul Stein, one of Pathe's ace directors, will direct the picture, which will have a lavish production and will be done partly in colors.

MILLARD WEBB WILL DIRECT BILLY DOVE

It has been decided by First National that Billie Dove's next picture will be "Give This Girl a Hand." It is adapted from Fannie Hurst's story.

BILLIE DOVE

Millard Webb, who has been busy in the East during the past months, has been assigned the direction of Miss Dove in the picture, which will be a talker. Webb leaves New York on Sunday for Hollywood. He will stop off in Chicago for his little 9-year-old daughter Barbara, who he will bring west with him in order that she may spend her holidays here. She has been at school in the East.

Follies Rights Purchased

Hard on the heels of Florenz Ziegfeld's announced affiliation with Samuel Goldwyn for the production of a series of the former's famous Follies, Pathe, we learned yesterday, will go about making a talkie in colors of the "Greenwich Village Follies." The picture company has purchased the rights to title and material from Jones and Green, who sponsored this annual revue in New York for many years.

Pathe's "Greenwich Village Follies" will supplant the original stage production.

Allan Kearns Has Lead

Still another footlight favorite has been lured away from New York. He is Allan Kearns, who has just been signed by R.K.O. to play one of the two leading masculine roles in "The Very Idea," William LeBaron's successful stage farce, which is to be made as a talking picture.

Frank Craven is starred, with Allan Kearn's role that of the juvenile. He is on his way west with Craven at this moment, and will arrive within a few days.

Kearns was born in Canada, but ran away from home at 14 years of age to seek his fortunes. He went to New York, where Gus Edwards discovered him. He rose rapidly on Broadway, some of his successes being in "Little Jessie James," "Tiptoes" and "Funny Face."

Margaret Fealy in Chevalier Film

Margaret Fealy, who has devoted thirty-five years to the stage, and who made her debut with Richard Mansfield at the age of 15, has received her first contract to appear in a motion picture.

The actress has been engaged by Paramount to play an important role in "The Love Parade," the talking screen's first original operetta, which Ernst Lubitsch will direct, with Maurice Chevalier starred.

Charles Wakefield Cadman With Fox

Charles Wakefield Cadman, one of America's most famous composers, has been signed by Fox Films to write the music for John McCormack's initial Movietone production, we learned yesterday.

The composer is widely known as the writer of operettas and of many semiclassic compositions, as well as popular ballads. He is tremendously interested in American Indian music.

Virginia Bruce With Lasky

Virginia Bruce, the Fargo (N.D.) high school girl who broke all Hollywood records by being signed to a contract by Paramount following just one day's work as an extra in "Why Bring That Up?" has been given an excellent ingenue role in "Woman Trap," which William Wellman will direct, with Hal Skelly, Evelyn Brent and Chester Morris in the leading roles.

GALA EVENT PLANNED AT BILTMORE

A majority of the stellar lights of stage and screen will journey to the Biltmore Theater Monday night, when "Broadway," Universal's picturization of the stage play by George Abbot and Philip Dunning, will be given an elaborate western premiere. Spotlights, movie cameras to photograph celebrities present, radio announcement of arriving notables and other features of the film colony's pretentious "first nights" will be in evidence.

MERNA KENNEDY

Picturized as a Carl Laemmle, Jr., production, on a mammoth scale by Director Paul Fejos, "Broadway" closely follows the stage play both in action and dialogue. Glenn Tryon, Evelyn Brent and Merna Kennedy enact the principal roles in "Broadway." Thomas E. Jackson, who created the role of the cop, Dan McCorn, in the original New York stage version, is also seen in this part. Robert Ellis enacts the part of the gang-leader. Steve Crandall and Paul Porcasi, also of the New York cast, is seen as Nick Verdis, proprietor of the Paradise Night Club. Otis Harlan, Leslie Fenton and others figure prominently in the cast.

A special feature of "Broadway" is the introduction of a number of songs written specially for the picture by a trio of noted composers, each with several hits to his credit. They are Con Conrad, Archie Gottler and Sidney Mitchell.

Fox Plans to Make Follies Annual Show

Encouraged by the country-wide success of the Fox Movietone Follies of 1929, current musical talking picture revue at the Criterion Theater, studio heads of the Fox organization have started work on the Follies of 1930, which will be a year in the making.

The Fox Follies of 1929 required seven months' work and the unusually large profits from this year's attraction, now playing in all the large cities of the nation, will be turned back into the 1930 version, it is said.

A separate studio unit with its own executives and extensive organization will handle the production, and the company with studio in New York and at Fox Hills undoubtedly will become one of the most important organizations within the Fox studio ranks. Con Conrad, Sidney Mitchell and Archie Gottler, it is announced, will continue with the Follies, now that it has become an annual institution. Their task will be to pick, as they did this year, the song hits from New York's melody lane.

Argus Bowl is Scene of Indian Pageantry

"Hiawatha" is drawing capacity audiences to the Argus Bowl in Eagle Rock this week and the performances will be concluded with four productions, this afternoon and evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The story of the American Indian as portrayed in this romantic operetta has been elaborately staged in the unique amphitheater in the Eagle Rock hills by Mrs. W. O. Bates of Indianapolis. She is the wife of W. O. Bates, playwright and newspaper man, who wrote the pageant.

BURBANK ENTERTAINING

The present burlesque production at the Burbank Theater, under the direction of Producer Charlie Fritcher, is entertaining with sure-fire comedy, tuneful melodies and large dance ensembles. The comedy, in the hands of Charles Fritcher and Harry Le Van, is well handled. The chorus is seen in many dance creations throughout the offering. Fay Norman offers a new routine of work that places her high in the estimation of her followers. June Rhoads's popularity is increased with her clever dancing, and diminutive "Curls" Mason offers a dynamic personality. The voice of Miss Jane Hazelton is appreciated.

"RADIO DOLLS" AT FOLLIES

Two sparkling comedians, Max Coleman and Bumps Mack, aided by Louise Kellar, Mary Walton and a dancing soubrette, Evelyn Myers, are featured this week at the Follies Theater. They head the "Radio Dolls," presenting some new effects in stage settings and costumes. Coleman and Mack are two rapid-fire artists of fun and show their ability to keep the house in an uproar. Miss Myers keeps things moving at top speed. Walter Van Horn is an excellent straight man and Syd Ray makes a good juvenile. A cycle of numbers is offered by the "Harmony Four."

SOLDIERS SEE BANCROFT

One hundred and fifty veterans from the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home will be the guests of the Paramount Theater tomorrow afternoon to see George Bancroft in "Thunderbolt." The admission of the soldiers is in honor of Fathers' Day. The majority of the ex-fighting men are fathers, according to statistics on file at the home.

Four Comedians Lead Hard Life in Circus Jobs

How four runaway youths grabbed a toe-hold on circus life and rose to international recognition is related by Harold Boid, one of the Runaway Four, eccentric comedians, featured in the R.-K.-O. Collegiate Show starting today at the Orpheum Theater.

"We all ran away from home," says Boid. Four young fools, three from Brooklyn, the other from St. Louis, unwilling to live normal lives. We trekked to Chicago, where a large circus was camped. Rain was falling in a fine drizzle the morning I arrived. I dragged my stiff, wet legs out of an empty box car and gazed bewilderedly at the skyline of tracks and buildings. It's funny, but I didn't have any regrets. We saw fame right around the corner.

"With clothes slept in for nights, I reached the muddy lot on the lake-front where the circus tents were pitched. Roustabouts were around. There were no jobs giving the elephants water; they drank out of the lake. Two other kids were sitting dejectedly near by and I sat down beside them. They came from my home town, Brooklyn. Together we haloed Brooklyn until a roustabout told us to clear out. We countered with a plea for work, and were told to see the tent boss.

"Drifting over to a lunch room, we met a St. Louis lad named Tom O'Brien. We all went back together and secured jobs as helpers in the circus. It was hard and discouraging, and we got knocked around aplenty. Finally we worked up a clown act and were given a chance. We made good and have been clowning ever since."

Warner Presents Stars at Revel

Late theatergoers who attend the midnight revel at Warner Brothers' Theater tonight have a treat in store for them, it is said, in the form of some of the stars of stage and screen. Not only those in "On With the Show," the first all-natural color Warner Brothers' Vitaphone production, that it now in its last week at that theater, will be seen, but many others.

Heading this galaxy of stars will be Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star, whose singing and dancing made her a success in "Sally," "Sunny," "Rosalie" and other shows on Broadway. Because of his wit, Frank Fay has for the second time been chosen to be master of ceremonies.

Others that will entertain from the stage at this event are Monte Blue, Patsy Ruth Miller, Armida, Harry Gribbon, Alice Day, Marion Byron and Mayrna Loy. Larry Ceballos and Seymour Felix will stage the show and will present the Larry Ceballas girls in some dance routines.

Theater Offers Dancing Lesson

Fanchon and Marco are offering what is veritably a free course in ballet and stage dancing at Loew's State this week by including a rehearsal and dance exercise number in their "Contrasts" Idea on the stage.

Forty girls are shown working out at the regulation ballet bar, going through stretching exercises, whirls, pirouettes, back bends, high kicking and other essential and elementary dance movements which they are continually practicing in the rehearsal halls to keep themselves in condition for stage work.

TWO ROLES IN "JEALOUSY"

Both roles, of Maurice and Valerie, which Fay Bainter and John Halliday make real and gripping in "Jealousy," the A. H. Woods novelty drama now playing at the Mason Theater, are "longer than Hamlet," and these two have played them more than 600 times, speaking the lines only to each other.

GAY INSURES LION

Charles Gay, director of Gay's Lion Farm near El Monte, has made application for a $100,000 life and accident insurance policy on Numa, famous motion picture lion star of Chaplin's "Circus," and other successes. Numa has worked in over 100 film productions, and is known all over the world and his fan mail averages 3000 letters a month, requesting photographs. Numa's earnings over the past eight years are said to total over $80,000.

"JAZZ KING" ARRIVES FOR ENGAGEMENT

Pantages Theater Setting for Whiteman and Band in Week's Feature

The appearance of the musical leader will be his first in Los Angeles in three years. Whiteman is carrying his music unit, consisting of more than thirty musicians, manager, secretary, stage crew, etc., on his own special train.

Following the engagement at the Pantages, Whiteman will start work on his first sound picture, "The King of Jazz," at the Universal studios. It will be directed by Paul Fejos.

French Star in Eccentric Role

The role of the eccentric "Countess in "Serena Blandish," Edward Everett Horton's current Majestic offering, is said to be adequately interpreted by Rose Dione, who offers her own conception of the part. The comedienne was formerly a star of the French stage, before coming to this country to appear in pictures.

With a flare for pets, the royal household of the "Countess" is swarmed with peacocks, parrots, flamingoes, monkeys and other members of the animal kingdom.

Mme. Dione's interpretation of the tempermental noblewoman has brought her many forms of congratulations and her French accent adds more charm to the production.

DEL RUTH ON COMEDY

Having completed shooting on "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," the all-technicolor, all-talking, singing and dancing story of backstage, Roy Del Ruth, Warner Brothers director, has been assigned to direct Edward Everett Horton in a new comedy, "The Aviator."

NATION'S FLAG PAID TRIBUTES

Patriots Assemble to Honor Stars and Stripes

Raising of Banners Features Day's Ceremonies

One Hoisted at Fort Moore, Other at Adobe Villa

With scores of patriots, including many old veterans, standing at attention, and the Firemen's Band of Engine Company No. 5 playing the National Anthem, Old Glory was hoisted to the top of the flag pole on old Fort Moore yesterday at the close of a Flag Day program sponsored by the National Society of the United States Daughters of 1812.

"May our citizens be as willing to live nobly for mankind as their forefathers were to die for the flag of freedom," was the invocation offered by Miss Ella C. Brunson, chaplain of the State chapter of N.S.U.S.D., whose father, Rev. Alfred Brunson, was a member of the Twenty-seventh United States Infantry in the struggle of 1812.

MANY PARTICIPATE

Presiding at the ceremonies was Mrs. Frank B. Duncan, State President of the N.S.U.S.D., which has a membership of nearly 200. Among others participating in the program were Mrs. E. L. Booth, who was soloist; Miss Mazie Van Der Grift, who raised the flag; Mrs. Earl J. Fellows, National Vice-President of the Pacific Coast Daughters of the American Colonists, and Mrs. Eva Rugg Garrison, whose father fought in the War of 1812.

Orra E. Monnette, speaker of the occasion, told the story of Fort Moore, on which the United States flag was raised for the first time July 4, 1847, following the surrender of the Californians to Gen. Fremont.

STIRRING APPEAL

A stirring plea to citizens to lend loyal support to President Hoover in his appeal to the people to obey and enforce all laws of the United States was voiced by Darwin B. Wolcotts, Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for California and Nevada, in his address yesterday to an audience that gathered at the historic Adobe Vila on Olivera street to witness the unfurling of a thirty-star flag donated by Stanton Woman's Relief Corps.

"Baptized in the blood of the patriots of 1776, tattered but unstained through the trying days of 1812 and gloriously rededicated to freedom in the 'sixties, this fair emblem of liberty and law must not be allowed to be dragged in the mire by that small minority whose moral standards and actions represent the antithesis of those virtues and ideals for which America stands," said Commander Wolcotts.

LIST OF SPEAKERS

The flag presentation was made by Mrs. Josie L. Allred and the gift was received by Mrs. Christine Sterling, who is seeking the aid of the public in her effort to rehabilitate the old building which was headquarters for Stockton, Kearney and Fremont.

Others speakers were Mrs. Grace Willard, past National President of W.R.C.; C. W. Kent, Commander of Stanton Post, G.A.R.; Miss Edith Comyns, President of Stanton W.R.C.; Col. C. N. Haskins, Mrs. E. K. Allen and Comrade E. I. Baldwin, who donated the flag pole; Billy Sommers and Woodrow Anderson, Boy Scouts, and E. A. Speegle, who slept in the old Avila home in 1849. The color bearers were Mmes. Ida Gribling, Pearl Jennings, Mae Tullis and Theresa Fallon.

COUNCIL OBSERVES DAY WITH BRIEF CEREMONY

Flag Day was observed by the City Council yesterday with a brief ceremony presided over by Councilman Ingram and during which representatives of American Legion Post No. 17, headed by Col. Leroy Smith, presented a flag of the United States and a California State flag to the city government. Col. Smith made the presentation address.

At the conclusion of this ceremony Assemblyman Williams from the Inyo-Tuolumne region extended the greetings of his section to the Council. In a brief review of the accomplishments of the recently concluded session of the Legislature, he maintained that there is a growing tendency toward closer union between the representatives of Northern and Southern California.

JUDGE AGGELER GIVES ORATION ON FLAG

Superior Judge William T. Aggeler yesterday observed Flag Day in his own way by delivering an impressive extemporaneous oration on the significance of Old Glory. The address came as a pleasant surprise to litigants and spectators alike, assembled for the opening of court business in Department 26, Superior Court.

"The flag sums up and symbolizes all the activities of the people of the nation," he said in part. "Insult to the flag from abroad has been resented by war. Treachery to the flag at home has met with the severest penalties of treason. Our flag has been hallowed by lofty and noble associations. The Stars and Stripes, emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and our progress as a nation, the flag has no character except that which we give it from generation to generation.

"The flag is the living, breathing, pulsating personality of the people. If it could speak it would say to us: 'I am whatever you make me, and nothing more!'"

As Judge Aggeler concluded, Dep. Dist.-Atty McKay commended the jurist for "one of the finest tributes I have ever heard paid the American flag," and requested that a copy of it be placed in the archives of the court. The request was seconded by Deputy Public Defender Frank Padan.

James Firman, who died recently at Bury St. Edmunds, England, lived his entire eighty-six years in one house, was a member of the village choir for more than sixty years, and a bell ringer for forty-five years.

In seven weeks more than half the cadets at the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, Eng., have been treated for pink-eye.

BRUTALITY INQUIRY AIDED

Bar Association Offers Help to Fitts in Grand Jury Investigation of Charges

The constitutional rights committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association through W. H. Anderson, chairman, yesterday by letter offered to assist Dist.-Atty. Fitts in two grand jury investigations of asserted brutality by peace officers while effecting arrests.

Charges that members of Fitts's dry squad beat Pete Roman before arresting him on a liquor charge and also assaulted his sister is the first investigation mentioned in Mr Anderson's letter while the asserted beating of Mitchell Marsman by Detective Brown of the police department is the second. Both of the cases will be investigated by the grand jury.

In his letters on the two cases Mr. Anderson declared that his committee was gratified by Fitts's prompt action in calling the two matters to the attention of the grand jury and declared that the District Attorney had anticipated the request for an investigation by the bar committee.

The District Attorney made a public announcement that an investigation of the charges had been ordered the day before Mr. Anderson's letters were received and declared that both cases will be sifted to the bottom. In each case the arresting officers deny the asserted assaults.

U.C.L.A. DEGREES BESTOWED

Colorful Ceremonies Mark Graduation of 850 as Bowl Throng of 15,000 Looks On

Robed in somber cap and gown young men and women, hailing from nearly every State in the Union, filed down through Hollywood Bowl last night to receive the degrees they have earned at the University of California at Los Angeles during the past four years. About 15,000 people witnessed the ceremony.

Dr. William Wallace Campbell, president of the University of California, in the crimson robe and dark green velvet cap denoting his achievements in the field of astronomy, who recently announced his retirement after thirty-nine years' association with the university, made the address to the candidates for degrees.

FORMULA FOR LIFE

"Up to the present time you have been receiving, in the future you must give," Dr. Campbell told the students.

"The formula for a successful life is the same today as in the days of your forefathers. Your first experience will be in the taking of orders, and you will find that your tasks must be done well. In the first few years your employers may not place so high a value upon your services as you expect, but that, too, is among the experiences that await you."

Dr. Campbell pointed out that success means something more than merely achievement in commercial lines; that there are other types of success that brought satisfaction.

THINGS IDEAL

"There are occasions when you should be thinking of things ideal. It is in serving the ideal that we complete and enrich our lives, for it is the ideal things that abide with us and brings us the greatest happiness."

At the conclusion of the program the diplomas were presented to the graduates by Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of U.C.L.A.

Besides announcement of highest scholastic honors to more than several scores of seniors, scholarship awards giving financial assistance to deserving students of the university were made known.

The J. Gimbel Award, a medal and prize given to the man who has shown the best attitude toward the university in athletic endeavor, was awarded to Stanley G. Gould.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Two scholarships established by Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Flint, was awarded to Lylah L. Blakely and to Abraham Melden.

Scholarships in economics given by an anonymous friend of the University of California at Los Angeles to senior students in economics were awarded to Virginia G. Wells and Isadore Pally.

The R. B. Campbell scholarships given to candidates in their second half-year of residence, were awarded to Eva E. Sherman, Vernon K. Wilt, Ernest M. Stanton and Henry Upholt, Jr.

State of California scholarships given by the regents of the University of California out of the income of the university were awarded to: Leila Doman, Nina Walter, Clifford Lilyquist, Abe Schechtman, Jean Barshe, Bernard Jefferson, George Schochat, Theron Horning, Opal Spoor, Esther Reese, Lily Apsan, Eleanor Southee, Sibyl Rock, Donna Leake, Esther Rabold, Wendell Forney, Morford Riddick, Adele Finkel, John Hill and Wesley Bagby.

Home Changes Designation to Help Campaign

In order to designate more fully the comprehensive nature of its work the Ruth Sanitarium, an agency of the Community Chest, now conducting a building fund campaign for $85,000, has changed its name to the Ruth Protective Home, according to Mrs. Erwin P. Werner, general chairman.

MRS. ERWIN P. WERNER.

Mrs. Werner announced that the generous response to the building fund campaign prior to its official inauguration indicates that the sum desired will be raised in the near future. The Ruth Protective Home is operated under the auspices of the Pacific Protective Society, which maintains similar homes in other western States.

Masked Bandit Holds Up Office

In a bold daylight robbery a masked and armed bandit late yesterday held up the Golden State Milk Company at 740 Terminal street and escaped with $163 in cash, according to a report made to police by C. D. Martin, the clerk. Martin said the bandit leveled a gun at him, ordering him to lie down behind the counter and, scooping the money out of a cash drawer, ran from the place.

He described the robber as stockily built, and said he wore a black handkerchief for a mask. Detective Lieutenant Newton was detailed to investigate the hold-up.

NINE GIVEN DIPLOMAS AT AVALON

Eight Girls and One Boy Finish at Catalina Island Senior High School

AVALON (Catalina Island) June 14. (Exclusive)—Eight girls and one lone boy comprised the 1929 graduating class of the Avalon Senior High School. Commencement exercises were held at the Avalon Theater this evening.

M. B. Dunkel, superintendent of the Avalon schools, presented diplomas on behalf of the Long Beach Board of Education, under which jurisdiction the island schools are conducted. The graduates are Juan de la Barba, Iona Berning, Dolores Ferguson, Lillian Carroll Griffin, Juanita Gurasich, Alta Fern Hardin, Barbara Ann LeVitt, Bernice Eleanor Smith and Violet Watson.

Juanita Gurasich and Violet Watson were awarded the "Gold Lamp," entitling them to life membership in the California Scholarship Federation.

Rev. La Rue Watson gave the invocation. Miss Watson was salutatorian of the graduating class and Miss Gurasich the valedictorian. Rev. Francis Ball addressed the class on "The Great Lessons of Life." Glenn A. LeVitt, concert baritone gave several selections, accompanied by Lucille Jane Sook.

Art Treasure Missing After Trojan Blaze

A painting, said to be a priceless example of early Byzantine art, is reported missing from the Armstrong Museum at the University of Southern California following a recent fire which swept several structures at the school. The picture depicts Christ washing the feet of his disciples. It is 21 by 33 inches in size.

According to Dr. J. Tarbotten Armstrong, curator of the museum, the canvas was saved from the flames and placed by firemen under a waterproof covering outside the building. It has not been seen since. Reports of the missing work of art have been distributed throughout the country.

SUMMER SCHOOL DATES SET

Registration for the eight weeks' session of the 1929 summer school of the University of Southern California started yesterday and is to continue today. The summer school will open on Monday. The six weeks' session is to begin on July 1, next, and the post summer session is to open in August 12, according to Dr. Lester B. Rogers, dean.

NIAGARA FALLS ON AIR TODAY

Anniversary Spectacle to be Broadcast Via Chain

Microphones Will Transmit Falling Waters' Roar

Program of Grand Opera on Schedule for KHJ

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Between the hours of 5 and 11 p.m. today there will be some interesting features in broadcast programs, thus ending a week which has not brought any particularly outstanding hours to the attention of the radio public.

The two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of Niagara Falls by Father Hennepin will be the occasion for a program at 5 o'clock this afternoon over KFI, and originating at the Falls.

The broadcast will appeal to those who spent their honeymoon there, to others who expect to, and to many who would like to. That should include a good-sized portion of the radio audience.

WORD PICTURES

A description of the spectacle with airplanes above and billion-candle-power searchlights playing the giant waterfall will be heard.

Microphones are to be located in the Cave of the Winds and on the Falls View Bridge above Niagara Gorge for the sounds of the international festival of lights.

Graham McNamee and Phillips Carlin will head the corps of announcers. In the Niagara Hotel, beside the upper rapids, an orchestra will be stationed for musical interludes.

KHJ GRAND OPERA

Dinner-hour music will prevail over most stations during the 6 o'clock programs. KNX at 7 o'clock is to have somewhat of a variety including the instrumental trio and the vocal quartet; Bill Hatch, pianist, and June Pursell, blues singer.

The Don Lee station, KHJ, will feature an hour of grand opera at 8 o'clock, including Carl Omeron and Eloise Kirkpatrick, singers, in selections from "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Carmen."

VARIETY ON KEJK

KEJK will have a musical medley for the 9 o'clock program, with diversified entertainment. Warren Taylor's dance orchestra is to be heard, with Phil Kaler as balladist.

Ben Light and Mark Cook, singers, pianists and professional funmakers, also will be on the radio bill, while Eleanor Wells, who won the syncopation contest in Los Angeles two weeks ago, will greet the KEJK audience with a song or two.

The Beverly Hills station, commencing Monday, will observe the nightly silent period only from 7 to 8 o'clock, instead of 7 to 9 as has been the custom.

LIGHT-OPERA HITS

KTM at 10 o'clock will have what it calls the "weekly light-opera spot," with the studio concert ensemble conducted by Scott Bradley, new music director for the station.

Lucy Day and Lou Gordon will be the vocalists, with selections from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore," "The New Moon," "Princess Pat," Lehar's "Merry Widow" and others.

During the two-hour period from 10 o'clock until midnight most of the radio musical aggregations will be strumming out dance tunes. At midnight KFWB is to have a special midnight matinee direct from the stage of a Hollywood theater.

RADIO TALENT IN BENEFIT APPEARANCE

For the benefit of the Post War Service League, the proceeds to be used for ex-service men, a program will be given at the Breakfast Club on Riverside Drive tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Burr McIntosh, KFWB's cheerful philosopher, will act as master of ceremonies and the talent will include well-known characters in the field of radio entertainment.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

THE SCHOOL VACATION

During the school vacation period of approximately three months, you should allow your child to forget about his studies and develop as much as possible in a physical direction.

You are, of course, anxious that your child learn rapidly, but remember that the child can learn things from nature which cannot be obtained from books.

Many parents make the mistake of "cramming" children at the expense of the nervous system, and the children look pallid, and are irritable, temperamental, and are obviously worn out. If the child's nervous system and brain are strained in its youth, the injury will persist throughout life.

There is a grave danger that many of our children are given too much of a strain in obtaining educations during the school year. They often detest many of the studies but are nevertheless forced to remain in the classroom for six to eight hours, and a pernicious practice is carried out of having them take home extra work requiring two or three hours to complete. Such training continued for any length of time without proper periods of recreation is certain to ruin the mind and intelligence of children and to make them unfit for practical purposes. It is certainly carrying the "cramming" too far to insist upon having the child study during the summer time.

This is a wonderful time of the year for recreation and intensive cultivation of the physical body. Give the child a chance to be out in the sun and take plenty of exercise through such games as tennis, horseback riding, swimming, boating, hiking, baseball, etc.

Let them romp and play to their heart's content, even if they are a little more careless with their clothes and personal appearance. You must realize that your child is a growing individual who has probably been pushed beyond his mental capacity, and you who find so much good from a vacation in the woods must realize that your child should be allowed to go back to primitive enjoyment for at least two or three months if you expect him to regain the strength of body so necessary for the coming term of school with its many responsibilities and unnatural mental strain and tension.

It is a good plan to teach the child to excel in various kinds of athletic games, checking up upon his activities and commenting on them at the end of each day. Praise and encouragement and possibly even prizes should be given for proficiency in winning physical contests. Children who are encouraged in the right direction toward wholesome exercising do not find the time to develop vicious habits or mannerisms.

During the summertime you will also be able to regulate your child's diet even more carefully than when the problem of school lunches had to be handled. Let the child eat at home whenever possible that he may be assured of good and wholesome food.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Baby Slow to Walk

Question: Mrs. C. writes: "My 11-months-old baby seems perfectly healthy in every way, but makes no attempt to try to walk or even crawl. I weaned her at 7 months, and am feeding her milk into which I put malt sugar; also I give her cereals, vegetables and toast. I was wondering if there was something lacking in her food which might be bringing on bone trouble of some kind."

Answer: Many babies do not begin to walk until a year or more of age. If your little girl obtains plenty of certified milk and orange juice, I do not believe there is much danger of her developing any trouble with her bones. It is a good plan to allow the baby to crawl on the floor because this develops her strength.

Inflammation of the Periosteum

Q.: Mrs. A. L. writes: "Have been told my trouble is inflammation of the periosteum. The trouble seems to be with the end of my spine. I have difficulty in sitting or lying. Have been painting the area with iodine, but without results. How can I cure this condition so the bone will not become diseased?"

A.: The trouble with the end of your spine might be brought on by some injury even without your knowledge. If it affects the coccygeal bone at the end of the spine, it sometimes requires much time to overcome. I do not believe that the iodine applications will be of any benefit, but I would suggest that you use hot sitz baths for about ten minutes, followed by cold sitz baths for five minutes each day. It would also be well to have an osteopath or chiropractor examine your spine if you do not notice improvement within a short time.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

HOMINY CRUMPETS

One cupful of cooked ohminy grits, one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of sugar, about two cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of butter, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, place the cooked hominy in a bowl, add the milk, sugar, salt and melted butter, and enough flour to make a thin drop batter, mix and sift the baking powder, with the first cup of flour, pour into oiled muffin rings, place on an oiled griddle, bake very slowly, so that the crumpet is browned only on the under side, but completely done throughout, toast the unbrowned side beneath the broiler flame.

CHERRY CUPS

Sift two cupfuls of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, rub into this two level tablespoonfuls of butter, and add two-thirds of a cupful of milk, knead lightly, and roll into a thin sheet, the dough must be moist, but not wet; cut out large rounds and place ten stoned, sugared cherries on each. Fold over the dough, the same as for a dumpling, oil muffin tins, place the dumplings in them and bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Just before finishing baking, brush over with a little sugar and water, dust with granulated sugar and allow to brown. Serve with a cherry sauce.

STUFFED TOMATOES

Six large tomatoes, one small, finely chopped onion, a seasoning of salt and paprika, a fourth of a teaspoonful of celery salt, one-half a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and a few grains of paprika, two tablespoonfuls of chopped green peper, one-fourth of a cupful of finely chopped, boiled ham, six eggs. Do not peel the tomatoes, cut off the tops and scoop out the insides, chop the tomato pulp, combine with the onions, seasonings and ham and cook gently until reduced to a paste, break a raw egg in each tomato, cover with the sauce, sprinkle with a mixture of grated cheese and bread crumbs, dot with a piece of butter, place in a baking pan, and bake for twenty minutes in a quick oven.

SALMON SALAD

One can of flaked salmon, six crackers rolled, three large sour pickles, three hard-boiled eggs chopped, one cupful of diced celery, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, salt and paprika; boiled salad dressing. Mix the ingredients together in the order given, making the salad a little moist as the soda crackers will absorb the excess, place in the ice box to chill for several hours, arrange mounds on shredded lettuce, garnish with a little of the dressing, slices of lemon and strips of pimientoes.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Early Days of Dons Depicted by Daughters

To the clack of castanets and the strumming of guitars, the pupils of Carthay Center School yesterday imparted a breath of old Spain into the foutrh annual carnival held on the campus under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association. The highlights of California's history were depicted in a colorful pageant that lasted throughout the afternoon, while the "senoritas" gave it an authentic background. The carnival spirit prevailed with numerous attractions about the campus.

Just before sundown there was a school parade, followed by a succession of track and field events in which sons competed against their fathers. The evening was given over to an address on present-day education by John P. O'Connor and a program of music and dancing.

MRS. KLEIN LOSES HER WILL FIGHT

Decision Given Against Col. Wheeler's Former Secretary and Adviser

Mrs. Isobel Klein, former secretary and adviser to the late Col. E. G. Wheeler, yesterday lost her contest to participate in his $600,000 estate when Superior Judge Hazlett held to be valid a written instrument revoking a will in which Col. Wheeler had named her as a beneficiary.

Two wills figured in the court hearing, which hinged principally on the question of the validity of the revocation document. Mrs. Klein was bequeathed the bulk of the estate in a will dated August 28, 1926, and sought to have that document admitted to probate, while Victor H. Rossetti, banker and friend of the decedent, requested that a will executed April 6, 1928, and naming Rossetti a beneficiary, be admitted.

Proponents of the latter will claimed the 1926 document was revoked by an instrument dated September 16, 1927. Col. Wheeler died in January at the age of 79 years.

In upholding the revocation document, Judge Hazlett not only ordered the second will admitted to probate, but ruled Mrs. Klein cannot contest this will as she is not a blood relative of the decedent. It is reported Mrs. Klein will take an appeal from the decision.

Attorney George Acret represented Mrs. Klein, while Attorneys J. Perry Wood and James E. Degnan appeared for Rossetti and other proponents of the 1928 will.
